

Stage 11 — Human review pack

All topics audited under H1–H6 with old taxonomy leaf, new construct codes, representative novel sentences, and Pass A/B/C model rationales. Run: v4_I12_granular_final_call49. Rating cells blinded (CELL_*).

H1 — Intimacy (functional re-coding)

96 topics with non-null intimacy_code.

Topic 267 — Hand Raking Through His Hair

Old taxonomy: 1.7 — Facial Expression & Non-Sexual Nonverbal Cues

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« he runs his hand through his hair to move it to the side. »

« when the door opened, and cruz walked through, he looked absolutely edible, his hair a mess from his lid as he ran his hands through it fiercely. »

« stephen returned it fiercely, his hand tangling in crane's hair and sending sparks running through his scalp. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He rubbed a hand through his tousled silver hair, messing it up even more. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Fuck," Rhoan said, and thrust a hand through his short hair.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He pocketed it, then gently brushed the still-sweaty strands of hair away from my forehead.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I lifted my hand, brushed my hair off my face and looked up, thrusting out my chin to face the one ghost of my past that I regretted bitterly.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He threaded his fingers through his hair. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He ran his hands over his scalp, pushing his drenched hair from his face. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He paused and raked a hand through his brown hair, pushing it away from his face. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I imagined him running an impatient hand through his hair. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate actions related to touch and caress (raked, patted, plucked, tugged, grasped) but no explicit mention of genital or oral contact.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe non-sexual physical contact, specifically hair-related actions, which fall under the I3 category.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-sexual intimate moments, such as kissing and caressing, which align with the I3 code.

Topic 11 — Eyes Meeting Across The Room

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« she opened her eyes, her heart skipping at how intensely he stared into her. »

« he opened his eyes to find her there before him, attired in the loathsome uniform all the maids on his staff wore. »

« when he was close, she lifted her head and faced him squarely and opened her eyes. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He looked up at her, his gaze narrowed. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He looked up and fixed his gaze on her. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on eye contact and gazing, which are non-genital forms of intimacy.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe gazing, looking, or meeting of gazes, which falls under the category of non-genital caress (I3).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-sexual intimate moments such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 19 — Legs Wrapped Around His Waist

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« then as her arms lifted and urged him closer, hunger overcame him, and he pulled her tightly into his arms. »

« she lifted her legs and wrapped them around his waist. " »

« his hands found her wrists, and he lifted her arms above her head. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She slid her hand up his thigh, leaning into his shoulder. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She slid her arms around his neck, wiggling against him as she wrapped her legs around his waist. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] His hand moved lightly over her shoulder and back, trailing his fingers over her skin. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Collapsing against his chest, she buried her face against the side of his sweat-slick neck, and he wrapped one arm around her waist, the other hand he used to grip her ass and guide himself into her.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] His hands cupped her behind, pulling her in tighter to him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She lifted onto her tiptoes and put her arms around him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate non-genital caress (I3) as the intimacy function, with no disagreements.

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 as most sentences describe non-genital intimate acts such as holding, touching, and embracing. The only sentence with a code of I6 describes a penetrative sexual act.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, which aligns with the I3 code.

Topic 25 — Crawling Onto The Bed Together

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« more aptly, he crawled on top of the bed, on top of the blanket, but he reached for her, enfolding lily into his arms. »

« v crawled onto the bed, turned over onto her back, but apparently zane had other ideas because he deftly flipped her onto her stomach, his hands groping her ass and holding her still. »

« sure," he said softly, and didn't bother standing as he crawled over to the mattress. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Paul walked back to the bed, sat by my side. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Then over her shoulder, she called out, "Yo, you fall asleep in there or what?" "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] With a sigh, she stood and padded out of the room, her open nightshirt flapping around her like a robe.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I strode over to the bed and picked up the tiny foil-wrapped square.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Gemma lay sprawled on the floor, the back of her head a tangled mass of red.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He walked over to the bed where she was sitting on the edge and pulled her to her feet. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] she finished, sitting straight up in bed. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Sighing, he came and sat on the edge of the bed.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] she whispered as he picked her up again and headed for the bedroom. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] When she felt him enter her she cried out, her spine bowing and her fists clenching at the bedspread on either side of her. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Liv sat straight up in bed and clamped her thighs closed. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He sat on the edge of the bed and gently pulled her knees down to the mattress.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-genital intimate acts such as caressing, laying, and snuggling, which fall under the I3 category.

B contextual: I3

The topic primarily describes non-genital intimate acts (kissing, undressing, non-genital caress), with a minority of sentences mentioning genital or penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, which aligns with the I3 code.

Topic 72 — Complimenting Her Beauty Aloud

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« you're the most beautiful thing i've ever seen." " »

« oh and nice tits, by the way, i've been meaning to say that." »

« you're the most beautiful woman i've ever seen," he said, looking dazzled by her as they left the room. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You look very much like your mother, girl.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You're all the beauty and wonder I've ever known, Kara.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around physical attractiveness and admiration, with keywords like 'beautiful', 'sexy', 'attractive', 'stunning', and 'graceful'. None of the keywords suggest any genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts, thus the consensus code is I3.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic describe physical appearance or use compliments, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, which aligns with the I3 code.

Topic 98 — Stepping Out of The Shower

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« he opened the shower door and stepped in. " »

« he walked to the seat and stepped down beside where she was sitting, and reached for the towel on the floor, then dried his hair and handed it to her. " »

« in the shower, he dried himself off and then stepped out of the shower with the towel wrapped around his waist. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Showered and dressed, Stefan waltzed out of his room.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Shuddering, she flushed the toilet and moved to the shower to wash the feeling of disgust off.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Popping a couple of painkillers for her head, she went in to her private bath to take a hot shower.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She supposed it would've been more accurate to say it was a small shower squeezed beside the toilet and lavatory, but the entire room was about the size of a small shower and when she turned on the shower head, the spray covered the room as if she was standing in a dishwasher.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] After glaring at the woman through the opaque material surrounding the shower for several moments, Sybil left and returned to their sleeping quarters.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Feeling pleasantly tired, Sybil headed back to her quarters and a hot bath.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Was someone else in the room, perhaps already bathing?

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Had she given herself some relief in the shower?

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Snagging a towel she wrapped it around her shoulders and scurried back into the other room.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She became conscious of her nudity, the sticky wetness coating her inner thighs. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-sexual intimate activities related to bathing and cleaning up, with no mention of genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

Most sentences describe non-sexual activities related to bathing and showering, with only one sentence (BOOK_004_4) describing a non-genital caress (I3).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital physical intimacy, such as kissing and caressing, which falls under the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 104 — Stepping Out of Panties and Jeans

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« she looked into his gaze as she took her panties to her ankles and stepped out. »

« deliberately julie ignored the order, and instead crouched down to remove the shorts dangling around her ankles and to untie her shoes. »

« once on her porch, she shed his t shirt and threw that at him too, he fumbled trying to quickly get it off his face. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He pushed down her sweatpants and underwear.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He grasped the soft white cotton of her thin panties and yanked them down to her ankles.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He pulled at her shirt, untucking it from the skirt's waistband, allowing his hands access to the flesh of her torso.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] After that, he quickly pulled her clothes on, denying himself further access to her silky flesh. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] His eyes raked over her as he pulled his clothing off.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She tugged the tight fabric down and sucked in her breath as it bunched around her hips.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Wearing only her white cotton briefs and T-shirt, she pulled down the covers, sliding under them.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She hissed and tried to shift in a way that wouldn't be too risqué since her skirt was quite short and at Gen's urging, she had gone commando: no bra or thong. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Deborah asked in wonder as she began pulling off her own clothes. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She tugged down her skirt, took off her shoes, and climbed off the car.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She unzipped Bridgette's shorts, sliding her hand over her mound, pleasantly surprised to not feel any underwear. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate actions related to undressing (zipper, buttons, bra, panties, tugged, loosened, snaps, ankle, thigh, waist), which falls under I3.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe undressing or removing clothing, which falls under the I3 code.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 135 — Waiting As Long As It Takes

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« well, golly, i'll hurry as fast as i can. »

« i will wait for you, even if you find me stiff with rheumatics, making clothes for my grandchildren, i'll be waiting for you.' »

« i've waited forever for you, and i'll be damned if i'm not going to make sure you enjoy this." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] They will be waitin' by now, for we have been gone overlong."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] If you want to wait for a few minutes, I can pull up their itinerary." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I'll wait while you look around your quarters."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a sense of anticipation and urgency, suggesting a scene of intimate build-up but not yet involving I6 acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss waiting or being waited for, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around romantic gestures and emotional connection, with no explicit sexual content. The intimacy code 'I3' is the most specific applicable code as it involves kissing and non-genital caress.

Topic 139 — Admiring Her Grace and Beauty

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« she is the most fascinating woman i've ever known, and she can do anything. »

« with daphne's long legs and lithe form, she looked so damn graceful. »

« she was as graceful as he imagined a celestial being would be, and as sweet as one too. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] On top of that, she is lovely in the extreme.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Jillian was a beautiful woman and that undoubtedly was the root of it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Still, she was a normal, healthy woman and he was an extremely handsome man.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The woman was nothing if not meticulous.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] They were totally beautiful and alluring.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She also loves a hero who can see past all the rough edges to find the shining diamond of a beautiful heart.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on physical appearance and admiration, indicating non-sexual intimacy (I3).

B contextual: I3

The topic primarily discusses the beauty and attractiveness of characters, with no explicit mention of sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-sexual intimate moments, such as kissing and caressing, which align with the I3 code.

Topic 155 — Stop Running or Be Claimed

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« if it gets triggered, i'll"—he corrected himself—"one of us will come running. »

« you didn't mean to, but...if you don't run right now, i'll lay claim to you. »

« stop running and you'll find out." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] No sense in running in circles when a straight line will get you there faster."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Stop running, Francesca, you're wearing me out.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I'm going to have to be the one to run things around here." .

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] You retreated so that you would not become like them.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Francesca ran as fast as she could along the sidewalk.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I wondered if you had been set adrift as a punishment or were running away from someone." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] There was no way I could outrun whoever it was in my heels.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a scenario involving running and chasing, which could imply a pursuit or escape, but there's no explicit mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: NONE

No sentences in this topic contain intimacy functions, either I3 (kissing/undressing/non-genital caress) or I6 (genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic discusses kissing and caressing, which falls under the intimacy code I3.

Topic 165 — Confessing Long-Simmering Desire

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« my god, i've been wanting you all day long, girl!" " »

« i've been interested in you for a long time." " »

« i just want to be with you and hear more about what you've been doing all these years. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Shyam, I want to push him away, but he's in everyone, even you!" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I hate you more for saying no when I not only need you, but want you."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I thought you wanted to be with me, too." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I want us to be together, like, forever."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around desire and wanting, which is typically associated with intimacy but does not explicitly mention genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 as most sentences express desire, longing, or want, which are forms of intimacy but do not explicitly describe sexual acts. The sentence 'What do you want me to do to you?' is coded as I6 as it implies a genital/oral/penetrative sexual act.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around attraction, sexual tension, and ongoing courtship, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned. The dominant intimacy code is I3, as it involves kissing and non-genital caresses.

Topic 196 — Promising to Be A Good Team

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« maybe you'll find out we make a good team in every way." " »

« we'll nail that game, no problem." " »

« we'll make a good team." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] For months now, we'd played that game of chicken with each other, an obvious magnetism between us each time we glanced at each other or ran into the other.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Come on, I'm tired of playing his fucking game.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Like you'd have been playing with maps," Vendelia scoffed. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] You're going to start playing things straight with Hailey, or I'll kick your ass." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=end] If you would kindly follow your guides to our play yard, we would like to get started."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I0

None of the keywords in any of the lists suggest intimacy beyond I0.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic refer to playing games, which is a metaphor for flirtation or teasing, but does not explicitly describe any intimate or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 245 — Lip Biting and Nervous Pout

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« she bit her lip as she cleaned more sensitive areas, areas her own lover had been hesitant to touch. »

« she pushed her lower lip out in an exaggerated pout. “ »

« come on morgan, that’s hardly fair,” she protested, her lip falling into a pout. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Her lips quivered, then her teeth started to chatter.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Katie nibbled her upper lip, crossed and uncrossed her long arms.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] She thought about the kiss, absently touched her lip.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] She was biting her bottom lip and her face was pasty white.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She bit her bottom lip and lowered her gaze. ‘

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She gnawed at her bottom lip again for a moment. ‘

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate non-genital intimate acts, specifically kissing and biting, which fall under I3.

B contextual: I3

Most sentences describe lip-biting or lip-nibbling, which are non-genital caresses (I3). One sentence describes penetration (I6).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-sexual intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 279 — Blue Eyes Darkening With Invitation

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« she wanted to believe in honest blue eyes, in the magic of a pink cupcake, and— “careful there,” wes said, guiding her a little sideways on the darkened deck. “ »

« her blue eyes darkened as her mouth softened in invitation. »

« a flicker of dismay crossed her features and darkened her blue eyes. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Her eyes sparkled, the first time he’d seen such a light in them.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Her face colored, eyes glittering with an emotion that wasn’t anger, but ran as hot. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Her jawline firmed, pale eyes narrowing. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists describe non-genital intimate actions like eye contact and facial expressions, indicating a level of intimacy (I3).

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe eye contact, gazing, or changes in eye expression, which are non-genital caresses and thus classified as I3.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily focuses on non-genital intimacy, such as kissing and caressing, which aligns with the I3 code.

Topic 337 — Adjusting to His Presence Inside Her

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« he might be miles away, but the sensation of him flooded through her with a comforting force. »

« he held, waited, giving her time to stretch, adjust, somehow become accustomed to a man who filled so much of her life and body, more than she’d expected on any level. »

« she wasn’t yet accustomed to the drum roll his touch elicited from her body. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] But he wanted to touch her, to assure himself she was still his.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Instead, she discovered that the touch of this man’s skin against hers aroused in her overwhelming tenderness and frantic passion.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He didn’t know if he could bear to have her touch him, because the mere thought of her made his blood heat as well as other, less biddable parts.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She swayed with the onset of passion and wondered how this man had so quickly accustomed her to his touch.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] He was laying it on thick—flirting shamelessly with the Miss Tenningtons, who tittered around coquettishly, loving every minute of it and vying against each other in the way only identical twins probably can for his attention.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] And once again, she hit it right on the nail.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] To touch her again, feel her as deeply as he’d tasted her.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was the hunger for him – for his touch and what it triggered in her – that had entranced her.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It seemed like he never could, not once he touched her, felt her respond to him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate non-genital intimacy (touching, stroking, desire) but no explicit genital or oral acts.

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 as most sentences describe non-genital intimacy such as touching, caressing, and wanting to be touched. There are a few sentences (BOOK_005_1, BOOK_005_2, BOOK_005_6) that describe genital or oral acts, but they are not the majority.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, aligning with the I3 code.

Topic 352 — Daring Someone to Try

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« you'll never know unless you give it a try.” »

« i'll try anything once.” »

« i'll do more than try. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Others have tried and they've all failed.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on willingness and promising, which are associated with intimacy but do not explicitly mention genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss trying something new or trying again, which falls under the category of non-genital caress (I3).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around attraction and sexual tension, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned, aligning with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 353 — Joking About Being Naked

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« so, i'll be naked for this?” “ »

« bring a t-shirt; she'll be naked when you take her.” “ »

« i'll try some logic first, and if that doesn't work, maybe i'll just strip naked and see what happens. ” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] But you won't be getting me naked, ever.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I can't exactly go home naked, can I?” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] You're not going anywhere, so naked shouldn't be a problem.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I lifted my dress over my head, revealing my naked body underneath. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I hope you have as much mouth when I have you alone and naked.” “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] You're not dumping anything on me, babe.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'm sitting here naked and I start feel self-conscious and fearful again.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around nudity and undressing, which falls under I3.

B contextual: I3

All sentences with a code have a p-value ≥ 0.669 , indicating a clear dominance of I3 (kissing/undressing/non-genital caress) in this topic.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around attraction and sexual tension, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned, aligning with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 365 — Frantic Longing After Weeks Apart

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i've kissed the guy who inspired einstein to think of relativity,” [person] murmured in wonder, shaking his head. “ »

« [person] first impulse was to cross his arms and pout, which was admittedly not very mature, but it did make him feel a little better. “ »

« even if weeks without jonah's cock filling me had left me frantic to feel him inside me again, i couldn't allow myself to cave so quickly and so willingly. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Peter needs to be wanted for himself, you know.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Yesreverberated around in Peter 's brain.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Peter sprang into action, catching snatches of the argument as he circled the Moreton Bay Fig to come around behind the threatening kidnapper. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Rama fought his way back and retook control of his body.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Before Rama became ill, he was a different man.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Lachlan, I want to try to reason with Rama.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest a level of intimacy below genital/oral/penetrative acts, with words like 'pout', 'frantic', 'teased', 'desperation', and 'hesitation' indicating emotional tension and non-genital physical contact.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe non-sexual intimate actions or thoughts, such as wanting, needing, or thinking about someone, which fall under the I3 code.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 370 — Tattoos Revealed and Judged

Old taxonomy: 2.1 — Attraction & Sexual Tension

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« if she says she's disgusted by the tattoos, my dick will deflate so fast it'll be some sort of record. »

« whatever crucial moments we'll have from now on, all of them will go into this one tattoo. »

« you can tell your boss he'll never win, and i've got the tattoo to prove it.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And he had a tattoo on his right forearm.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] On his forearm, under the partially rolled-up sleeve, she spotted a tattoo of a snake.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He had a snake tattoo on his right forearm.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When I peeked out the window, I noticed the guy had this really nasty-looking snake tattooed on his forearm.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] We're also trying to ID the man with the snake tattooed on his arm.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Trademarks indicated with ® are registered in the United States Patent and Trademark Office, the Canadian Trade Marks Office and in other countries.

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] His eyes swept over her, mapping her tattoos like constellations.

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The veins in his neck protruded and he reminded her of every drunken biker badass that had rolled into the tattoo shop, looking to give her a hard time.

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Tattoos were unusual on a woman and the animal on the back of her shoulder was not one Diem was familiar with.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on non-genital caress (tracing, fingertips, revealing) and no explicit mention of genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences describe tattoos or tattoo-related actions, with none explicitly mentioning kissing, undressing, or non-genital caresses (I3), and no genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts (I6) are mentioned.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around attraction and sexual tension, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned, aligning with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 101 — Smoothing Loose Strands of Hair

Old taxonomy: 2.2 — Kissing & Non-Explicit Affection

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« she smoothed her hair. “ »

« he reached out, the most fascinating man she'd ever encountered, and smoothed a strand of her hair. “ »

« he smoothed back a few loose strands of hair at her temple, his gaze roving over her face. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She threaded her fingers through his hair, pressing his face in closer to her aroused flesh. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He released her breasts and twined a long, thick lock of her blonde hair around his hand.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Candy raised her head and smiled down to him as she ran her fingers through his dark hair.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] By the time he raised his head and drew away from her, she was breathless and panting. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] You shaved your pussy bald,” he said thickly. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] a feminine voice chirped as a gorgeous, petite brunette threw herself into JD's arms. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Sasha moved his hair away from his face and stuck it behind his ear. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] She winked at him and was gone a second later, her magenta ponytail bouncing down her back, expertly navigating her way through the crowd.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Could probably do with a couple myself,’ Bonnie laughed as he scratched at his thin threads of white hair.’ ‘

[BOOK_005 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She turned to get the spare key and I slowly stood up, straightening my clothes and hair and rubbing the last few tears out of my eyes. “

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Gently, he tucked a lock of hair behind her ear. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists describe non-genital caresses (stroking, brushing, tucking hair), so the consensus code is I3.

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 as most sentences describe non-genital caresses, hair touching, and kissing. The only sentence that describes a genital act is 'You shaved your pussy bald,' which is coded as I6.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-explicit affection, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 124 — Scooped Up in A Tight Hug

Old taxonomy: 2.2 — Kissing & Non-Explicit Affection

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« emma followed suit, and rebecca scooped her up in her arms and hugged her tight. »

« he hugged her back. »

« i stood up with her and hugged her. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I removed my hand from hers and hugged her. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She wrapped her arms around me then, hugging me tightly. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I just turned in his arms and hugged him then. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Dad stood and went over to give her a hug. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] my mom exclaimed as she rushed up to give me a hug. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He pulled me into his arms, wrapping me in a tender embrace. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] She put her arms around him and hugged him hard. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] At that, Tohr leaned in and gave her a quick hug. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Come here,” he said, pulling her into an embrace.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Thank you ... ” As he nodded solemnly, she wrapped her arms around him, and held him tightly.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] By manner of reply, she gave him a quick hug, and stepped into the darkness.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate non-genital intimacy (hugging, embracing) with no mention of genital, oral, or penetrative acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe hugging, which falls under the I3 category.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses kissing and non-explicit affection, with no mention of genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts. It aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 126 — Fingertips Stroking Her Cheek

Old taxonomy: 2.2 — Kissing & Non-Explicit Affection

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« she lifted her chin. “ »

« he lifted a hand and stroked a finger down her cheek. ‘ »

« she lifted her hand and caressed his cheek. ” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He leaned forward and very gently touched her cheek. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He pressed his cheek against her forearm. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He reached out now, stroked his fingers down her cheek to tip her face to his.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She leaned forward and brushed her lips to his cheek. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He caught her back to him, spreading his fingers over her uninjured cheek. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] The tip of his thumb slid over her chin. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] His long fingers cradled her cheeks as he gave her a questioning stare. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] His face lowered over hers, and his fingertips settled on her jaw, gently adjusting the angle of her head.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] His fingers slid over the hot surface of her cheek, and he gently pressed her head to his shoulder. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He bent his head, nuzzling his jaw against the pale silk of her palm. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] His mouth touched her burning forehead and followed the wing of her brow. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate non-genital caress (I3) with words like 'caressed', 'cupped', 'stroked', 'touched', 'hand', 'fingertips'.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe non-genital, non-penetrative acts of intimacy, such as touching, kissing, and caressing cheeks, chin, and jaw.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-explicit affection, with no mention of explicit sexual acts.

Topic 197 — Lingering Farewell Kiss

Old taxonomy: 2.2 — Kissing & Non-Explicit Affection

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« in an attempt to take away the sting of her hasty departure, she went to Iirzhan and kissed him — no quick peck on the cheek, but a lingering touch of mouth against mouth as she tried to show that she was leaving because she had to, not because she wanted to. “ »

« from what i've heard, she's just lying around on her back, waiting for true love's kiss.” »

« and that they've only kissed.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] It didn't matter that he'd wanted to kiss her, even though he hadn't even realized that he wanted to until right before she'd mentioned it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Although, when he really thought about it, he wasn't quite sure why he shouldn't have kissed her .

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] She thought he'd kissed her out of pity .

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] There was something heartbreaking in the way she was gazing at him, as if she might die if he didn't kiss her.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] David spontaneously kissed her on the cheek. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around kissing and wanting to kiss, which falls under the I3 category.

B contextual: I3

All sentences discuss or imply kissing, which falls under the I3 category.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-explicit affection, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 1 — Straps Sliding Down Her Arms

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i've had practice,” he said as he slid the straps down my arms and removed it. »

« how could a man who just serenaded me with one of the sexiest songs i've ever heard and who kisses the way he does be a virgin? »

« the way he holds me —the tenderness, the carefulness—gives me hope that we've made great strides tonight. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] If I say 'Kiss my ass' to him, you can jump into action.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Nice and polite—until he thought he had something on you.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] His hand came up to grip my head, keeping me trapped in the loving softness of his kiss.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] His lips attached to my neck as his fingers worked their way up my shirt.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He brought his lips down to mine and released my hands.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He held me to him as his mouth moved in sync with mine, his tongue just slipping in to brush against me.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Kissing my cheek, he ran his lips up to my ear.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Chuckling in my mouth, he held me against him, deepening our kiss.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Let your Master Thomas give you a big mouthful of his cum.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate intimacy at level I3, with keywords like 'kiss', 'kissing', 'tongue', 'moves', 'passionate', 'panting', 'moaning' suggesting non-genital intimate acts.

B contextual: I3

The majority of sentences describe kissing or non-genital caresses, hence the dominant code is I3.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses kissing and non-explicit affection, which falls under the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 7 — Kissing With Tongue and Urgency

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« kissing her on the forehead, he leaned against the register and waited for her to finish. »

« he leaned down and pressed his lips to hers. “ »

« turning to his mate, he leaned down and pressed a kiss to vee’s head. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Sophia Young kisses him, and he kisses her back, grabbing both her arms at the top fleshy section, and lifting her up so her mouth smothers his.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Cagney laughed and tried to roll her over to him, for a kiss.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Cagney opens his mouth to speak, but she places her hands on both sides of his face urgently, her claws digging into his cheeks, and pulls his mouth round to meet hers. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She is staring at his wet crotch with her mouth wide open and her eyes even wider.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She tickles a line along the inside of his upper lip with her tongue, as Cagney opens his eyes and watches her closely and evenly, weaving her spell.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Her face angles upwards towards his, like a scene from a 1930s film, when men and women locked together, and kissed passionately, and then tore themselves apart.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He then leaned down and placed a gentle kiss on her lips and felt himself harden even more. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He reached out and gently caressed her bottom lip. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] His grip tightened on her hips when she let out a scream and he continued to hungrily stroke her with his tongue, enjoying the way she was pushing her body against his mouth.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The moment her body was pressed against his and her lips parted in a startled gasp, his mouth swept down on hers at an angle that called for deep penetration.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] And before she could open her mouth to utter a single word, he moved from the spot, pulled her into his arms and kissed her, devouring her mouth with an urgency that astounded her.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He stared at her for a long moment before reaching out and gently touching her swollen lips with his fingertips. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate non-genital intimate acts such as kissing, licking, and caressing, which fall under I3.

B contextual: I3

Most sentences describe kissing or non-genital caresses, with a few sentences describing genital contact or being ambiguous.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, which aligns with the I3 code.

Topic 41 — Gripping Her Neck and Pulling Close

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i could’ve went for some of her pussy too, but right now, ass action was what i ultimately desired. “ »

« she lifts up on her toes and kisses me, and she’s the sweetest damn thing i’ve ever tasted. »

« in my mind i’m pushing her away, but in reality i’ve got one hand on her lower back, pulling her against me, and my other hand gripping the nape of her neck. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] She moves her hands up my body, tentatively touching the underside of my breast, her soft cool fingers tracing a lazy path along my skin as our tongues tangle.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I let my mouth search her clit a little more as her head bobbed up and down, forcing her tongue into my hole.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I grabbed her head as she lapped up all my come into her mouth.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] into my ear and neck and begins to stroke her hands along my arms, my sides, my breasts . . .

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] She looks at me and I pull her towards me and kiss her deeply, feeling the warm sticky come rub off onto my face and into my mouth.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Then I kissed the outside of her pussy lips, letting them slide up and down my lips and tongue.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You’ll pull her arms out of her sockets.”

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I grab her hand and press my lips to her knuckles.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Her tongue meets me halfway, and her hand presses into my side, drawing me closer.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] My arms wrap around her, squeezing at her back.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I place my index finger over her soft lips, shaking my head. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate intimate non-genital contact (kissing, caressing, etc.), so the consensus code is I3.

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 (kissing/undressing/non-genital caress) as it appears in 18 out of 20 sentences. The other two sentences contain I6 (genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around romantic interludes and physical affection, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned.

Topic 63 — Cupping and Pinching Her Nipples

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« troy cupped his tits and rubbed, then pinched the little nipples. »

« his hands cupped her taut breasts, and waves of desire shot to her belly and settled between her legs. »

« when she stood up, leaned into his chest, bringing her hands up to his neck, he cupped her breasts and pulled hard on her taut nipples. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He reached his other hand up and easily captured a nipple which he pinched and gently held, making it tug just slightly painfully every time his hips flexed himself into her.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He hadn't moved his hand a bit since she'd made her grab for it, but now he continued its descent until it covered and cupped that intriguing mound, noting with satisfaction how her nipple poked insistently into his palm.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He let the hand that had held her chin wander down to cup a full breast, while the other reached around to that bottom he was getting to know so well, squeezing it in a no nonsense manner that make her squeal and crash against him in an attempt to avoid his painful caress.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] As if to prove his point, he leaned down and pressed his hot mouth onto her breast, over her very pointed nipple, nibbling in a way that she hated to admit was somewhat gentle, although its unfamiliarity made a bold of lighting flash up and down her spine, forcing that poor nipple into even further prominence even though they were still separated by layers of cloth.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When he reclaimed her nipple, it sent her careening over the edge and she exploded in his hands, writhing and wiggling and arching, all but coming apart as he held her anchored within his strong arms.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When she should have been raging at him for having the audacity to touch her in a place she barely ever touched herself, she was too completely overcome by the insistent tugging of those soft lips at her aching peaked nipple, forcing it to become even more engorged and sensitive as he flicked his tongue maddeningly over the tip.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Pulling out, he pressed the tip to her anus and reached around to cup her breasts. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] His lips closed over her nipple while he worked the shirt past her head and arms.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Lightly furred skin rubbed against her back, and hands cupped her breasts.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Teeth tugged at her earlobe, sending a rush of tingles to her nipples and down her arms to her fingers.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] His hand cupped her breast, massaging the perfect mound of flesh.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate non-genital intimate acts such as caressing, cupping, and licking breasts, which fall under I3.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe non-genital intimate acts, specifically breast/nipple stimulation and caressing, which fall under the I3 category.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital intimate acts, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned.

Topic 208 — Pounded Into The Mattress

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« you've been in this bed before,” i say, glancing back at it. “ »

« i remain on the edge of the bed, watching him stalk out the door, feeling as if i've been shot in the chest. »

« had my back not already been off the bed, i would've arched right up off it as he mercilessly used his full body strength to pound me into the plush mattress. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I move us back into the bed and pull the covers over both of us. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I take my shirt and trousers off and then lean down onto the bed. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He moves across the couch and picks up my hands. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I kick the door open to my bedroom and I lay her down on the bed.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I close the door and throw myself on the bed.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I should have been in bed...I wanted to see Papa...He looked over at me and waved...' He stopped talking, started to shake.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] He wasn't in the big bed that dominated the room, although the coverlet was rumpled.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Darren didn't hog the pillows and kick all the covers from the bed.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He let himself in and sat down on the edge of the bed near my feet.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest a non-sexual intimate scene involving bed and positioning, with no indication of genital or oral contact.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe actions leading up to or related to intimacy, but do not explicitly describe genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around romantic and affectionate moments, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned.

Topic 230 — Tongue and Hands After Climax

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« jacen palms the curve of liam's ass as his tongue delves back into jacen's mouth, into the same hot cavern that his hardened cock had ridden to an exquisite climax not so very long ago, darting in and out of it, moaning when jacen sucks on it, then pushes back for more of liam's sweetness. »

« [person] up into the contact, grabbing a handful of jacen's hair and moaning loudly as jacen nips and sucks and marks him, leaving a dark bruise. " »

« sawyer made a choice because of choices that i've made and he...it was too much for him. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Still brooding over that, Reyes headed out.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] That took all the defiance out of Serrano, who gazed wildly between Kyra and Reyes. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Reyes seemed to come to some realization, and his expression held something like pity as he gazed at Serrano. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Reyes wouldn't have been surprised if she'd gone for the bastard with her bare hands, but Apex was a thinker, not a fighter. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Apex was skimming down the list over Reyes's shoulder. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Reyes thought he had some failsafe in place--if the guards didn't hear from Serrano at a certain time, they'd kill her and clean up the scene.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She switched her glare to her brother, and added, "Maybe he should have spent more time trying to emulate Roland's noble qualities—like honor, generosity, and self-sacrifice—instead of murdering, thieving, and whoring his way to the sword's hiding place!" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Falcon lunged towards his former ally. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] For a moment, she thought it might be her, but Falcon hadn't become that much like their father yet. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] All hint of brotherly affection evaporated from Falcon's expression, leaving a cold, hard mask.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists contain words related to intimate actions (e.g., 'sucked', 'moaning', 'dared') but stop short of explicit genital/oral/penetrative acts, thus falling under I3.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe emotional or physical interactions between characters, but none of them explicitly describe genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, aligning with the I3 code.

Topic 292 — Erection Straining Against His Trousers

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: I6 (norm: I6) | mixed=False

« hot need rushed through him, settling into the swelling bulge of his cock, which strained beneath the black leather of his pants. »

« ash wasn't silly enough to think that the rather prodigious boner pressing against him this morning was anything other than the typical morning state of any cock, regardless of circumstances. »

« it strained inside his trousers, almost bursting out with the pressure. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He gave his penis a squeeze, which caused the drop to run down the shaft.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He bit into the flesh at the base of the cock, bit harder, harder, until savagely, he sank his teeth in hard enough to break through the skin.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] His dick started to rise with anticipation, and he found his hand moving up and down the length of it, almost of its own accord.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He slid his hand around in it, then lifted his head away from the guy's penis long enough to cover it with blood.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] His penis was red and hard, a tiny pearl of clear liquid poised at the tip.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He thrust into her again, and his dick felt as if it was expanding. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She needed his stiff dick to get her grind on and knock the bottom of her pussy into oblivion.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Loving the confining position he'd put her in, his nut threatened to escape as he pushed his expanding manhood as deep as he could, filling her tight walls with every thick and uncircumcised inch of him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I6

The keywords in Main, KeyBERT, and MMR lists are explicitly related to genital and oral sexual acts (e.g., 'cock', 'balls', 'cum', 'swelled', 'throbbed', 'strained', 'pounded', 'twitched'). The POS list, while containing some related words like 'passionate', also includes more general terms, leading to a less specific code (I3). However, the consensus code is I6 as the majority of the lists indicate explicit sexual acts.

B contextual: I6

The dominant code is I6 (genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts) as it appears in more than 70% of the sentences with a clear code.

C adjudicate: I6 action=KEEP

The topic contains explicit descriptions of sexual acts, making 'I6' the most specific applicable code.

Topic 55 — Worrying About An Unplanned Pregnancy

Old taxonomy: 2.5 — Sexual Negotiation, Safety Preparation & Boundaries

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« just a little while longer and you'll be holding a baby in your arms.” » « it's been a while since i've taken care of babies, but i'm sure i'll remember how.” »
« just because we slipped up once doesn't mean you'll get pregnant.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I don't know that I can have children, anyway.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I did not think your babysitters would allow you to carry one around the city.” “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I fed him a few small children as reward.”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] There can be no more selfish creature than a child.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Though I'm certain such a thing didn't exist when I was born.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I don't think a baby's in the cards for me.” “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We're having a baby ... well, actually,” she corrected herself, “two of them.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around pregnancy and having children, which falls under the category of I3 (non-genital caress).

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss children, babies, or the desire to have children, but none of them describe any form of intimacy or sexual activity.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-genital caresses, which falls under the I3 category.

Topic 125 — Furnished Room Described in Detail

Old taxonomy: 2.5 — Sexual Negotiation, Safety Preparation & Boundaries

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« a large bed with end tables was on the wall to the right. »
« polished oak tables, whose tops featured the tree's rings and matching chairs provided ample room for comfortable dining. »
« white carpet covered the floors, and red accent pieces lined white bookshelves and end tables. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And while he had taken refuge in the male safe zone of earth tones, dark tan leather sofa and two matching chairs, a solid coffee table with storage and a geometric patterned rug on the wood floor, there were some surprises there, too.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It wasn't the spaciousness of the great room design.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The guest room was more than comfortable.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The furniture gleamed like polished metal, even in the dim light of the closed-up house. “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The little house was clearly the office, and was surrounded with plants, trees and flowers that looked as happy and healthy as the dogs.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Judging from the rooms we could see, the only windowless room is that one bathroom we could see into through the kitchen.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Comfortable furniture was interspersed with potted plants.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The living and the dining rooms were all in one great room that was filled with fashionable furniture suitable for a beachside residence.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] It knocked the sofa and chairs around the room and the artwork hanging on the walls askew.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The interior of the pub was the same throughout, bare brick walls and lots of wood—wooden bars, floors, stools, tables and chairs.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on furniture and room decor, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences describe furniture, rooms, or decor, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts. The only exception is 'A king-size four-post bed stands with white curtains in the center of the room', which implies a sleeping arrangement but does not explicitly describe an intimate or sexual act.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, aligning with the I3 code.

Topic 151 — Agreeing to Stop When Asked

Old taxonomy: 2.5 — Sexual Negotiation, Safety Preparation & Boundaries

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« stop it, or i'll be tempted to do something i shouldn't. »

« as long as i know you'll stop when i've had enough. »

« coz i don't know if i'll be able to stop myself. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Stevie, no, you don't have to ..." "Just stop it."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Don't stop," Dan begged, his voice tight and breathless. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on stopping or preventing actions, which aligns with I3 (kissing/undressing/non-genital caress).

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 as the sentences primarily revolve around stopping or not stopping an intimate act, which is kissing or non-genital caress.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses romantic tension and preparation for intimacy, with no explicit sexual acts mentioned.

Topic 156 — Reaching Into The Bedside Drawer

Old taxonomy: 2.5 — Sexual Negotiation, Safety Preparation & Boundaries

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« rax stands, slides open the drawer on the bedside table, and takes out a box of condoms. »

« i reached over to the bedside cabinet drawer and pulled out a condom; i tore it open and rolled it down my cock. »

« he opened the drawer of his bedside table and grabbed a condom, put it on, and was back on top of me in a flash. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It was filled with little packets of lube and a variety of condoms.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] So you don't actually need to use a condom."

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Good thing I found your lube in the nightstand, then."

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He blindly grabbed one of the lube pillows and tore the cheap plastic open.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He wanted lube that wasn't strawberry-flavored.

[BOOK_008 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He came back in, the condom managed, the look on his face grim. "

[BOOK_008 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He hooked his fingers into the sides of her panties and tugged them down her legs, then drew back for a moment, opening the condom and rolling it on quickly before he positioned himself between her thighs.

[BOOK_008 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was open, from when he'd taken out the condom and thrown it onto the ground.

[BOOK_008 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She'd absolutely benefitted from the acquisition of a box of condoms.

[BOOK_008 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She'd been walking around her bedroom in her bra and panties for the past twenty minutes, a tampon on the nightstand, right next to an unopened pregnancy test.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods except MMR indicate intimacy level I3, as they mention condoms, lube, and other related items but no explicit genital or oral sexual acts. MMR suggests I6 due to 'ripping' and 'puts', but these could be interpreted as condom usage or clothing removal rather than penetrative sex.

B contextual: I3

The topic primarily discusses preparations for and discussions about using condoms, which falls under the I3 code. The only sentence that explicitly mentions a genital act is BOOK_008_2, which is coded as I6.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, aligning with the I3 code.

Topic 203 — Stepping Into The Bathroom

Old taxonomy: 2.5 — Sexual Negotiation, Safety Preparation & Boundaries

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« don't fall asleep on me," he said as he closed the bathroom door. »

« when they stepped into the hallway, the bathroom door opened and shannon emerged, her skin pale. »

« franklin stepped obediently inside the bathroom, and closed the door behind him. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] She jumps up and disappears out of the room and I'm suddenly reminded of what it was like sharing a bathroom with six other people.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Fortunately, before things get any more awkward, the door opens from the en-suite bathroom and Larry emerges from a cloud of steam, like a super-hero appearing from a swirl of dry ice.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] She shut the door, and I heard her humming quietly as she headed to the bathroom.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] And there's a bathroom through that door right there."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She kicked off her shoes, walked to the bathroom and picked up the plastic bowl, holding it out to Cade. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Excuse me," she said, with all the dignity she could muster, and marched the two steps to the bathroom.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The best thing that could be said for the bathroom was that it had a door.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He strode to the bathroom—a man on a mission—and dug out Joey's first-aid kit from under the sink, grabbing one of the foil packs and hurrying back to the bed.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Cade whirled her toward a cleaning closet and squeezed in there with her, placing himself in front.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Luz finishes gathering things in the kitchen and makes her way to what I figure is the bathroom.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Probably pulling out the drain plug," Audrey says. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-genital intimate acts, with words like 'bedroom', 'bedside', 'curtain', 'giggled', 'exhaled', 'breathed' indicating a romantic, intimate setting.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe characters going to, using, or emerging from a bathroom, indicating non-sexual intimacy (I3).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 213 — Choosing Sex Without Commitment

Old taxonomy: 2.5 — Sexual Negotiation, Safety Preparation & Boundaries

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i want very much to make love to you, but i'll be damned if i'll do it in a horror of a room like this. »

« yeah, but in a couple of hours, i'll want sex again. »

« i'd rather there was love and friendship and commitment behind it, but if it's a choice between sex without that stuff, or going home alone, i'll take the sex, thank you. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Sex was a big part of our past, Daisy, but you don't seem to want to talk about that." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Although we brought each other to perfunctory orgasm in bed that night, we gave each other little pleasure.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Can't speak for the others, but with me it's not just the sex.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] To have him sexually, feeling as I did, would be to take advantage of him; the bedroom door remained closed.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest intimacy but do not explicitly mention genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences except BOOK_002_1 and BOOK_002_4 discuss intimacy, sex, or lack thereof, but do not explicitly describe genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around romantic and physical intimacy, with a focus on kissing and caressing, which falls under the I3 category. No explicit sexual acts are mentioned.

Topic 227 — Cherishing Memories Before Parting

Old taxonomy: 2.5 — Sexual Negotiation, Safety Preparation & Boundaries

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« we'll get your memory back." »

« you'll be sure and let us know if you have any clearing of your memory, won't you?" " »

« i'll be taking these memories with me and pulling them out when i'm missing everyone so much. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] People have history and long memories." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] The memory of their first night under the stars surged through her, merging past with present sensation until she couldn't remember exactly where she was.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Hearing him call her his wife brought memories of the weekend's activities back to vivid life. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] She remembered all too vividly coming back to whatever bedroom had been hers temporarily only to find her suitcases neatly packed.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] It may be something he doesn't want to share with anyone else in the world, especially his wonderful little girl whom he's just meeting again.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Whatever they were, they're in your past.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] He couldn't remember talking about it. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Because in about two seconds, he was going to forget about everything but getting off.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He remembered something that had been really bothering him. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on the theme of memory and remembrance, with no explicit mention of sexual acts. The most specific applicable code is I3, as it covers non-genital caress and kissing, which could be implied by 'remembered' or 'reminding' in a romantic context.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic refer to memories, thoughts, or remembrance of past events, which do not involve any intimate or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses kissing and non-genital caresses, which falls under the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 244 — Confessing A Shattered Heart

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i've been heartbroken, truly shattered since leaving you behind in cleveland . »

« and actually it's pretty handy you love me since i've already had my heart smashed around like day old potatoes once this year." »

« it's always been the way i've protected my heart, though i never thought about the hearts of the women i used. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Your soft heart would weep over some of the things I've done and the choices I've made.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You saved a child who would otherwise be dead right now and you risked your own life to do it because your heart is too soft for you to say no even though it might have meant your own death. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Dear Author SWEET SURRENDER "This story ran my heart through the wringer more than once." —

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] There's not another group of men who have more heart, determination and courage.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's what my heart, and my head, demands.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Following your heart will pay off in the near future.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future .

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future .

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Not the best of moods for a heart to heart. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around emotional intimacy and heartbreak, with keywords like 'heart', 'broken', 'affection', 'emotional', and 'suffering'. There are no explicit references to sexual acts, so the consensus code is I3.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic refer to emotional or heart-related aspects, but none explicitly describe intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy and reconciliation, with kissing and non-genital caresses being the most dominant intimate acts. No explicit or penetrative sexual acts are mentioned.

Topic 38 — Admitting Shared Pain

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« i've seen your pain. »

« i've never felt that way before." »

« will it make you feel better to know that i've got one, too?" »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I always want to be able to tell you what I'm feeling.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] That's what it felt like—that was the exact feeling—and I'm so happy that now you were there.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I hadn't noticed that feeling before." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on emotional intimacy and feelings, with no explicit sexual content.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss feelings and emotions, with one exception (BOOK_004_2) that explicitly mentions a sexual act. The dominant code is I3 as the majority of sentences discuss non-genital intimacy.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around ongoing courtship and everyday relational bonding, with no mention of genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts. The dominant intimacy code is I3, as it involves kissing and non-genital caress.

Topic 52 — Talking About Dogs and Animals

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« I'll have you know that muffy is an intelligent dog and understands more than most people give her credit for. »

« it'll also notify the other campers that there's a bear in the area." »

« I'll be taking the dogs out for their afternoon walk, so there'll be some peace and quiet for you." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] What are you doing with that dog in here?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I'm not too versed on dog-speak but I had a feeling that meant "Hey, food's this way.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Abbie's problem is that she's a lot like a dog.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] While I tripped over a crack in the sidewalk, stepped in dog crap or spilled mustard across my white button-down, she dabbed the corner of her mouth with a lacy napkin, made friends with stray dogs and levitated down sidewalks like Mary Poppins.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The fence beyond them held a spray-painted sign that read "Forget Dog, Beware of Owner."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on animals and pets, with no indication of intimacy beyond non-genital caress (I3).

B contextual: MIXED

No sentences in this topic discuss intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around romantic gestures and affectionate touch, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code. No explicit sexual acts are mentioned.

Topic 54 — Ordering Food and Dessert

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« I'll have the steak with boiled potatoes and green beans." " »

« we'll need a hazmat crew to clean up the mess he'll make with the cake—it's a two-person job." »

« but I'll get us some pie anyway." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I'll see what I can find for breakfast in your cupboards.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Of course, she won't be needing those for a good long while now that she's got a bun in the oven.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Cereal's fine and I've got plenty of it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Did you know the cafeteria was serving goulash today?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Delicious, sinfully sweet, incredibly tempting trouble, but trouble nonetheless.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Gloria's got a big spread planned for brunch."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on food and meals, with no intimate or sexual connotations.

B contextual: N

No sentences explicitly describe intimacy functions I3 or I6. The closest is 'Delicious, sinfully sweet, incredibly tempting trouble, but trouble nonetheless.' (BOOK_001_6), which is coded as I3 due to its suggestive nature.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 86 — First Name Used at Last

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i've known you for two whole years, and that is the first time you've ever called me by my first name." »

« you've outgrown that nickname." " »

« just between you and me, i've been working on a catchy superhero name. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I was named for my great-grandfather." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I may not have known him for long, Rox, but I do know him.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Doesn't it bother you in the least that you don't really know him?" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Mr. Remington, I'm Harding, Jonathan Q. Harding.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around the act of introducing or revealing one's real name or nickname, which falls under the category of non-genital caress (I3).

B contextual: N

All sentences in this topic discuss names, introductions, or lack of knowledge about someone's name, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, which fall under the I3 code.

Topic 93 — Meal Plans Casually Arranged

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« that'll wait 'til after supper, though." " »

« i'll go get started on lunch," clark offered. »

« i'll show you over dinner." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] What kind of host would I be to let you go all day without a proper meal?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] What happened to Reichen finding you some dinner downstairs?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] It seemed only fitting that I treat you to one of the city's finest dinners.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] He'd sat with her for hours going over the catering menu for the reception, listening to her gripe and moan about what they would serve their guests.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'd love to take you to dinner," he said. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] We agreed to have dinner the following night. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You must come to dinner tonight," she said. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around planning and discussing meals, which is non-sexual and falls under I3.

B contextual: I0|MIXED

The topic primarily discusses invitations to meals (I0), with a smaller proportion mentioning dinner plans (I3). No sentences explicitly describe intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic discusses non-sexual intimate acts, such as holding hands and kissing, which are appropriate for the 'Ongoing Courtship' category.

Topic 105 — Swept Onto The Dance Floor

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« [person] and i are both taken, so we'll only dance with each other. »

« i've never danced with a guy who real y knew what he was doing." " »

« if you'll excuse the two of us," he pointed to me, "i've been dying for a dance with this woman all night." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] And the high heels she'd dangled from her hand were for dancing the night away or seducing a man.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Oh God, did that man I was dancing with take me?

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] We begin dancing again, this time getting a little friskier.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He takes my hand and leads me onto the dance floor.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Your problem is you let what happened with Marcus keep you from attending those dances.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sparkling cocktail dresses mixed with flip-flops and Bermuda shorts on the open-air dance floor, where wealthy couples did the bump and grind or swayed in each other's arms to the beat of classic rock.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around dancing and related activities, which fall under the category of non-genital caress (I3).

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic refer to dancing, which is a form of non-genital caress.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-sexual intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 116 — Sharing A Meal Together

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« [person] dipped his spoon into the ice cream dish once again, and my mouth opened in anticipation. »

« i'll finish the carrots up while you wash those," he said, nodding to the potatoes she held as he reached for the bowl of veggies she had left unfinished. »

« i'll get that," clarissa said, whisking mandy's empty plate away and depositing it on the counter along with her own before mandy could say a word. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He picked up his fork and tapped it against his plate. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She dropped her fork onto her plate with a clatter. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Emily picked up her fork and forced another bite. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She set her spoon down with a sharp click. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She reached across the table and pulled the pie plate away from him before he could sink his fork in.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She dropped a generous scoop of it on Jake's pie and set it in front of him. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Bacchus chased it with his forked tongue, catching the droplets before they hit the sheets. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Finishing off his sandwich in a couple of bites, he reached for another and checked to see how she was doing. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Grabbing a couple of napkins, he moved on, snagging a bag of chips to round out the meal.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He gave her the ice cream and the napkin he held at the ready.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-sexual, intimate acts related to sharing or preparing food, such as 'dipped', 'stirred', 'eagerly', 'feeding', 'absently', etc.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic describe non-intimate actions such as eating, setting down utensils, or carrying food, with no mention of kissing, undressing, or non-genital caresses.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 160 — Watching Movies Together

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« fine, but i'll be watching." " »

« we'll watch him closely for any reaction." " »

« we've been watching movies." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Turn on that entertainment network we both hate." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] God, that sounds like a Telemundo soap opera."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We need to record it in the next fortnight if we're going to make our launch date.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Maybe one can watch over you while you fuck the other."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] But you also may have reason to keep me from watching too closely." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You will watch them for seven days, Arthur, and then come to me.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I just want you to know that I am watching you." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic is about watching movies and TV shows, which involves no intimate acts beyond I3 level.

B contextual: I0

Most sentences in this topic discuss watching TV shows or being watched, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts. The only exception is 'Maybe one can watch over you while you fuck the other', which clearly describes a penetrative sexual act.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 174 — Ranch Life and Falling in Love

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« i've seen your willy on numerous occasions on the ranch. »

« the ranch is doing good, and i've fallen in love. »

« i'd take you there, but i imagine you've already seen enough cattle to last you a lifetime." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'll fetch some water, and then could you sit with him while I fetch the farmer's wife?" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] That's as much as I can do—we're busy at the farm, and the lad isn't in danger."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] They got milk, cheese, eggs and other produce from the farm, and they would soon be easily able to grow enough herbs and vegetables for their own use.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When the resident died, the farmer, needing the money, had been glad to sell it off with some land to a couple of wealthy Gidinians in need of solitude and a place away from the bustle of the town.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Jaime suspected he holed up in a barn or in a storeroom, possibly up at the farm.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Seve was busy preserving, drying and storing the produce from the garden and bartered meat, cheese and grain from the farm.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She dreams of one day living out in Montana, enough land to have a few horses, and find a couple of cowboys of her own.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] This ranch is worth a fortune and we were lucky to be able to sell it for what we did.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] There was a huge ranch on the other side of the mountain range.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She loved every aspect of ranch life from the cattle, to the horses, to the old cowpunchers that came and went each year. "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Anything she had ever wanted, the ranch had supplied. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest a setting on a ranch or farm, with no indication of sexual intimacy beyond I3 level.

B contextual: MIXED

No sentences in this topic contain intimacy functions.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around romantic gestures and affectionate touch, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code. No explicit sexual acts are mentioned.

Topic 232 — Conversation Cut Short By Arrival

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« dex had come in and gabe's conversation with her, the longest conversation that they'd had in the couple of weeks he'd been back, was over. »

« gabe leaned down so he wouldn't be overheard. " »

« i'll tell you right now falan and gabe are the only people on my team that i'd stake my career— or my balls —on." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Have Remy or the boys been out to question you again or give you more information about Joshua's attack?"

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] In the end, Gabe couldn't let the kid down. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He almost told her to call him Gabe, but he knew his name would sound way too good coming from her full lips.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Her name fit her, Gabe had found himself thinking one too many times.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Gabe pretended to tackle Zach as he pulled the microphone from his hand, but he instantly sobered as he turned to Chase and Chloe. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Gabe's face brightened and he said, "Hey, you know what?

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Gabe asked him with a twist of his lips.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Her face got red then and she said angrily, "So, Gabe knew and didn't clue me in?

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a level of intimacy (I3) through keywords like 'cringed', 'hand', 'squeezed', 'groaned', 'longing', 'gesture', and 'stroking'. None of the keywords suggest genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts (I6).

B contextual: I0

No sentences explicitly describe intimacy functions I3 or I6. Most sentences are conversations or thoughts, classified as I0.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 330 — Curious About Her Cooking Skills

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« you've got me curious about your culinary skills." »
« now i've got to learn how to cook a whole new way." »
« you've tried [person]'s cooking. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I'll even cook, you being the guest and all." "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Officially, Granger was one of several cooks on staff at the Club Med in Punta Cana, a popular tourist area in the Dominican Republic.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Shit, she couldn't even boil live lobsters without crying. "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Tis smooth as a warm knife through fresh butter when you master it."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All representations focus on cooking and related activities, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss cooking or related activities, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-sexual intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 332 — First Time Inside A Grocery Store

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« because that was the first time i've ever had fun grocery shopping." »
« and now we've our own talkin' shop in leinster house – we ignore their laws, too." »
« [person], i don't think i've ever been in a grocery store." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Feeling pleasantly paparazzied I scuttled in through the entrance and went down to the coffee shop.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] As she'd done nothing but shop ever since we'd got here, I'd been a bit taken aback, but she claimed there were still a million things left to buy.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We walked into the Coffee Shoppee and I took in the decor bemusedly.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] This is the famous all-night Monday cart-market.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You spot peanut sellers and machine- ka -cold-water carts.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] However, rumor has it that there's a pile of modernized equipment in the back of one of the storerooms, along with a couple of experts who are going to show us how it's done."
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] In a couple of them, you can even see piles of fabric and other trade goods, sort of the A.D. 1000 version of a stadium concourse." "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] The end result was part feng shui, part Zen, part hey-that's-cool impulse buy.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I felt like I was only in the library for a couple of hours, but I lost most of a day out here.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic is about shopping and visiting places, which does not involve any intimate acts beyond I3 level.

B contextual: NONE

No sentences in this topic contain any intimacy function, including kissing, undressing, non-genital caress, or genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily focuses on non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 351 — Warm Greeting Upon Return

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« thank god you've come back—and will you look at me, just in time." »
« it is a pleasure to see you again—so soon, madam. " »
« so i'll see you there," he said, feeling upbeat for the first time in a long time. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I'll give it to him when I see him again." "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Yes, but I was also relieved you didn't show up."
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I'll see you as often as I can," he said, only making matters worse by reminding the children he wouldn't be seeing them on a normal basis. "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Whatever the reason, it was a pretty nice day.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Amber had seen it as a splendid way to say goodbye to the hords of tourists who crowded Harmony during that season.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a level of intimacy (I3) as the keywords suggest positive interactions and greetings, but no explicit sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic refer to seeing or not seeing someone, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 367 — Sorting Out Concert Tickets

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i'm assuming since there are two tickets, you'll go with me?" " « »

« we'll have to figure out how to get you a ticket. »

« [person]—"sure, i'll give her the five-cent tour." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Something I learned when I took my grand tour."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Mrs. Schmidt told me this is the coach I should take, and I was simply trying to find out—" "How much is the ticket?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] We've had one tour group after another this morning.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] They're probably trying to cater to the tourists."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He took my hand and guided me through the crowd of tourists on the side walk.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] All I have to do is take the public track tour and get conveniently separated from the tourists.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I hop back in the limo and rush to my second event of the night, a Q & A event with racing fans.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-sexual activities like buying concert tickets and going on tours, with no indication of intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences are about tours, tickets, or non-intimate physical contact, so they are coded as I0. The only exception is BOOK_002_3, which describes a hand being guided, coded as I3.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 303 — Confessing Long-Hidden Secrets

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« normally, tate would've finished the sentence she was working on, but the excitement in mabel's voice jarred her completely out of the story, derailing her train of thought. »

« i know it might cost me tate, but if i don't tell him then everything we've built will be based on half-truths." " « »

« tate sits down next to me, his eyes grim as he waits for me to share all the things that i've been keeping from him for so long. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Damn it, he wondered if Joshua Tate knew the full extent of what he was taking on.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Joshua Tate tugged at his collar and cleared his throat, his prominent Adam's apple bobbing as he swallowed audibly. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I went to Woodson to interview Chandra Cunningham about Tana Mayfield.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm just doing some follow-up on Mayfield.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Lady Mayfield, I believe," he said, straightening.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You seem to have the exclusive attention of the Lady Mayfield," Kent mentioned once greetings had been exchanged between the three. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-genital intimacy (e.g., 'nods', 'winked', 'muffled', 'panicked', 'fumbled', 'hailed').

B contextual: MIXED

No sentences in this topic describe intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic discusses non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, fitting the I3 code. The dominant intimacy code is mixed, and the taxonomy suggests a focus on secrets and misunderstandings.

Topic 24 — Confronting An Unwanted Marriage

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« we'll be married... to each other.” »

« you're already married to me; he'll understand.” “ »

« i'll give you a divorce and you can just walk away. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] So that whole getting married and settling down part doesn't appeal to you?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Just divorced and living in different places.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] But that's not the reason I want to marry you.” “

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Not that I want to marry again of course.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on the concept of marriage and commitment, with no explicit mention of sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss marriage, divorce, or the desire to marry, but do not mention any intimate or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic discusses kissing and undressing, which falls under I3 intimacy code. The dominant theme is conflict and distance, with secondary themes of reconciliation and commitments.

Topic 29 — Confessing Long-Held Love

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i love you with everything i am, everything i've been, and everything i hope to be .” “ »

« tell her i've always loved her. »

« i've always been in love with you.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I love you, too, sweetheart.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Oh, child, I love you, too.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You just say 'I love you.'”

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest emotional intimacy (love, falling in love, happiness, forgiveness) but no explicit sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic express love or affection, but do not describe any intimate acts beyond kissing or non-genital caress, thus they are classified as I3.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses romantic moments, kisses, and emotional connections, which align with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 62 — Admitting You've Been Stupid

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« marnie, i've been stupid. »

« about what an asshole i've been?” “ »

« you've done something dumb, but you'll get away with it this time. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Dear Reader, Sometimes teenagers do foolish things.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'm the one who was stupid enough not to bring one.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He's really ... I don't know ...” I forced myself not to supply the word dumb . “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He was too proud of himself to detect the sarcasm in my words. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-sexual, intimate interactions such as harsh remarks and embarrassing actions, but no explicit sexual content.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss foolish or stupid behavior, which falls under the category of non-sexual intimacy (I3). There are no instances of kissing, undressing, or non-genital caress, let alone genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses romantic and affectionate acts such as kissing and caressing, which fall under the I3 intimacy code. No genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts are mentioned, and the topic aligns with the given taxonomy.

Topic 65 — Declaring A True Partnership

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« what we've been though together, the way we've been there for each other ... we have a true partnership, a true love, and if that sounds stupid and romantic, then i don't care." »

« we've been together forever, and what if it takes us years?" »

« i'll do that," he said softly, "we've got a date." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] We have often been together in public." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] This is the only way you can get a date?

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Want to believe we can really have something together."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] And if we do go out, then I have to deal with all the men swarming around wanting a taste of your sex magic! "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Or was it just an accident that we dated and he found the schema?"

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] It has not been that long since we last saw each other.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] We have walked this world together for quite some time.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=end] This is something with pure intentions, open emotions, and a reciprocation that will never cause harm to either of us." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] It's just ... I know I am nothing but a big disappointment to both of you.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around dating and being together, with no explicit mention of sexual acts beyond kissing or caressing.

B contextual: I0

The topic contains mostly non-intimate interactions, with only one sentence (BOOK_003_5) hinting at intimacy with the mention of 'sex magic'.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses kissing and non-genital caresses, which falls under I3 intimacy code. It also explores emotional connection, making 'Physical Intimacy' and 'Emotional Connection' suitable proposed constructs.

Topic 128 — Confessing How Much You've Missed

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« i've missed most of his life already. »

« and, god, how i've missed this." »

« i've come to realize that you are the one thing in my life i don't want to miss. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I sometimes miss the peace of you and me, though." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] He missed the ball even worse than I did.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I missed you, little bro," he whispered in my ear. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'd missed my family so much, and now that we'd seemed to get the tears and heartache out of the way, we were having fun. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on emotional intimacy and longing, with keywords like 'miss', 'much', 'too', 'solemnly', 'breathlessly', and 'considering'. No explicit sexual acts are mentioned.

B contextual: I0

All sentences express missing someone or something, but none describe intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 157 — Swearing to Save Him From Himself

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« and you'll get it, i swear," [person]. »

« if [person] sees me like this, i'll die." »

« and i might be young but i guess that just makes me lucky... i do love him and whether i have your help or not, i have to save him from himself... i know [person], i know what he'll do, now that he thinks he has lost me." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Sam couldn't understand it, and that bothered him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest emotional intimacy (e.g., 'good', 'optimism', 'willing', 'enthusiasm') but no explicit sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic refer to the character Sam, with no explicit mention of any intimate or sexual acts. The dominant code is I3, indicating non-genital caress or kissing.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, fitting the I3 code.

Topic 204 — Promising to Care For Her Sister

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i'll need to finish dressing and leave a note for my sister." »

« yes, and soon you'll be my sister. »

« i'll find a way to care for your mother and your sister." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] My sister's still there with her husband, who's a copper, and their three kids.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] You have not been paying close attention to your sister's problems lately, have you?" "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Your sister mentioned in passing that you are something of a recluse." "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] You mock your sister, but you will admit that she has great talents." "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I realize that you are concerned for your sister's happiness.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] You and your sister have done so much for us.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Having an older sister is a great pain in the arse." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on non-genital intimacy, with keywords like 'sister', 'sis', 'affection', and 'permission'.

B contextual: N

All sentences in this topic refer to sisters or sisterly relationships, but none of them contain any intimacy or sexual content.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic revolves around the reconciliation and commitment of characters in a romance novel, with intimacy levels at I3, primarily consisting of kissing and non-genital caresses.

Topic 242 — Trading Forgiveness For Old Wrongs

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« not if you'll forgive him." " »

« he'll never forgive you. »

« okay, how's this — i'll forgive you for summer if you forgive me for kabir." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You must forgive him," Rico said with a laugh. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Do forgive me for not having welcomed you more fittingly."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] What will you do if society here proves unforgiving?"

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Any man delivering such a speech to the lady he had planned to marry—a lady who had waited faithfully for him—should have had the grace to appear remorseful, or at least apologetic.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around forgiveness and apology, which are non-sexual acts of intimacy.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss forgiveness, which is a form of non-genital caress (I3) as per the given critical boundary.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, which aligns with the I3 code.

Topic 305 — Confessing A Lifelong Regret

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i know that now, and i'll go to my grave regretting what i did to you.” “ »

« come on in, you'll no doubt regret it. »

« you'll regret that.’ ‘ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You are surely not intending to imply that you are beginning to regret this marriage already?’ ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I fear that my careless remarks must have been the cause of that outburst.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] At his words, a wave of regret washed over Helena. ‘

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I have been unkind to you, which I deeply regret.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Now you don't, but you wish you still did."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate emotional turmoil and regret, but no explicit sexual acts are mentioned. The closest we get is 'embarrassing' and 'upset', which fall under non-genital caress (I3).

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss regret, remorse, or apologies, which are forms of non-genital caress (I3) as they express emotional intimacy without involving physical intimacy beyond kissing or undressing.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital intimate acts, with no mention of genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

Topic 6 — Whispered Reassurance

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I4 (norm: I4) | mixed=False

« i'll make sure of it,” he whispered. »

« you'll be fine,” he whispered. “ »

« quiet, subdued, she nodded and then, “you'll be safe.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Later,” she said softly, with a sly smile.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Ian stared right back and asked slowly, clearly, enunciating every word, “Who asked you to?”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Okay,’ she said, striving for a light tone in the heavy silence. ‘

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate non-genital intimacy (whispered, said, nodded, mumbled, etc.)

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic are dialogues or descriptions that do not contain any intimate or sexual acts, thus they are classified as I0.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy and reassurance, with no explicit sexual content. The dominant intimacy code is I3, as it involves kissing and non-genital caresses.

Topic 31 — Keeping Watch While Others Sleep

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« so you'll give me the stuff to sleep?” »

« you'll wake the baby.” “ »

« you sleep and i'll stand guard.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] That's because you snored most of the way.” “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I'm sick of lying in bed night after night like an old married couple.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate a non-sexual context related to sleep and rest, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss sleep, napping, or waking up, which are non-sexual activities related to intimacy.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with kissing and non-genital caresses as the main intimacy acts.

Topic 36 — Eagerly Offering to Help

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« of course, i'll help you.' »

« then you'll let me help," frances said at once, her expression eager. " »

« sure, of course, i'll help." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And you know I'm here to help you in any way I can."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest a context of assistance and help, with no indication of sexual intimacy.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic are offering help or assistance, which falls under the category of non-genital caress (I3).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy and affection, with no explicit sexual content.

Topic 45 — Reassured Everything Will Be Fine

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« we'll be ok." " »

« nadines : you'll be ok? »

« ok, maybe a zero-tolerance one, but there's no doubt about it, you'll be great. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I'm fine," Amber replied quietly. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Your wound..." "I'm fine."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Is everything okay?" "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a consensus of I3 as the most specific applicable code, as the keywords suggest a general sense of agreement or assurance, but do not explicitly mention any sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic are checking or affirming the well-being of characters, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic discusses emotional support and reassurance, which aligns with the intimacy code I3 as it does not involve any genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

Topic 46 — Asking Someone to Trust You

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« you'll just have to trust me." »

« he'll trust you if you promise to keep me in sight." " »

« my trust that he'll bring me to safety. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The critics wanted to prove that setting goals, drawing graphs, measuring results and evaluating the performance of individuals was nothing less than taking the place of trusting the Holy Spirit to give increase.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Trust us, all we need to do to you can be done here," one of the other guys said.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't trust yourself in a hotel room alone with me?"

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Wasn't there anyone you trusted to share your joy with?" "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around trust, betrayal, and emotional intimacy, with no explicit mention of sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

The topic primarily discusses trust and distrust, with sentences containing 'trust' or 'distrust' being coded as I3. Other sentences are coded as N (non-intimacy).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with kissing and non-genital caresses as the main intimacy functions. No genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts are mentioned.

Topic 56 — Promising Never to Hurt You

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« you'll get hurt," he managed to say. " »

« you know i'll never hurt you ." »

« i'll make sure you aren't hurt." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] He says that he knows it must hurt, but that whatever will be, will be, and that nothing we say or do will resolve things.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] It's all well and good saying you avoid pain by avoiding relationships, but what about the wonderful things you're avoiding as well?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] How can you emotionally blackmail me like this?' ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I don't ever want to be that hurt again." “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I just felt hurt that you hadn't told me.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't give him the satisfaction of letting it destroy you.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You're only doing it to hurt me, aren't you?" “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I'd never, ever do anything to hurt you.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on emotional pain and distress, with no mention of physical intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss emotional or physical pain and hurt, but none of them explicitly describe any form of sexual activity, including kissing, undressing, or non-genital caress. Therefore, the most specific applicable code is I3.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-genital caresses, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 70 — Keeping Watch While She Sleeps

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« maybe she'll get some sleep." “ »

« i'll wait until she wakes up and then i'll head back up to make sure shit doesn't go down in the mc." “ »

« for her, it's early, she'll be awake." “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] An instant later she was once more sound asleep.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] They wouldn't be getting much sleep tonight, she knew.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was months before she'd been able to sleep through the night.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It couldn't have been more than a few hours for she still felt drugged with exhaustion, her eyes grainy and her head stuffed full of cotton.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She realized that he wouldn't rest until he did.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was as if she'd been awoken from a long trance.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She just hoped that hers wouldn't catch up with her before the night ended. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It had left her exhausted and vulnerable.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods except KeyBERT indicate intimacy at the level of non-genital caress or below (I3). KeyBERT's 'moaned' suggests a higher level (I6), but the consensus is I3 due to the majority vote.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic describe characters sleeping, being asleep, or not sleeping, with no mention of any intimate or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic focuses on emotional safety and caretaking, with no explicit sexual content. The intimacy code I3 is appropriate as it involves non-genital caress.

Topic 83 — Reassured About Eating Regularly

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« i've eaten every few hours. »

« of course, i've never eaten one." »

« and then you'll return late again... you won't need to do that—be late—because you've eaten." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Then I'll go hungry because I'm not eating with you.' '

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic is about eating and hunger, which is non-sexual and falls under I3.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss hunger or eating, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy and caretaking, with no explicit sexual content. The dominant intimacy code is I3, as it involves kissing and non-genital caresses.

Topic 88 — Checking Her Feverish Temperature

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« no movement, her skin temperature clammy enough to make a ball of fear lodge in his gut. " »

« now, [person], how has her temperature been? »

« the nippiness that was still molesting her limbs, she hoped, was indeed because of the low temperature and not a foretoken of her entering his residence. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Her entire body burned and her mind raced.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Every time he opened her up she felt a surge of wind invade her body and send pricks through her skin.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Chills shot up her spine and into her chest, causing her to arch her back, which made her breasts bounce just enough to command attention.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The rusted metal felt cold on the back of her thighs, and the persistent wind blew loose strands of her hair directly into the low O's of smoke she eased from the center of her dry mouth.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She seemed fidgety and hurried us along, as if the food might get cold.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Lydia and Simon became visibly pale and shock emanated from them.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] That would have heated me up instantly, I teased.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Pure, fiery heat spread along her legs all the way up to her face. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Her body coiled from the heated friction and the way he seemed to keep hitting her newly found g-spot.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A cold bit of what felt like metal touched her chest.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest a buildup of physical intimacy and emotional tension, with words like 'heat', 'warm', 'warming', 'melted', 'shivered', etc. However, none of the keywords explicitly mention genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts, thus the most specific applicable code is I3.

B contextual: I3

Most sentences describe physical sensations and reactions, with a few hinting at sexual activity but not explicitly stating it. The dominant code is I3, as these sentences primarily describe non-genital caresses and intimate reactions.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-genital caresses, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 96 — Confessing Long-Standing Worry

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« i've been worried about you, [person]. »

« i've worried about you since i was twelve. »

« i've been worried about you." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You grew up worrying about having your basic needs met.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate a focus on emotional states of worry, concern, and fear, but do not explicitly mention any intimate acts, including kissing, undressing, or non-genital caress. Therefore, the consensus code is I3.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss worry, concern, or care, which are forms of emotional intimacy but do not describe any physical intimacy acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-genital caresses, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 119 — Offering to Keep Her Safe

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« come on, i'll protect you.” »

« you'll protect me?” “ »

« i can protect you from crystal, but you'll have to let me. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Viggo won't feel threatened, and you'll be okay.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I just wanted to check you got there safely.’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I didn't think security would leave you standing out here like this.’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] At least in LA you'd both have protection; you know my security guys are some of the best in the business.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate a focus on protection and safety, with no explicit mention of genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts. The most specific applicable code is I3.

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 (non-genital caress) as the sentences primarily discuss protection, safety, and being safe, which are forms of non-genital intimacy.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy and affection, with no explicit sexual content.

Topic 161 — Reassuring Squeeze on The Shoulder

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« he'd stick to a reassuring squeeze of noah's shoulder and hope that was calming enough. »

« we'll be there, noah. »

« do you think he'll adopt noah ?” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was sheer stubbornness that kept him going, Gideon decided, thankful that he'd had the good fortune to be sired by one of the most stubborn old goats he'd ever encountered.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Not surprising, Gideon supposed, since the moon was nearly full and his more animalistic tendencies were on a very short, increasingly weak tether.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] These beings were no more human than he, Gideon knew.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When God forged a new covenant with Noah after the flood, for example, he included animals.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He rather appealed to God's ideal expressed in Genesis 2.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When God raised up Israel to be his vehicle for restoring the world, he commissioned them to exercise loving dominion over the land he was giving them and over the animals that inhabited it.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It symbolized that these people were set apart for God and that if anyone broke covenant with God they'd be cut off from the people (Genesis 17:14).

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] They thought the Messiah would lead Israel to victory over their Roman oppressors and would reestablish Israel as a sovereign nation under God.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] First fruits” refers to fruit that ripened and was picked before the rest of the harvest and was then consecrated to God (Exodus 23:19).

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

The keywords 'scissoring' and 'undressing' (inferred from 'tugged') suggest non-genital caress (I3) as the most specific applicable code. Other keywords like 'reassuring', 'calming', and 'emotions' do not indicate sexual intimacy.

B contextual: I3

Only one sentence (B00K_007_3) describes a non-genital caress (bumping into someone), which is classified as I3. The rest of the sentences do not contain any intimacy functions.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with kissing and non-genital caresses as the main forms of intimacy.

Topic 172 — Reporting to The Security Officer

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« you'll also report this to your regional security officer, yes?” »

« i'll have an armed officer [person] the room with you at all times, and i'll watch through the glass.” “ »

« i've called the police, i'll have you know." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Then I told the police exactly what he told me to say." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Do you think being worried over another officer's absence justifies a breach in regulations?"

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I give an order, and because I'm your superior officer, you are supposed to obey it." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic is related to law enforcement activities, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: N

All sentences in this topic discuss police, cops, or officers, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses emotional intimacy and reassurance, with no mention of sexual acts beyond kissing and caressing.

Topic 173 — Waiting For Him to Wake

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« it's after him so you'll just have to wait until he wakes up to get your answer." »

« it'll put him to sleep." »

« yeah, i guess i'll have to wait and see when he wakes up. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Could he count on not waking him when he lifted him from that warm bed?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He looked fresh, rejuvenated, as though their little fling from last night hadn't permanently affected his energy.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He used to jog the property's perimeter every morning, before breakfast.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He's sleeping for longer periods of time at night now," Jacob said. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on sleep and bedtime activities, with no explicit mention of sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic describe sleep or sleep-related activities, which fall under the intimacy function of I3 (kissing/undressing/non-genital caress).

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses kissing and non-genital caresses, which fall under the I3 intimacy code. It also touches upon emotional safety and reassurance, fitting the 4.6 taxonomy.

Topic 175 — Gentleman Offers Steadying Support

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« the occurrences of the day were too full of interest to leave elizabeth much attention for any of these new friends; and she could do nothing but think, and think with wonder, of mr. [person]'s civility, and, above all, of his wishing her to be acquainted with his sister. »

« mr. [person] placed his hand on [person]'s shoulder for support as mr. [person] barely walked out the front door. »

« yes, but when i fell ill, it was apparent that i could not travel all the way to calais, so mr. [person] took me to the house of a friend of his: mr. [person]." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] On his way to see Mistress Gwyllain to explain your...ah, unexplained arrival."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Take his offering," Gwyllain demanded. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Shit," grunted Sheridan, apparently immune to Owen's considerable charms. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sheridan was stil pale and anxious looking.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest emotional intimacy (e.g., 'affection', 'passionate', 'kindly', 'warming') but no explicit sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic describe situations leading up to or related to intimacy, but do not explicitly describe genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with a secondary focus on social circles. The intimacy code I3 is appropriate as it involves kissing, undressing, and non-genital caress, but no genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

Topic 190 — Offering to Get Someone Cleaned Up

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« i'll get cleaned up here as soon as i can. »

« i'll pay to have it cleaned.” “ »

« i'll get her cleaned up," said a handsome groom, taking her arm. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Just sit there for a minute, Solange, while I clean you up.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I will clean up the battlefield while you drink plenty of fluids.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I know you would prefer to burn it yourselves out of respect, but my way will be faster, cleaner and will ensure no parasites escape.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] He was grateful for the rich dirt floor.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] May I know why you gave Mr. Thesiger the brush off just now?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't you see that if you go ahead with this annulment, if you air the Roxtons' dirty laundry in public, I will be utterly, utterly ruined.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] A lackey came out from behind the butler with pan and brush and quickly set to sweeping up the shards of broken glass from Deb's smashed wine glass.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Do try your very best not to make a mess of things."

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest actions related to cleaning and tidying up, which are non-sexual and non-intimate acts. None of the lists indicate any sexual or genital activity, so the consensus code is I3.

B contextual: I3

All sentences with a code (except for BOOK_002_1, BOOK_002_2, BOOK_002_3, and BOOK_003_1) refer to cleaning or wiping, which falls under the I3 category. The dominant code is I3 with a proportion of approximately 84.62%.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with a focus on non-genital physical affection, such as kissing and caressing, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 193 — Nurse Arranged After Hospital Release

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« and you'll both stay here, at caleb's?" " »

« i'll arrange for a nurse to come to the house when they release caleb. »

« twenty-three caleb y ou ignore me, and i'll ignore you . »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Kayla points to me, like she can't figure out who Gavin's talking about.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] In any case, I'm going to need to return myself to help out because Ramsey will be busy with Chloe and the baby," he continued. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] After numerous brushes with the law and butting heads with the parents of a young lady who didn't want him to be a part of their daughter's life, Dillon had convinced Bane to get his life together.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] This was September, and Chloe was due to deliver in November, which meant Callum would be leaving Denver a few months after that.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Dillon and Ramsey did an awesome job and I know for sure we were a handful at times, some of us more than others."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] From what Callum had heard, Bane had been only eight when his parents had been killed.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists contain words related to communication and interaction (e.g., 'said', 'texting', 'arrange', 'stares', 'snaps', 'embarrassment'), but none of them explicitly mention any sexual acts beyond I3 level.

B contextual: I0

None of the sentences in this topic describe any form of intimacy, including kissing, undressing, or non-genital caress.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with kissing and non-genital caresses as the main intimacy functions.

Topic 224 — Encouraging Words From An Angel

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« you've got this, angel, take it to the house.” »

« i'll come back, angel. »

« because i'm thinking i'll have a hard time finding another angel to handle it.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I most certainly do think the great evil knows about Gabriel.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] the evil one said as his life essence swept by him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I have complete faith in Val and Gabriel.” ”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Tell me what kind of evil,” Gabriel asked.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] By the gods,” Val hissed as he and Gabriel came upon the creature. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Once, as I stood on the cliffs trying to understand the power I held, trying to comprehend why I would ever want to send my voice a thousand miles away on the wind, he'd told me that I looked like an angel blessed by the Almighty.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I took a pleasant interlude of imagining myself nibbling on Evangeline's ass.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] With Evangeline beneath me I now knew what I'd felt wasn't even close.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-sexual intimacy (e.g., 'angel', 'wings', 'precious', 'behavior').

B contextual: I0

All sentences except BOOK_003_5 and BOOK_003_6 do not contain any intimacy or sexual content.

BOOK_003_5 and BOOK_003_6 contain non-genital caress, thus classified as I3.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy, reassurance, and caretaking, with no explicit sexual content. The dominant intimacy code is I3, as it involves kissing and non-genital caresses.

Topic 240 — Unsure How to Offer Comfort

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« oh my god, sean! »

« sean pursed his lips, unsure he was equal to the task of comforting [person]. »

« sean held out his hand and added; “now if you'll excuse me i have a beautiful woman waiting to have breakfast with me.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Liam could barely contain his excitement. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Oh,” I said, thinking fast, watching as Seth started to show Liam how to use another nearby machine, while the Tiffanys and Brittanys gathered round, looking more worshipful than ever.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You need to stop nipping at him and face the fact that when Shon goes under, he's off limits, one breath away from being a hostile at our backs.” “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate a state of intimacy or anticipation of intimacy (e.g., 'willing', 'shivered', 'stares', 'distracted'), but no explicit sexual acts are mentioned.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic describe conversations or actions that are non-sexual in nature, with no mention of any sexual acts. The most specific applicable code is I3, which covers kissing, undressing, and non-genital caresses.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with a secondary focus on ongoing courtship and everyday relational bonding. The intimacy code I3 is appropriate as it involves kissing, undressing, and non-genital caress, but no genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

Topic 247 — Promising You Will Not Be Alone

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« if we make it through this alone, we'll just be better at being alone.” »

« you'll never be alone. »

« before you say no, i want you to know i'll be alone mostly. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Luc says Lena is a basket case and is alone at the house.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] If I went out alone, it seemed I felt surrounded by people who couldn't speak to me.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I promise you, you will never be alone again so long as I live.”

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I don't like you being out there in a hotel by yourself.” “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I've pictured this so many times in my mind, I don't want to wake up and find I'm alone again.” “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

None of the keywords in any of the lists suggest any genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts. The most specific applicable code is I3, as the keywords revolve around solitude, preference, and personal choices, which could imply intimacy but not sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss solitude, loneliness, or being alone, with no mention of any intimate or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic discusses emotional support and reassurance, which aligns with the intimacy code I3 as it does not involve any genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

Topic 273 — Mentor Gives Firm Instructions

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

- « i've known you since you did your training here, [person],' tom said sternly. ' »
- « i've asked allen to keep an eye on him during the day while [person] is otherwise engaged. »
- « charlotte, if it's okay with you, we'll go back to my place after we've bought you a phone. »

Novel sentences

- [BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] For Luke's sake, she hoped this apparent twosome meant Felicia was coming to her senses.
- [BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] That being so, I found it extremely gratifying to witness Felicia being sent on her way after being rather heatedly reminded that any free time Marcus has available will be spent with you." "
- [BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I thought I saw Felicia yesterday," she mentioned casually. "
- [BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We barely know each other and if that isn't enough, there's Felicia to consider." "
- [BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Brenda asked me to take you around the house before she meets with you.
- [BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I know what will get your mind off of Nikki." "
- [BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Shit, the first time I met Kiara, she thought I was an asshole." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around conversations and interactions between characters (Charlotte, Amelia, lady, madam, ma), but there's no explicit mention of sexual acts, only insensitivity, upset, and apology, which suggest non-sexual intimacy.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss relationships, jealousy, or interactions between characters, but none explicitly describe any form of intimacy, let alone sexual acts. The most specific applicable code is I3, as there are no mentions of kissing, undressing, or non-genital caresses.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with a focus on physical affection that does not involve genital or oral contact.

Topic 277 — Promising to Handle The Lawyer

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

- « i'll talk to the lawyer tomorrow. »
- « we'll find a good lawyer to help. »
- « you can count on me to deal with the legal trouble they'll cause." »

Novel sentences

- [BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] You'd think a sharp lawyer like you would know that.
- [BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Mediation has never come easily for me and I need all the help I can get.
- [BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Somebody taking the law and using it for his own ends?
- [BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The law is a funny thing," Claudia said. "
- [BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Such a lot of fuss over a piece of real estate that was destined by federal law to go unclaimed by anyone.
- [BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's important to establish legal boundaries of ownership, especially when you're talking about gems and precious metals.
- [BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The company property is fenced off, of course.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists contain words related to legal or professional contexts (e.g., lawyer, official, process), but none of them explicitly mention any intimate or sexual acts. The most specific applicable code is I3, as there are no indications of kissing, undressing, or non-genital caress.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss legal professions, laws, or law enforcement, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with kissing and non-genital caresses as the main intimacy acts.

Topic 289 — Quick Peck on The Forehead

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« mikey, i'll be back soon, i promise," nate said, placing a quick peck on his forehead. " »

« nate arched an eyebrow, gesturing back toward the parking lot. " »

« nate looked at the older asian man gesturing wildly to them, then at the array of paints. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Perhaps we are becoming too jaded in our tastes, Nate?

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Dominic frowned, knowing that to demur a second time would definitely incur Nate's curiosity. '

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I believe him to be behind the attack on Nathaniel.'

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate non-genital intimacy (gesturing, glint, glimpse, etc.)

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic are non-intimate, focusing on dialogue and character reactions.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy, with no explicit sexual content mentioned. The dominant context is emotional safety and reassurance, which aligns with the I3 code.

Topic 299 — Pledging to Have Your Back

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« before she's completely out i ask, "[person], you know i've always got your back, right?" »

« but i've seen you, seen who you are, watched you handle uncle charlie. »

« i've got a little time before charlie finishes my bike. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I understand you were the last one to see Charlie alive." "

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] More likely Scott messed with the wrong guy's wife.' '

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Kevin was worried that Scott's death was somehow related to Todd's return to Birmingham.'

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Part of him was probably glad Scott was dead.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] They all left for college with big dreams, except Scott and Kevin,' she said sadly. '

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-genital intimacy (e.g., 'handle', 'promises', 'exquisite', 'distraction') but do not indicate any genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss characters' names, thoughts, or actions, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts. The only exception is 'Afterwards, Charlie cried.', which suggests emotional intimacy but does not meet the criteria for I3.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with a secondary focus on friends and social circles. The intimacy code I3 is appropriate as it involves kissing, undressing, and non-genital caress, but no genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

Topic 307 — Hauling Someone Up The Stairs

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« [person] would hate it if she took a rake like [person] to her bed, and she would so love to rub it in joshua's face and prove his threats could not restrain her. " »

« his thoughts threatened to return to those awful times once again, but thankfully, ash and [person] emerged from the thicket. »

« getting ash up the stairs and into the bedroom was a lot harder than it had been last night, mostly because ash was pissed off and conscious instead of in la-la land. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You and Ashlynn are gonna have to keep him on the straight and narrow."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He stopped to pat Ashlynn and congratulate her on a large belch. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] But as he was approaching Clarksburg, Ashlynn chose that moment to be cranky.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Henry's crankiness had returned, and even sweet Ashlynn was wailing by now.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sniffing in disdain, Johnny pushed Ashlynn's stroler over to Grissom. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists contain words related to physical struggle, tension, and breathlessness (e.g., 'heaved', 'wincing', 'struggled', 'panting'), which are often associated with intimate, non-genital caresses in romance novels.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic refer to a character named Ash or Ashlynn, with no mention of any intimate or sexual acts beyond I3 level.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around kissing and non-genital caresses, which aligns with the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 340 — Patience Tested Through Small Trials

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« for two years he had observed the christmas elf, but he never imagined touching her. »

« from the moment that she started working at her current job, she had never clicked with frank. »

« her patience throughout the meal with the girls never wavered, not with spilled drinks, sloppy faces and an occasional cry for attention. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She would never respond to such as he was.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He would never give her cause to regret it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She had obviously never been in mortal danger, either.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Up until now, she'd never met anyone who made her ache for the things that were denied her.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She never thought of herself as particularly brave.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She'd never known anything like the power and hunger of his kiss.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate that the topic revolves around emotional and occasional contact, but not explicitly genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic discuss characters never having experienced intimacy (kissing or more) or never having been in certain situations, but none explicitly mention genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with kissing and non-genital caresses as the main intimacy acts.

Topic 355 — Blanket Draped Over Someone

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« bos went over to it and draped it over dainy as a blanket. »

« still, he struggled not to groan as she got him to a sitting position, resting his back against her front with the blanket draped across his lap. »

« [person] plucked at the soft down comforter draped over the bed. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The blanket was tucked around her as if pressed carefully there by someone else.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Once they had it blown up, he pulled the blanket out and spread it over the mattress before they sat down on it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Waiting for him to come out of the bathroom she pulled the light blanket over herself more to cover her bare legs than because she was cold.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She sat up, groggy from sleep, the blanket falling to her waist. '

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He had laid his coat down on one side and she knew it was there for a buffer between her skin and the velour-covered plastic of the mattress.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She snuggled down onto his coat pretending to herself that the scent of him was not having an impact on her emotions or physical comfort.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] His jacket, she realised, was still on the ground from where he had folded it to put under her head. '

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He shook out the comforter and sailed it over the top sheet, straightening it when it settled.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] The insulation on the wire had been nibbled. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She clutched the blanket around her shoulders closed, anxiety creeping up on her.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Val shifted his attention to Cord, who knelt beside the sofa, peeling the layers of blanket off the prone body. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] But instead of an empty seat, he saw a bundle under a blanket.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists describe non-genital intimate acts such as being wrapped in blankets, draped, and tucked in, which fall under the I3 category.

B contextual: I3

All sentences describe non-genital intimacy acts or references to blankets and comfort, except for BOOK_005_4 which describes a genital act.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around affectionate and emotional aspects of intimacy, with no explicit sexual content.

Topic 356 — Admitting Exhaustion After A Long Day

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« i am kind of tired, but you've done enough. »

« i've been riding most of the day, i'm tired." " »

« i've rested more than i ever expected to rest in the whole of my lifetime during the past six weeks," he said, "and i'm feeling perfectly fresh. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I was tired and cold and done with feeling under siege for the day. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I was exhausted, too, but there was much yet to do.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Aren't you getting just a little tired of—" "I wasn't kidding about the way it gets dark out here.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You must be exhausted with all of your commitments at the moment?' '

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'm just tired, and I've got a big week.' '

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I was exhausted at just the idea of it. '

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I was tired from a big week, my nervous energy had transformed into lethargy, and I was still drunkish.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate a focus on tiredness, exhaustion, and fatigue, which are not related to intimacy or sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

All sentences in this topic discuss feelings of exhaustion or tiredness, with no mention of intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional intimacy and caretaking, with no explicit sexual content. The dominant intimacy code is I3, as it involves kissing and non-genital caress.

Topic 358 — Reassuring Squeeze of The Hand

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I6 (norm: I6) | mixed=True

« she took bronte's hand and gave it a reassuring squeeze. " »

« ted reached for caroline's hands and smiled at her reassuring squeeze. " »

« they'll ask," he murmured, and gave her waist a reassuring squeeze. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] She wrapped her fingers around the door handle. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Her fingers tightened around the receiver. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] But my parents—" "Are fine," he interrupted, groaning when she curved her fingers as far as she could around his hardening shaft. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Bea groaned then lifted her right hand to her brow. '

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Beverley reached out and squeezed my hand. '

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He purred, rubbing his thumb over my hand. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Reid sighed, running his hands over my arms. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate non-genital caress (I3) as the intimacy function.

B contextual: I6

The dominant code is I6 as it represents the most explicit and specific sexual act mentioned in the topic.

C adjudicate: I6 action=KEEP

The topic contains explicit descriptions of genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts, making it a clear I6 topic.

Topic 372 — Told to Keep Up Strength

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« you'll need to keep up your strength if you're going to wrestle with that computer.” »

« you'll need your strength, cassia. »

« you'll need your strength. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] No, he was not yet strong enough to embark on whatever mission this was that he'd assigned himself.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] With hard work and perseverance, I made myself the man you see before you.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Whoever is on the other side of this door is uncommonly strong.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] But that was another thing about the violently deranged: they could have the strength of ten men.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You're generally made of much sturdier stuff than that,” Hurst was saying. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Even in the lower ranks, the invisible masses, you needed the D i p l o m a c y | 17 perfect background to push ahead.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Yet also, being a part of it, he felt expansive, strong. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A slim woman's hand, but definitely strong and able.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists indicate non-genital intimacy (e.g., 'crushed', 'feeding', 'reflection', 'emotions').

B contextual: I3

The dominant code is I3 as the majority of sentences discuss strength, kissing/undressing/non-genital caress, which is the most specific applicable code in this context.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around emotional safety, reassurance, and caretaking, with no mention of explicit sexual acts. The dominant intimacy code is I3, as it involves kissing and non-genital caresses.

Topic 82 — Touch Her and Your Family Suffers

Old taxonomy: 7.2 — Violence, Threats & Non-Sexual Coercion

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« that you'll die if i didn't touch you? »

« one touch and you'll never know lonely again . »

« oh, i'll touch her alright and you both will do as i say or your family will suffer. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I'm careful to avoid her touch for fear it will set me ablaze.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You ain't s'posed to touch 'em, and you know it.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I'm ready to touch that fancy quilt now.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] My kind and gentle Papa won't mind a bit.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] And tell those other girls that if they don't keep their distance, I will scratch their faces.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I wish I could say it was touching and moving, but I hate funerals.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I6

The keywords in all categories, except for POS, suggest explicit sexual acts (suck, cock, dick, pussy). The POS category's 'hurt' and 'dislike' could imply discomfort, but the overall context leans towards I6.

B contextual: I3

All sentences in this topic refer to touching or avoiding touch, but none of them describe genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses romantic and affectionate moments, with a focus on kissing and non-genital caresses, fitting the I3 intimacy code.

Topic 199 — Shoved to His Knees

Old taxonomy: 7.4 — Unwanted or Coercive Sexual Contact

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« which must've totally gotten jacob's rocks off, given the way he shoved me to my knees and whipped his cock out in no time flat. »

« i'll have the same,” [person]. “ »

« logan asked, “do you really think you'll find a candidate at consuela's party?” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It wouldn't be the first place he'd look, but Logan didn't have a reason to lie to him either. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Two nights ago, Jacob had been shot at just because he came too close.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Did Xavier find out anything about him?” “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Xavier had come, and he stood with Lindsay, talking and laughing with her.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Sounds like a real nice guy,” Xavier said. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Give the damn thing back to Xavier and tell him to keep it out of Shiftertown.”

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Even Kelsey’s annoyance with him for talking to Chloe about their plans for a family seemed particularly couple-like.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Kelsey was the only one with whom he’d been less than honest and that had clearly been a necessary evil. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All methods indicate intimacy at the level of non-genital caress (I3) as the keywords do not suggest any genital, oral, or penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

None of the sentences in this topic contain any form of intimacy or sexual activity, thus all are classified as I0.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily discusses non-genital intimate acts, aligning with the I3 code.

Topic 345 — Older Man Trading Shelter For Sex

Old taxonomy: 7.4 — Unwanted or Coercive Sexual Contact

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=False

« [person] says and then adds, “right. »

« mom didn’t talk to me about it, but i’m pretty sure uncle tony would’ve rather handled it a different way, if you know what i mean.” “ »

« [person] knew that nothing was something, but he had no claims on the boy; in fact, after hearing about jorge’s initiation into sex, it occurred to him that he might be just another older man trading off offers of shelter or a meal or booze in exchange for being fucked senseless. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Steve would laugh and that was all that mattered.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Instead of a malfeasant, it was Steve with a loaded pizza and a six-pack of beer—my dream man.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Steve’s job was to close Stan McClousky’s operation and get his drugs off the street.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] If Sinestro had been a member of the Soprano Mafia family, he would have been whacked a long time ago.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Although I still want to know how Tony Stark fits those in-line roller skates inside his Iron Man boots, especially when the armor’s folded up and tucked away in his briefcase, which when you think about it is the source of yet another paradox, because even if you assume some ability to condense the volume of the armor into such a containment, how do you deal with the integral mass?

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The Villain in the Iron Mask: Dr. Doom 1.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He contacted the rulers of the antimatter universe, the Weaponers of Qward, and made a deal to help them in their attempt to conquer the matter universe.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The Villain in the Iron Mask: Dr. Doom Fantastic Four Comics #1–100 (and other issues).

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists suggest non-sexual intimacy or interaction, with words like 'winked', 'flinched', 'straightened', 'exchange', 'meal', and 'porch'. No keywords indicate genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts.

B contextual: I0

None of the sentences in this topic explicitly describe intimacy or sexual acts.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic discusses unwanted sexual contact and coercion, which aligns with the intimacy code I3 and the given taxonomy.

Topic 61 — Planning to Exchange Rings

Old taxonomy: 8.3a — Commitment Symbols & Love Tokens

New code: I3 (norm: I3) | mixed=True

« in a few days, i’ll go to the stone. »

« next time we’ll put a ring on him.” »

« we’ll take care of the rings tomorrow.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Just have to close it up again, until it looks like a ring, and we’ll be fine.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Once they’re gone, Shanley pricks Marie’s finger with a lancet. ”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] It’s not quite a perfect C-shape any longer, but more like one of those spoon bracelets that come in and out of fashion--the ends are drawing together, tightening, and that’s a good thing, right?

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He took the ring out of the box and, with Damon’s help, they placed it on her finger.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I might even be persuaded to wear my jewellery for you.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Damon and I agreed that you own our hearts so we thought this ring would be perfect for our union.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I’m going to buy you some jewellery to wear in the pretty hole.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He opened the lid and presented Rachel with a three karat heart-shaped ruby, surrounded by diamonds. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Remember that place in town where the guy makes the silver jewellery?” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The anal jewellery had been a little harder for her to get used to.

Model reasonings

A lexical: I3

All keyword lists focus on jewelry, specifically rings, with no mention of any intimate acts beyond kissing or caressing, which falls under I3.

B contextual: I3

The topic primarily discusses non-genital caresses (I3) such as kissing, touching, and wearing jewelry. There are a couple of sentences that mention anal jewelry, which falls under genital/oral/penetrative sexual acts (I6). However, the majority of the topic focuses on non-sexual intimacy.

C adjudicate: I3 action=KEEP

The topic primarily revolves around non-genital intimate acts such as kissing and caressing, which fall under the I3 category.

H2 — HEA / final relational payoff

10 topics with non-null hea_code.

Topic 29 — Confessing Long-Held Love

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_1 (norm: H2_1) | mixed=False

« i love you with everything i am, everything i've been, and everything i hope to be .” “ »
« tell her i've always loved her. »
« i've always been in love with you.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I love you, too, sweetheart.”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Oh, child, I love you, too.”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You just say ‘I love you.’”

Model reasonings

A lexical: H2

B contextual: H2_1

C adjudicate: HEA action=The couple finally admitted their feelings for each other and decided to give their relationship another chance.

Topic 62 — Admitting You've Been Stupid

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_1 (norm: H2_1) | mixed=True

« marnie, i've been stupid. »
« about what an asshole i've been?” “ »
« you've done something dumb, but you'll get away with it this time. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Dear Reader, Sometimes teenagers do foolish things.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'm the one who was stupid enough not to bring one.” “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He's really ... I don't know ...” I forced myself not to supply the word dumb . “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He was too proud of himself to detect the sarcasm in my words. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: H2

All sentences express stupidity or foolishness, but none contain a confession, apology, forgiveness, or 'I missed you', hence no HEA and no final relational payoff.

C adjudicate: 4.5 action=Confession

Topic 65 — Declaring A True Partnership

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_2 (norm: H2_2) | mixed=True

« what we've been though together, the way we've been there for each other ... we have a true partnership, a true love, and if that sounds stupid and romantic, then i don't care.” »
« we've been together forever, and what if it takes us years?” »
« i'll do that,” he said softly, “we've got a date.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] We have often been together in public.” “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] This is the only way you can get a date?
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Want to believe we can really have something together.”
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] And if we do go out, then I have to deal with all the men swarming around wanting a taste of your sex magic! ”
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Or was it just an accident that we dated and he found the schema?”
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] It has not been that long since we last saw each other.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] We have walked this world together for quite some time.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=end] This is something with pure intentions, open emotions, and a reciprocation that will never cause harm to either of us.” “
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] It's just ... I know I am nothing but a big disappointment to both of you.

Model reasonings

A lexical: H2

The word 'together' from the Main list and 'engaged' from KeyBERT suggest a committed relationship, while 'longest' from POS and 'officially' from MMR indicate a long-term or serious relationship, all pointing towards a HEA.

B contextual: H2_1

The dominant code (H2_1) and the final position (0.96) in the narrative tertile indicate a HEA. The main couple's mutuality and future orientation are evident throughout the narrative.

C adjudicate: 4.5 action=Confession

Topic 128 — Confessing How Much You've Missed

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_2 (norm: H2_2) | mixed=True

« i've missed most of his life already. »

« and, god, how i've missed this." »

« i've come to realize that you are the one thing in my life i don't want to miss. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I sometimes miss the peace of you and me, though." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] He missed the ball even worse than I did.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I missed you, little bro," he whispered in my ear. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'd missed my family so much, and now that we'd seemed to get the tears and heartache out of the way, we were having fun. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: H2

The overall topic of 'miss' and its related words strongly indicates a romantic or emotional connection, with a clear HEA (Happily Ever After) potential.

B contextual: H2_1

C adjudicate: HEA action=The couple finally admitted their feelings for each other and decided to give their relationship another chance.

Topic 157 — Swearing to Save Him From Himself

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_0 (norm: H2_0) | mixed=True

« and you'll get it, i swear," [person]. »

« if [person] sees me like this, i'll die." »

« and i might be young but i guess that just makes me lucky... i do love him and whether i have your help or not, i have to save him from himself... i know [person], i know what he'll do, now that he thinks he has lost me." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Sam couldn't understand it, and that bothered him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: H2_1

C adjudicate: HEA action=The couple finally admitted their feelings for each other and decided to give their relationship another chance.

Topic 204 — Promising to Care For Her Sister

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_7 (norm: H2_7) | mixed=False

« i'll need to finish dressing and leave a note for my sister." »

« yes, and soon you'll be my sister. »

« i'll find a way to care for your mother and your sister." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] My sister's still there with her husband, who's a copper, and their three kids.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] You have not been paying close attention to your sister's problems lately, have you?" "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Your sister mentioned in passing that you are something of a recluse." "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] You mock your sister, but you will admit that she has great talents." "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I realize that you are concerned for your sister's happiness.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] You and your sister have done so much for us.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Having an older sister is a great pain in the arse." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: 204

The main keywords 'sister', 'sisters', 'your', 'my', 'little', 'sis', 'sisterly', 'is', 'says' strongly indicate a familial relationship between the characters, which is a common trope in romance. The KeyBERT keywords 'asks', 'assume', 'willing', 'uh', 'hi', 'speaking' suggest a conversation or interaction between the characters. The POS and MMR keywords also support this, with words like 'affection', 'permission', 'expect' indicating a romantic or intimate context. Therefore, the consensus H2 code for this topic is 204, which represents 'Siblings to Lovers'.

B contextual: H3

The topic primarily revolves around sisters and their relationships, with no H2* codes present. The dominant code, H3, indicates a focus on external events and other people's actions. The main couple is not the romantic pair, and the mutuality, future orientation, and finality are low due to the lack of romantic development.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 242 — Trading Forgiveness For Old Wrongs

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_5 (norm: H2_5) | mixed=False

« not if you'll forgive him.” “ »
« he'll never forgive you. »
« okay, how's this — i'll forgive you for summer if you forgive me for kabir.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You must forgive him,” Rico said with a laugh. “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Do forgive me for not having welcomed you more fittingly.”
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] What will you do if society here proves unforgiving?”
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Any man delivering such a speech to the lady he had planned to marry—a lady who had waited faithfully for him—should have had the grace to appear remorseful, or at least apologetic.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: H2

Forgiveness and confession are key elements in resolving conflicts and achieving a happy ending (HEA) in romance topics.

C adjudicate: 4.5.1 action=Pass

Topic 305 — Confessing A Lifelong Regret

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: H2_5 (norm: H2_5) | mixed=False

« i know that now, and i'll go to my grave regretting what i did to you.” “ »
« come on in, you'll no doubt regret it. »
« you'll regret that.’ ‘ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You are surely not intending to imply that you are beginning to regret this marriage already?’ ‘
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I fear that my careless remarks must have been the cause of that outburst.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] At his words, a wave of regret washed over Helena. ‘
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I have been unkind to you, which I deeply regret.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Now you don't, but you wish you still did."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: H2_305

```
{'position': {'begin': 3, 'middle': 5, 'end': 2}, 'finality_patterns': {'begin': ['There were no regrets.', 'I would rather this belt cut into me forever; never know the love of a man, than to take that risk.'], 'middle': ['Regret surged.', 'Cringing, he regretted the admission.', 'You'll never regret it, I promise.', 'Now you don't, but you wish you still did.'], 'end': ['Regret for her actions consumed her.', 'You're going to regret this, Father.', 'Have I done what I said I'd never do?']}}
```

C adjudicate: 4.5.1 action=Apology

Topic 167 — Planning A Wedding Reception

Old taxonomy: 5.3a — Romantic Social Rituals & Public Couple Recognition

New code: H2_4 (norm: H2_4) | mixed=False

« it's my dream job, but instead of shooting brides, i'll be shooting naked women. »
« we'll get married next summer in the church in maine that my mother would take me to every sunday. »
« the ‘ceremony’ in boorowa might just be signing a few papers, but carley’s planned a wedding reception they'll never forget.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] There'll be plenty to talk about, anyway, after the wedding today .” “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Most of you seem to have caught wind of the DeWitt wedding.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Madison and I are getting married after church services.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] If the bride and groom would join hands and face each other, we'll proceed in joining you together in holy matrimony .”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] And a girl shouldn't be so rushed and put on the spot on her wedding day.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] H er wedding day dawned bright and crisp.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Just because it was her wedding day didn't mean she should start thinking about sexy things like her wedding night .

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Strange to get married and not even know who was on the guest list .

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: H2_*_WEDDING

The text primarily focuses on the wedding day and preparations, with no significant conflicts or ruptures to resolve. The finality is low as the story is still in progress.

C adjudicate: HEA action=The couple exchanged their vows and were pronounced husband and wife, sealing their love with a passionate kiss.

Topic 61 — Planning to Exchange Rings

Old taxonomy: 8.3a — Commitment Symbols & Love Tokens

New code: H2_6 (norm: H2_6) | mixed=True

« in a few days, i'll go to the stone. »

« next time we'll put a ring on him." »

« we'll take care of the rings tomorrow." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Just have to close it up again, until it looks like a ring, and we'll be fine.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Once they're gone, Shanley pricks Marie's finger with a lancet. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] It's not quite a perfect C-shape any longer, but more like one of those spoon bracelets that come in and out of fashion--the ends are drawing together, tightening, and that's a good thing, right?

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He took the ring out of the box and, with Damon's help, they placed it on her finger.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I might even be persuaded to wear my jewellery for you."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Damon and I agreed that you own our hearts so we thought this ring would be perfect for our union."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm going to buy you some jewellery to wear in the pretty hole."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He opened the lid and presented Rachel with a three karat heart-shaped ruby, surrounded by diamonds. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Remember that place in town where the guy makes the silver jewellery?" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The anal jewellery had been a little harder for her to get used to.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: H2_*

C adjudicate: H2_1

H3 — Security / material vs display

80 topics with non-null security_code.

Topic 18 — Ordering A Gown For Her

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: S13 (norm: S13) | mixed=False

« he'll make sure you have a dress worthy of you.” »
« i'll order a gown for you and have it sent to the house.” “ »
« we'll have to borrow their clothes.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I am not some maid who needs these kinds of clothes.” “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I did not mean to hurt your feelings about your attention to the womanly details of dress and appearance and wished to compensate you for the loss of the gown you've been wearing to work with Wilfrid.”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Here, who you are matters more than what you wear.”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Mayhap if you were clothed when you attempted it, Edmee might have accepted it?” “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Her gown should be clean and her hair always groomed and under a veil. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] So she'd have to go out in a damn sports bra and bike pants.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Then put your pants on so I don't have to wonder what that is hanging between your legs.”
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Add the crooked smile, the long, lean body in jeans and flannel, and a woman might be tempted to hang a SOLD!
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] She wore fuzzy purple socks, black flannel pants, and a hot pink sweatshirt that announced: T.G.I.F. THANK GOD I'M FEMALE.

Model reasonings

A lexical: {'emotional': 0.35, 'material': 0.7, 'status': 0.5}

The keywords and their POS and MMR scores suggest that the primary focus is on the material aspect of clothing, with emotional and status aspects also playing significant roles.

B contextual: CELL_D

The dominant code is 'CELL_D' (emotional), as most sentences discuss feelings, self-worth, or personal values related to clothing.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 77 — Haircut and Grooming Offered

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'll send [person] in to help you finish dressing and repair your hair. »
« it'll be good for the librarian to take down her hair and have some fun for a change. »
« iffen you want a haircut and shave, megan'll do that for an extra two bits. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] While he liked them both, the longer hair was more erotic.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Nic was simply one of those guys who had to shave in the evening before going out on a date.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] The way he brushed his hair back and the single lock that flopped forward.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Her eyes were light brown, and while her hair was darker than Katie's, it wasn't as dark as Brenna's, even without the blond streaks she painted in every couple of months.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Katie was mostly Irish with pale skin and reddish-brown hair.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Francesca had the thick, dark hair from the Marcelli side of the family, but had also inherited hazel eyes and a tall, thin body from the O'Sheas.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Tiny blonde hair still covered one hand while the other was smooth.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] One was light-haired, while the other was dark like Dyne.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] My hair was as short as yours when I was sent here.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The rumor is they liked to drag their mates about by the hair.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 127 — Photographer Reviewing Pictures

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: S1 (norm: S1) | mixed=False

« my first ever but i'll need another photographer at this rate. »
« i'll bring the pictures down.’ »
« let me look over the file and i'll get back to you.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Have you seen some of the portraits here?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Other images followed, a tormenting and teasing kaleidoscope—Hart and Daisy, Hart in his office, Hart on his knees, cradling her face in his hands.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] She walked over to the mantel where he kept a dozen family photographs.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I am amazed at the number of photos inside – there must be literally hundreds – some of them posed, most snapshots of me I wasn't even aware he was taking.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He must've got off behind us and taken the photographs.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He takes photographs himself, all the time, of the docks, the city, people, things, but mostly of me.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He must have hundreds of pictures of me.

Model reasonings

A lexical: emotional

The terms 'pictures', 'picture', 'photos', 'photo', 'photographer', and 'photographs' are more associated with emotional security as they relate to memories, self-expression, and personal experiences. 'Camera' and 'cameras' are material as they refer to physical objects, and 'file' and 'files' are also material as they relate to storage and organization.

B contextual: S1

C adjudicate: None

Topic 170 — Staying Close Despite Long Separation

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« despite going months without talking to each other—their daily lives hectic enough that even living in the same city had never ensured regular visits—they were close. »

« my guess is they've been seeing each other the whole time. »

« they might've solved his problems together. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] They'd scaled the first hurdle: They liked each other.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] They'd taken an instant dislike to each other. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It seemed maybe they had something in common. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He wondered what they were doing together.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It felt like a space they'd created to share as lovers.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was strange how they'd met, almost as if it was fated to happen sooner or later. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 171 — Staring at Her Own Reflection

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« she stood and checked her reflection in the mirror over her parents' dresser. »

« esme stared at their reflection in the glass. " »

« but then she stared at her surface-repaired reflection. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She checked the mirror again, fluffed her hair, tried out a smile.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Lifting her head, she caught a look at her dripping face in the mirror.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Stepping before the mirror that hung on the bathroom door, she held the hangers under her chin.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] How was that for a Glass-Half-Full perspective?

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A mirror stood in the corner of the bedroom, and she went to check how she looked.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She glanced in the mirror and wondered what Richard saw in her.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The door clicked shut, and he looked in the mirror and stared at his reflection. “

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She went straight for the mirror above the sink.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When the other women left, giving her a disparaging look, she splashed water on her face and stared at her reflection.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] On the mirror pictures of his friends and Opal were placed at odd angles.

Model reasonings

A lexical: EMS

Words like 'reflection', 'gazing', and 'stared' indicate emotional introspection, while 'mirror', 'checked', and 'stunning' suggest focus on appearance and self-image.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 192 — Peeking Through The Window

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: material (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i stayed hidden beside the window and peeked out as grandmother and [person] arrived. “ »

« a sense of déjàvous washed over him as he approached the rear window of the building and peeked in through that small slant. »

« he wandered over to the window on the other side of the door and peeked out the corner of the still closed drapes before letting them fall back. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Jenna shook her head, and then leaned forward to peer out the window. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She stared out her window, and fought to bring herself back under control. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] After he'd been gone about ten minutes, Jenna ventured closer and peered in the window.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She swiveled her chair around so she could prop her legs up on the windowsill, stare at the rain, and really, truly brood.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He walked over to the window, and looked out at a very different Times Square than the one they'd just raced through the night before.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Jenna sat next to him, her jaw tight and her lips pursed as she stared out the tinted windows while dusk fell across the city.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Ignoring the ache in his arse, Phil walked to the window and looked out. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Mark got up from the couch and moved to one of the windows, pulling back the curtains.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Daniel leaned against the sink, staring out of the small crooked window, seemingly intent on gazing out over the similarly cottage-themed back garden. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was peaceful as well as beautiful, and he opened the window to breathe in the fresh air.

Model reasonings

A lexical: EMS

```
{'emotional': "Words like 'looked', 'glanced', 'gazed', etc., convey emotional engagement and curiosity.", 'material': "Words like 'window', 'curtains', 'reflection' relate to the physical aspects of the scene.", 'status/appearance': "Words like 'turned', 'stunning', 'figure' suggest a focus on appearance and status."}
```

B contextual: material

The dominant code is 'material' as it appears more frequently (11 out of 16 sentences) than 'emotional' (5 out of 16 sentences).

C adjudicate: None

Topic 209 — Flowers Held With Guilty Glance

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: M (norm: None) | mixed=False

« then i look at the flowers i'm holding guiltily, as if i've already accepted his offer to go to new york. »

« i'll bet there are a thousand flowers then.” »

« i'm sure i'll find some more – and with owen's research the flowers are now coming in under budget so there's still a bit of cash to play with.’ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Four huge plants grew in wild profusion, one in each corner.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Flowers bloom from her when she's happy.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Pulsing hearts, roses bursting with fragrance.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] And still the rose petals swirl toward me.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] A faint imprint of thoughts drifts toward me—color and brightness, a swirling burst of rose petals.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] It needs flowers,” she found herself saying. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: M

Most sentences describe material objects (plants, cherries, pillows, jars), with one sentence expressing a feeling (pitting cherries).

C adjudicate: None

Topic 218 — Resenting Someone More Attractive

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« the human in charge of maintaining his harem was moderately dishevelled from the panic, but he was, as always, poised and visually attractive. »

« i think he's still trying to prove that he is mister attractive and can make anyone fall in love with him.’ ‘ »

« how could i even begin to like someone who was: ■ a) gorgeous, thereby making me, someone who until now was considered pretty decent looking, seem, at best, perfectly average, and, at worst, like the sibling who got beaten with the ugly stick; ■ b) paid huge bucks to roll around in the sand making out with equally gorgeous girls while i donned a hideous fluorescent orange apron, an equally hideous lime green baseball cap with an assortment of stuffed fruit dangling from the center in a makeshift pom-pom, and honed my smoothie- making skills for six bucks an hour; ■ c) a veteran of rehab, probably attended more 12-step programs than all the boy bands from the nineties combined, thought nothing of totaling a hundred-thousand-dollar sports car, and even managed to expose his pearly whites in his [person]

shots so that he looked like someone making a dentyne commercial instead of a criminal about to begin two hundred hours of community service, while i followed the rules or never caused my parents a day of worry, and yet they wouldn't even let me spend one lousy summer in europe, for god's sake. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He even had beautiful legs and feet for a man.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] He was so handsome, so kind, so sweet and funny with his little boy.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] He was, in her opinion, too handsome for his own good, too smooth for anyone else's.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] And looked gorgeous doing it, he realized—and just a little fierce.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 241 — Calling Someone A Stubborn Idiot

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« it's the first time i've known it," [person] said. “ »

« i ' ve asked [person] to keep watch over julie and [person]. »

« i've already told this to jason, the stubborn idiot!" “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He's got to find out who killed Jason.” “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Did Jason seem concerned about anything?

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He and Kay were never meant to be and, the sooner he put the whole thing behind him, the better.

Model reasonings

A lexical: emotional

The majority of keywords are related to emotional states, expressions, and behaviors, indicating that the topic primarily revolves around emotional security.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 253 — Hair Pinned Up in Style

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« she had pinned her wispy blonde hair back in a loose chignon. »

« when she messed up, she'd pout and toss her golden hair over her shoulder. »

« her glossy hair is piled up in loose ringlets on her head and pinned with a coral comb. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] She was thirtyish, with dark blonde hair scraped back in a ponytail, and she was attractive in a non-glossy way. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] If she'd been smooth-haired you would have noticed it, but her long fur covers it up.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Twiglet had left a few tiny white hairs on her cardigan. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I suddenly noticed the short white hairs on her jumper again.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] She adjusted the diamanté barrette in Jennifer's floor-length blonde hair. ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Her sunny hair was twisted at the back of her head into a messy knot that somehow suited the angular triangle of her face.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She'd pulled her dark hair back in a tail—very tidy.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Her curling black hair bounced over the shoulders of her sweatshirt. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He turned as she came back and had the errant thought that her hair was like that—an intense spot of color. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She'd done something to her hair, something sleek, and darkened her lips and eyes to exotic.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Her dense brown hair hung in a long tail—sleek and simple.

Model reasonings

A lexical: emotional

The words and phrases provided are mostly associated with appearance and grooming, which are often used to express one's emotions, attract others, or boost self-esteem, thus serving emotional security functions.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 268 — Vivid Colors Remarkd Upon

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: CELL_B (norm: None) | mixed=False

« the colours are brighter than i've ever seen them. »

« they've been preserved under piles of peat that has tanned their bodies to a dark brown, but you can see their expressions, absolutely what they looked like. »

« that's the most amazing green i've ever seen.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When I got them in there, I realized it looked kind of dumb having so much blue, so I took them back and got some gray ones.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She was unsure of their color, but she thought they looked to be a deep blue.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code 'CELL_B' (emotional) has the highest average proportion (0.68) across all sentences, indicating that the topic of color is primarily discussed in an emotional context, such as describing how a color makes someone feel or suits them.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 323 — Polite Address Under Distress

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i am not [person], no matter what you've told the director. »

« lady [person],” he said politely, “lady [person], lady [person].” »

« i'll keep praying for [person]. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Elizabeth said, as she washed her hands. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Right behind them in walked Elizabeth, and I understood what had caused their reaction.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She has to be the centre of attention, and she couldn't stand the threat that Elizabeth posed. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Apparently he remains in touch with Elizabeth.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She had her heart set on being a viscountess and I would have made sure she did not have to wait too long to be a duchess.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She probably thinks it enhances her status—that of a future viscountess.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] So that you may more openly pursue the fair Lady Penelope?”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She would be an excellent hostess, which was also important now that he was a viscount.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Penelope suddenly wondered if the madam was really married, and if so, where was her husband?

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The provided words primarily revolve around emotional states, interactions, and expressions, indicating that the emotional security function is the most prominent in this context.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 347 — Saying Goodnight Before Bed

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« no, i think i'll get to bed,” i told him, smiling weakly. “ »

« i'll probably only sleep for an hour or so,” leigh said with a smile as she turned back into the room, then paused to add, “bastien asked me to have you call him when you woke up.” “ »

« i'll just say good night now,” [person] says. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Good morning, Delaney,” he murmured softly. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Good morning, Delaney,” he whispered huskily, close to her ear when he finally released her mouth.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He whispered her name and gently nudged her awake.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Good morning, Prince,” she said smiling up at him.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Breaking into their conversation he said, “Good morning, Shelly.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] AJ and I are going to have to say good-night to everyone,” Shelly said smiling. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Spend the night with me,” he whispered. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Morning,” she said, her voice sleepy and cute as hell.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Morning, Sunshine,” she said with a big smile.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Wrapping his arms around her middle, he said, “Plan on keeping you in bed this evening, too.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Did you want to keep talking or say good night?”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Night, sweetheart,” he called out and her heart soared.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 347

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 354 — Threatening to Bite Someone's Nose

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i'll send the dentist's bill to the incredible hulk . »
« i'll try not to rot your teeth." »
« i'll bite that fucking bloody nose you've got right off. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Oh, please, don't bite me," I said, doing my best not to giggle as I feigned fear.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] You know, it looks like a bite, but then again it doesn't.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I finished chewing the bite I'd just taken and looked up at Christopher. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Fangs nicked at my lip, stinging, and it only heightened the sensations.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Lucien's hand came up around my throat, his thumb caressing the bite mark he'd just put there. "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] When he opened his mouth, fangs protruded from his gums.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was almost orgasmic and each bite caused a small shiver of pleasure to work over her limbs.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 354

```
{'emotional': "Words like 'bitten', 'gnashing', 'going', 'bites', 'annoying', 'problems', 'wound', 'pieces', and 'memories' evoke emotional responses or relate to emotional experiences.", 'material': "Words like 'teeth', 'dental', and 'dentist' directly relate to the material aspects of dental care and health.", 'status/appearance': "Words like 'bite', 'chew', 'bowed', 'loose', and 'attractive' suggest maintaining a certain appearance or status through dental care."}
```

B contextual: MIXED

The dominant code is 'MIXED' because the proportions of 'CELL_B' (emotional) are high in the first two books, while 'CELL_D' (material) is dominant in the third book and 'CELL_A' (status/appearance) is dominant in the fourth book.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 364 — Noticing What He Wears

Old taxonomy: 1.6 — Character Appearance & Self-Presentation

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« if i had any nerve i'd go throw them open and see what he's wearing, not that i've seen him in anything except shorts, t-shirts and a stupid beanie. »
« he was dressed as he was at the court: [person] t-shirt, black [person] hoodie hanging open, loose-fitting jeans and biker boots. »
« he wore a loose-fitting, blue jacket and white shirt, and the lack of a cravat exposed too much of his throat and even his chest. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He donned his shirt and folded the kilt and girdle around his waist.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] She made certain his clothing stayed mended and clean.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] The black gelding had three white stockings and a blaze down his forehead.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Slender arms slid around his neck and a supple body clothed in a deep green surcoat molded to his tall frame.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Alexander's large frame was covered from neck to calf in fur; his hands protected by leather gloves and his feet by knee high boots.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Duncan accepted from Mai, the bundled wool secured by a scrap of fabric.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Maybe he does not have wardrobes full of clothes.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I picture him, dressed in his expensively modest suit and that waistcoat. '
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Jeremy has removed his beige corduroy jacket too, and his cream turtle-neck sweater.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I hope he'll be wearing that waistcoat and those boots. *
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He has aged but he is still wearing that waistcoat.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

The dominant code is MIXED because the texts contain a mix of emotional, material, and status/appearance aspects.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 1 — Straps Sliding Down Her Arms

Old taxonomy: 2.3 — Explicit Sexual Acts

New code: S5 (norm: S5) | mixed=False

« i've had practice," he said as he slid the straps down my arms and removed it. »
« how could a man who just serenaded me with one of the sexiest songs i've ever heard and who kisses the way he does be a virgin? »
« the way he holds me —the tenderness, the carefulness—gives me hope that we've made great strides tonight. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] If I say 'Kiss my ass' to him, you can jump into action."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Nice and polite—until he thought he had something on you.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] His hand came up to grip my head, keeping me trapped in the loving softness of his kiss.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] His lips attached to my neck as his fingers worked their way up my shirt.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He brought his lips down to mine and released my hands.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He held me to him as his mouth moved in sync with mine, his tongue just slipping in to brush against me.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Kissing my cheek, he ran his lips up to my ear.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Chuckling in my mouth, he held me against him, deepening our kiss.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Let your Master Thomas give you a big mouthful of his cum."

Model reasonings

A lexical: None

B contextual: None

C adjudicate: S5 action=KEEP

Topic 38 — Admitting Shared Pain

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i've seen your pain. »
« i've never felt that way before." »
« will it make you feel better to know that i've got one, too?" »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I always want to be able to tell you what I'm feeling.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] That's what it felt like—that was the exact feeling—and I'm so happy that now you were there.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I hadn't noticed that feeling before." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The majority of the words (14 out of 18) are related to emotions, feelings, and emotional states. Words like 'feel', 'feels', 'good', 'felt', 'feeling', 'better', 'make', 'how', 'so', 'like', 'hurts', 'experienced', 'worst', 'recently', 'incredibly', 'magical', and 'insides' all contribute to the emotional security function. Only 'opportunity' and 'loose' lean more towards material or status/appearance functions, but they are outnumbered by the emotional words.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 52 — Talking About Dogs and Animals

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i'll have you know that muffy is an intelligent dog and understands more than most people give her credit for. »
« it'll also notify the other campers that there's a bear in the area." »
« i'll be taking the dogs out for their afternoon walk, so there'll be some peace and quiet for you." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] What are you doing with that dog in here?"
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I'm not too versed on dog-speak but I had a feeling that meant "Hey, food's this way.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Abbie's problem is that she's a lot like a dog.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] While I tripped over a crack in the sidewalk, stepped in dog crap or spilled mustard across my white button-down, she dabbed the corner of her mouth with a lacy napkin, made friends with stray dogs and levitated down sidewalks like Mary Poppins.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The fence beyond them held a spray-painted sign that read "Forget Dog, Beware of Owner."

Model reasonings

A lexical: E2M1S1

The topic revolves around animals as pets, focusing on emotional bonds, care, and activities.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 54 — Ordering Food and Dessert

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'll have the steak with boiled potatoes and green beans." " »
« we'll need a hazmat crew to clean up the mess he'll make with the cake—it's a two-person job." »
« but i'll get us some pie anyway." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I'll see what I can find for breakfast in your cupboards.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Of course, she won't be needing those for a good long while now that she's got a bun in the oven.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Cereal's fine and I've got plenty of it.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Did you know the cafeteria was serving goulash today?
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Delicious, sinfully sweet, incredibly tempting trouble, but trouble nonetheless.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Gloria's got a big spread planned for brunch."

Model reasonings

A lexical: E2M3S1

The emotional security function is emphasized through words like 'giggle' and 'exquisite', while the material function is evident in the list of food items. The status/appearance function is suggested by words like 'polished' and 'rings'.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 86 — First Name Used at Last

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i've known you for two whole years, and that is the first time you've ever called me by my first name." »
« you've outgrown that nickname." " »
« just between you and me, i've been working on a catchy superhero name. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I was named for my great-grandfather." "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I may not have known him for long, Rox, but I do know him.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Doesn't it bother you in the least that you don't really know him?" "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Mr. Remington, I'm Harding, Jonathan Q. Harding.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 93 — Meal Plans Casually Arranged

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« that'll wait 'til after supper, though." " »
« i'll go get started on lunch," clark offered. »
« i'll show you over dinner." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] What kind of host would I be to let you go all day without a proper meal?
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] What happened to Reichen finding you some dinner downstairs?
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] It seemed only fitting that I treat you to one of the city's finest dinners.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] He'd sat with her for hours going over the catering menu for the reception, listening to her gripe and moan about what they would serve their guests.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'd love to take you to dinner," he said. "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] We agreed to have dinner the following night. "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You must come to dinner tonight," she said. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: 93

{'emotional': "Words like 'we'll eat' and 'having' indicate shared experiences, while 'exciting' and 'appreciate' convey positive emotions.", 'material': "The text focuses on discussing and planning meals, with words like 'dinner', 'lunch', 'supper', 'tonight', and 'tomorrow'.", 'status/appearance': "Words like 'lady' and 'sir' acknowledge social roles and can indicate status or appearance."}

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 105 — Swept Onto The Dance Floor

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« [person] and i are both taken, so we'll only dance with each other. »
« i've never danced with a guy who real y knew what he was doing." " »
« if you'll excuse the two of us," he pointed to me, "i've been dying for a dance with this woman all night." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] And the high heels she'd dangled from her hand were for dancing the night away or seducing a man.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Oh God, did that man I was dancing with take me?

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] We begin dancing again, this time getting a little friskier.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He takes my hand and leads me onto the dance floor.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Your problem is you let what happened with Marcus keep you from attending those dances.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sparkling cocktail dresses mixed with flip-flops and Bermuda shorts on the open-air dance floor, where wealthy couples did the bump and grind or swayed in each other's arms to the beat of classic rock.

Model reasonings

A lexical: C1

Dance and related terms evoke a romantic atmosphere.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 116 — Sharing A Meal Together

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« [person] dipped his spoon into the ice cream dish once again, and my mouth opened in anticipation. »

« i'll finish the carrots up while you wash those," he said, nodding to the potatoes she held as he reached for the bowl of veggies she had left unfinished. »

« i'll get that," clarissa said, whisking mandy's empty plate away and depositing it on the counter along with her own before mandy could say a word. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] He picked up his fork and tapped it against his plate. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She dropped her fork onto her plate with a clatter. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Emily picked up her fork and forced another bite. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She set her spoon down with a sharp click. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She reached across the table and pulled the pie plate away from him before he could sink his fork in.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She dropped a generous scoop of it on Jake's pie and set it in front of him. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Bacchus chased it with his forked tongue, catching the droplets before they hit the sheets. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Finishing off his sandwich in a couple of bites, he reached for another and checked to see how she was doing. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Grabbing a couple of napkins, he moved on, snagging a bag of chips to round out the meal.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He gave her the ice cream and the napkin he held at the ready.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 116

Classification based on emotional, material, and status/appearance aspects of eating and meal-related words.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 160 — Watching Movies Together

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« fine, but i'll be watching." " »

« we'll watch him closely for any reaction." " »

« we've been watching movies." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Turn on that entertainment network we both hate." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] God, that sounds like a Telemundo soap opera."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We need to record it in the next fortnight if we're going to make our launch date.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Maybe one can watch over you while you fuck the other."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] But you also may have reason to keep me from watching too closely." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You will watch them for seven days, Arthur, and then come to me.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I just want you to know that I am watching you." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 174 — Ranch Life and Falling in Love

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i've seen your willy on numerous occasions on the ranch. »

« the ranch is doing good, and i've fallen in love. »

« i'd take you there, but i imagine you've already seen enough cattle to last you a lifetime." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'll fetch some water, and then could you sit with him while I fetch the farmer's wife?" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] That's as much as I can do—we're busy at the farm, and the lad isn't in danger."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] They got milk, cheese, eggs and other produce from the farm, and they would soon be easily able to grow enough herbs and vegetables for their own use.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When the resident died, the farmer, needing the money, had been glad to sell it off with some land to a couple of wealthy Gidinians in need of solitude and a place away from the bustle of the town.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Jaime suspected he holed up in a barn or in a storeroom, possibly up at the farm.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Seve was busy preserving, drying and storing the produce from the garden and bartered meat, cheese and grain from the farm.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She dreams of one day living out in Montana, enough land to have a few horses, and find a couple of cowboys of her own.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] This ranch is worth a fortune and we were lucky to be able to sell it for what we did.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] There was a huge ranch on the other side of the mountain range.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She loved every aspect of ranch life from the cattle, to the horses, to the old cowpunchers that came and went each year. "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Anything she had ever wanted, the ranch had supplied. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 232 — Conversation Cut Short By Arrival

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« dex had come in and gabe's conversation with her, the longest conversation that they'd had in the couple of weeks he'd been back, was over. »

« gabe leaned down so he wouldn't be overheard. " »

« i'll tell you right now falan and gabe are the only people on my team that i'd stake my career— or my balls —on." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Have Remy or the boys been out to question you again or give you more information about Joshua's attack?"

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] In the end, Gabe couldn't let the kid down. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He almost told her to call him Gabe, but he knew his name would sound way too good coming from her full lips.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Her name fit her, Gabe had found himself thinking one too many times.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Gabe pretended to tackle Zach as he pulled the microphone from his hand, but he instantly sobered as he turned to Chase and Chloe. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Gabe's face brightened and he said, "Hey, you know what?

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Gabe asked him with a twist of his lips.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Her face got red then and she said angrily, "So, Gabe knew and didn't clue me in?

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 330 — Curious About Her Cooking Skills

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you've got me curious about your culinary skills." »

« now i've got to learn how to cook a whole new way." »

« you've tried [person]'s cooking. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I'll even cook, you being the guest and all." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Officially, Granger was one of several cooks on staff at the Club Med in Punta Cana, a popular tourist area in the Dominican Republic.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Shit, she couldn't even boil live lobsters without crying. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Tis smooth as a warm knife through fresh butter when you master it."

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The keywords provided are primarily focused on the act of cooking, learning to cook, and the enjoyment and excitement derived from it. They do not explicitly mention material possessions or status symbols, making 'Emotional' the primary security function.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 332 — First Time Inside A Grocery Store

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« because that was the first time i've ever had fun grocery shopping." »

« and now we've our own talkin' shop in leinster house – we ignore their laws, too." »

« [person], i don't think i've ever been in a grocery store." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Feeling pleasantly paparazzied I scuttled in through the entrance and went down to the coffee shop.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] As she'd done nothing but shop ever since we'd got here, I'd been a bit taken aback, but she claimed there were still a million things left to buy.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We walked into the Coffee Shoppee and I took in the decor bemusedly.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] This is the famous all-night Monday cart-market.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You spot peanut sellers and machine- ka -cold-water carts.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] However, rumor has it that there's a pile of modernized equipment in the back of one of the storerooms, along with a couple of experts who are going to show us how it's done."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] In a couple of them, you can even see piles of fabric and other trade goods, sort of the A.D. 1000 version of a stadium concourse." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] The end result was part feng shui, part Zen, part hey-that's-cool impulse buy.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I felt like I was only in the library for a couple of hours, but I lost most of a day out here.

Model reasonings

A lexical: material

The main terms revolve around shopping and items, indicating a focus on material security. 'Places' suggests status/appearance, while 'experience' hints at emotional security.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 351 — Warm Greeting Upon Return

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« thank god you've come back—and will you look at me, just in time." »

« it is a pleasure to see you again—so soon, madam. " »

« so i'll see you there," he said, feeling upbeat for the first time in a long time. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I'll give it to him when I see him again." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Yes, but I was also relieved you didn't show up."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I'll see you as often as I can," he said, only making matters worse by reminding the children he wouldn't be seeing them on a normal basis. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Whatever the reason, it was a pretty nice day.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Amber had seen it as a splendid way to say goodbye to the hoards of tourists who crowded Harmony during that season.

Model reasonings

A lexical: EME

The given words primarily convey emotions, with some material and status/appearance aspects.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 367 — Sorting Out Concert Tickets

Old taxonomy: 4.2 — Ongoing Courtship & Everyday Relational Bonding

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'm assuming since there are two tickets, you'll go with me?" " »

« we'll have to figure out how to get you a ticket. »

« [person]—" "sure, i'll give her the five-cent tour." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Something I learned when I took my grand tour."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Mrs. Schmidt told me this is the coach I should take, and I was simply trying to find out—" "How much is the ticket?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] We've had one tour group after another this morning.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] They're probably trying to cater to the tourists."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He took my hand and guided me through the crowd of tourists on the side walk.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] All I have to do is take the public track tour and get conveniently separated from the tourists.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I hop back in the limo and rush to my second event of the night, a Q & A event with racing fans.

Model reasonings

A lexical: E2M1S1

```
{'emotional': "Words like 'tour', 'concert', 'bought', '7heaven', and 'tomorrow' evoke feelings of excitement, anticipation, and enjoyment.", 'material': "The word 'ticket' represents a physical item that grants access to an event.", 'status/appearance': "The word 'tours' can imply a certain level of status or popularity, especially in the context of music."}
```

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 29 — Confessing Long-Held Love

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i love you with everything i am, everything i've been, and everything i hope to be . " « »

« tell her i've always loved her. »

« i've always been in love with you." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I love you, too, sweetheart."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Oh, child, I love you, too."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You just say 'I love you.'"

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

```
The words provided primarily revolve around emotions, feelings, and interpersonal relationships, indicating that the security function for this topic is emotional security. Key words like 'love', 'happiness', 'forgive', and 'deserve' emphasize the emotional aspect, while 'you', 'me', and 'always' suggest a focus on personal connections and commitment.
```

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 62 — Admitting You've Been Stupid

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« marnie, i've been stupid. »

« about what an asshole i've been?" " « »

« you've done something dumb, but you'll get away with it this time. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Dear Reader, Sometimes teenagers do foolish things.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'm the one who was stupid enough not to bring one." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He's really ... I don't know ..." I forced myself not to supply the word dumb . "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He was too proud of himself to detect the sarcasm in my words. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

```
The majority of the words in this topic directly target the person's emotional state or express negative emotions.
```

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 65 — Declaring A True Partnership

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« what we've been though together, the way we've been there for each other ... we have a true partnership, a true love, and if that sounds stupid and romantic, then i don't care." »

« we've been together forever, and what if it takes us years?" »

« i'll do that," he said softly, "we've got a date." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] We have often been together in public." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] This is the only way you can get a date?

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Want to believe we can really have something together."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] And if we do go out, then I have to deal with all the men swarming around wanting a taste of your sex magic! "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Or was it just an accident that we dated and he found the schema?"

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] It has not been that long since we last saw each other.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] We have walked this world together for quite some time.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=end] This is something with pure intentions, open emotions, and a reciprocation that will never cause harm to either of us." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] It's just ... I know I am nothing but a big disappointment to both of you.

Model reasonings

A lexical: R65

```
{'emotional': "Keywords like 'date', 'dating', 'together', 'we', and 'partners' suggest a focus on emotional connections and shared experiences.", 'material': 'No keywords were classified under this function.', 'status/appearance': "Keywords like 'fashioned', 'nods', and 'playfully' hint at the presentation of oneself and interactions that may impact social standing."}
```

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 128 — Confessing How Much You've Missed

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i've missed most of his life already. »

« and, god, how i've missed this." »

« i've come to realize that you are the one thing in my life i don't want to miss. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I sometimes miss the peace of you and me, though." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] He missed the ball even worse than I did.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I missed you, little bro," he whispered in my ear. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'd missed my family so much, and now that we'd seemed to get the tears and heartache out of the way, we were having fun. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 157 — Swearing to Save Him From Himself

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« and you'll get it, i swear," [person]. »

« if [person] sees me like this, i'll die." »

« and i might be young but i guess that just makes me lucky... i do love him and whether i have your help or not, i have to save him from himself... i know [person], i know what he'll do, now that he thinks he has lost me." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Sam couldn't understand it, and that bothered him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: S1

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 204 — Promising to Care For Her Sister

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'll need to finish dressing and leave a note for my sister." »

« yes, and soon you'll be my sister. »

« i'll find a way to care for your mother and your sister." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] My sister's still there with her husband, who's a copper, and their three kids.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] You have not been paying close attention to your sister's problems lately, have you?" "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Your sister mentioned in passing that you are something of a recluse." "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] You mock your sister, but you will admit that she has great talents." "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I realize that you are concerned for your sister's happiness.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_A · tertile=end] You and your sister have done so much for us.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Having an older sister is a great pain in the arse." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: 204

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 242 — Trading Forgiveness For Old Wrongs

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: E (norm: None) | mixed=False

« not if you'll forgive him.” “ »

« he'll never forgive you. »

« okay, how's this — i'll forgive you for summer if you forgive me for kabir.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You must forgive him,” Rico said with a laugh. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Do forgive me for not having welcomed you more fittingly.”

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] What will you do if society here proves unforgiving?”

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Any man delivering such a speech to the lady he had planned to marry—a lady who had waited faithfully for him—should have had the grace to appear remorseful, or at least apologetic.

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The words primarily revolve around emotions, forgiveness, and emotional pain, indicating that the topic's main security function is emotional.

B contextual: E

The dominant code is 'E' (Emotional) as most sentences revolve around forgiveness, understanding, and emotional states.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 305 — Confessing A Lifelong Regret

Old taxonomy: 4.5 — Reconciliation, Commitments & HEA

New code: {'CELL_A': 'Emotional', 'CELL_B': 'Material', 'CELL_C': 'Status/Appearance', 'CELL_D': 'Mixed'} (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i know that now, and i'll go to my grave regretting what i did to you.” “ »

« come on in, you'll no doubt regret it. »

« you'll regret that.’ ‘ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You are surely not intending to imply that you are beginning to regret this marriage already?’ ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I fear that my careless remarks must have been the cause of that outburst.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] At his words, a wave of regret washed over Helena. ‘

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I have been unkind to you, which I deeply regret.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Now you don't, but you wish you still did.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: 305

B contextual: {'CELL_A': 'Emotional', 'CELL_B': 'Material', 'CELL_C': 'Status/Appearance', 'CELL_D': 'Mixed'}

The dominant code for each cell is determined by the most frequent security function in the sentences. 'CELL_A' sentences primarily express emotional regret or lack thereof, 'CELL_B' sentences involve material or practical consequences, 'CELL_C' sentences focus on status or appearance, and 'CELL_D' sentences are a mix of these functions.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 6 — Whispered Reassurance

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: S5 (norm: S5) | mixed=False

« i'll make sure of it,” he whispered. »

« you'll be fine,” he whispered. “ »

« quiet, subdued, she nodded and then, “you'll be safe.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Later,” she said softly, with a sly smile.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Ian stared right back and asked slowly, clearly, enunciating every word, “Who asked you to?”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Okay,’ she said, striving for a light tone in the heavy silence. ‘

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: E

All sentences express emotions, feelings, or engagement, with no material or status/appearance discussions present.

C adjudicate: S5 action=KEEP

Topic 31 — Keeping Watch While Others Sleep

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« so you'll give me the stuff to sleep?" »

« you'll wake the baby." " »

« you sleep and i'll stand guard." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] That's because you snored most of the way." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I'm sick of lying in bed night after night like an old married couple.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 31

Sleep and rest are essential for maintaining emotional well-being, physical health, and social functioning. The words and phrases selected reflect the multifaceted nature of sleep security, encompassing emotional, material, and status/appearance aspects.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 36 — Eagerly Offering to Help

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« of course, i'll help you.' »

« then you'll let me help," frances said at once, her expression eager. " »

« sure, of course, i'll help." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And you know I'm here to help you in any way I can."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 45 — Reassured Everything Will Be Fine

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« we'll be ok." " »

« nadines : you'll be ok? »

« ok, maybe a zero-tolerance one, but there's no doubt about it, you'll be great. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I'm fine," Amber replied quietly. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Your wound..." "I'm fine."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Is everything okay?" "

Model reasonings

A lexical: ROMANCE

{'emotional': "Words and phrases like 'fine', 'ok', 'okay', 'everything', 'right', 'be', 'all', 'honey', 'alright', 'will', 'assured', 'assure', 'smoothly', 'incredibly', 'acknowledged', 'appreciate', and 'urge' often relate to emotional security and reassurance in romantic contexts.", 'material': "The word 'problems' is included under material security as it can refer to issues that may impact the material aspects of a relationship.", 'status/appearance': "Terms like 'sir', 'lord', and 'ms' are associated with status and appearance, as they can indicate power dynamics or social standing within a relationship."}

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 46 — Asking Someone to Trust You

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you'll just have to trust me." »

« he'll trust you if you promise to keep me in sight." " »

« my trust that he'll bring me to safety. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The critics wanted to prove that setting goals, drawing graphs, measuring results and evaluating the performance of individuals was nothing less than taking the place of trusting the Holy Spirit to give increase.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Trust us, all we need to do to you can be done here," one of the other guys said.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't trust yourself in a hotel room alone with me?"

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Wasn't there anyone you trusted to share your joy with?" "

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The provided keywords primarily revolve around trust, betrayal, and expectations, which are core aspects of emotional security in romantic relationships.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 56 — Promising Never to Hurt You

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you'll get hurt," he managed to say. " »

« you know i'll never hurt you ." »

« i'll make sure you aren't hurt." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] He says that he knows it must hurt, but that whatever will be, will be, and that nothing we say or do will resolve things.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] It's all well and good saying you avoid pain by avoiding relationships, but what about the wonderful things you're avoiding as well?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] How can you emotionally blackmail me like this?' '

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I don't ever want to be that hurt again." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I just felt hurt that you hadn't told me.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't give him the satisfaction of letting it destroy you.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You're only doing it to hurt me, aren't you?" "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I'd never, ever do anything to hurt you.

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The keywords provided ('hurt', 'hurting', 'harm', 'mean', 'never', 'you', 'want', 'don', 'hurt') primarily revolve around emotional pain, distress, and negative emotions. They suggest a focus on emotional security, as they indicate a desire to avoid or protect against emotional harm.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 70 — Keeping Watch While She Sleeps

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« maybe she'll get some sleep." " »

« i'll wait until she wakes up and then i'll head back up to make sure shit doesn't go down in the mc." " »

« for her, it's early, she'll be awake." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] An instant later she was once more sound asleep.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] They wouldn't be getting much sleep tonight, she knew.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was months before she'd been able to sleep through the night.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It couldn't have been more than a few hours for she still felt drugged with exhaustion, her eyes grainy and her head stuffed full of cotton.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She realized that he wouldn't rest until he did.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was as if she'd been awoken from a long trance.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She just hoped that hers wouldn't catch up with her before the night ended. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It had left her exhausted and vulnerable.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 70.1

The words selected are related to emotions, material needs, and status/appearance, which are key aspects of romance.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 83 — Reassured About Eating Regularly

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i've eaten every few hours. »

« of course, i've never eaten one." »

« and then you'll return late again... you won't need to do that—be late—because you've eaten." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Then I'll go hungry because I'm not eating with you.' '

Model reasonings

A lexical: {'emotional': 'EAT01', 'material': 'EAT02', 'status/appearance': 'EAT03'}

The words 'hungry', 'starving', and 'appetite' indicate emotional needs, while 'eat', 'food', and 'eating' focus on the material aspect of sustenance. 'President', 'bigger', and 'difference' suggest status and appearance concerns.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 88 — Checking Her Feverish Temperature

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« no movement, her skin temperature clammy enough to make a ball of fear lodge in his gut. “ »

« now, [person], how has her temperature been? »

« the nippiness that was still molesting her limbs, she hoped, was indeed because of the low temperature and not a foretoken of her entering his residence. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Her entire body burned and her mind raced.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Every time he opened her up she felt a surge of wind invade her body and send pricks through her skin.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Chills shot up her spine and into her chest, causing her to arch her back, which made her breasts bounce just enough to command attention.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The rusted metal felt cold on the back of her thighs, and the persistent wind blew loose strands of her hair directly into the low O's of smoke she eased from the center of her dry mouth.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She seemed fidgety and hurried us along, as if the food might get cold.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Lydia and Simon became visibly pale and shock emanated from them.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] That would have heated me up instantly, I teased.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Pure, fiery heat spread along her legs all the way up to her face. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Her body coiled from the heated friction and the way he seemed to keep hitting her newly found g-spot.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A cold bit of what felt like metal touched her chest.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 96 — Confessing Long-Standing Worry

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i've been worried about you, [person]. »

« i've worried about you since i was twelve. »

« i've been worried about you.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You grew up worrying about having your basic needs met.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 96

The keywords and phrases indicate a focus on addressing worries, fears, and concerns (emotional), ensuring nothing is amiss (material), and managing appearances and reactions (status/appearance).

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 119 — Offering to Keep Her Safe

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« come on, i'll protect you.” »

« you'll protect me?” “ »

« i can protect you from crystal, but you'll have to let me. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Viggo won't feel threatened, and you'll be okay.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I just wanted to check you got there safely.’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I didn't think security would leave you standing out here like this.’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] At least in LA you'd both have protection; you know my security guys are some of the best in the business.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 119

The words and phrases listed under each security function category reflect the primary focus of the topic, which is the protection and preservation of emotional, material, and status-related aspects of an individual or entity.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 161 — Reassuring Squeeze on The Shoulder

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« he'd stick to a reassuring squeeze of noah's shoulder and hope that was calming enough. »

« we'll be there, noah. »

« do you think he'll adopt noah ?" »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was sheer stubbornness that kept him going, Gideon decided, thankful that he'd had the good fortune to be sired by one of the most stubborn old goats he'd ever encountered.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Not surprising, Gideon supposed, since the moon was nearly full and his more animalistic tendencies were on a very short, increasingly weak tether.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] These beings were no more human than he, Gideon knew.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When God forged a new covenant with Noah after the flood, for example, he included animals.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He rather appealed to God's ideal expressed in Genesis 2.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When God raised up Israel to be his vehicle for restoring the world, he commissioned them to exercise loving dominion over the land he was giving them and over the animals that inhabited it.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It symbolized that these people were set apart for God and that if anyone broke covenant with God they'd be cut off from the people (Genesis 17:14).

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] They thought the Messiah would lead Israel to victory over their Roman oppressors and would reestablish Israel as a sovereign nation under God.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] First fruits" refers to fruit that ripened and was picked before the rest of the harvest and was then consecrated to God (Exodus 23:19).

Model reasonings

A lexical: {'emotional': ['reassuring', 'calming', 'nods', 'praying', 'afterward', 'tugged', 'clenched', 'emotions', 'shivered'], 'material': [], 'status/appearance': []}

The words and phrases listed under each character or term are categorized based on their primary function in the context of the romance topic. The consensus code represents the words and phrases that are most commonly associated with emotional security functions in this topic.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 172 — Reporting to The Security Officer

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« you'll also report this to your regional security officer, yes?" »

« i'll have an armed officer [person] the room with you at all times, and i'll watch through the glass." " »

« i've called the police, i'll have you know." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Then I told the police exactly what he told me to say." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Do you think being worried over another officer's absence justifies a breach in regulations?"

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I give an order, and because I'm your superior officer, you are supposed to obey it." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 173 — Waiting For Him to Wake

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« it's after him so you'll just have to wait until he wakes up to get your answer." »

« it'll put him to sleep." »

« yeah, i guess i'll have to wait and see when he wakes up. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Could he count on not waking him when he lifted him from that warm bed?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He looked fresh, rejuvenated, as though their little fling from last night hadn't permanently affected his energy.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He used to jog the property's perimeter every morning, before breakfast.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He's sleeping for longer periods of time at night now," Jacob said. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: 173

See above rationale for each category.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 175 — Gentleman Offers Steadying Support

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« the occurrences of the day were too full of interest to leave elizabeth much attention for any of these new friends; and she could do nothing but think, and think with wonder, of mr. [person]'s civility, and, above all, of his wishing her to be acquainted with his sister. »

« mr. [person] placed his hand on [person]'s shoulder for support as mr. [person] barely walked out the front door. »

« yes, but when i fell ill, it was apparent that i could not travel all the way to calais, so mr. [person] took me to the house of a friend of his: mr. [person]. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] On his way to see Mistress Gwyllain to explain your...ah, unexplained arrival."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Take his offering," Gwyllain demanded. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Shit," grunted Sheridan, apparently immune to Owen's considerable charms. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sheridan was stil pale and anxious looking.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 190 — Offering to Get Someone Cleaned Up

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i'll get cleaned up here as soon as i can. »

« i'll pay to have it cleaned. " " »

« i'll get her cleaned up," said a handsome groom, taking her arm. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Just sit there for a minute, Solange, while I clean you up.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I will clean up the battlefield while you drink plenty of fluids.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I know you would prefer to burn it yourselves out of respect, but my way will be faster, cleaner and will ensure no parasites escape.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] He was grateful for the rich dirt floor.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] May I know why you gave Mr. Thesiger the brush off just now?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't you see that if you go ahead with this annulment, if you air the Roxtons' dirty laundry in public, I will be utterly, utterly ruined.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] A lackey came out from behind the butler with pan and brush and quickly set to sweeping up the shards of broken glass from Deb's smashed wine glass.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Do try your very best not to make a mess of things."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 193 — Nurse Arranged After Hospital Release

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: E (norm: None) | mixed=False

« and you'll both stay here, at caleb's?" " »

« i'll arrange for a nurse to come to the house when they release caleb. »

« twenty-three caleb y ou ignore me, and i'll ignore you . »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Kayla points to me, like she can't figure out who Gavin's talking about.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] In any case, I'm going to need to return myself to help out because Ramsey will be busy with Chloe and the baby," he continued. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] After numerous brushes with the law and butting heads with the parents of a young lady who didn't want him to be a part of their daughter's life, Dillon had convinced Bane to get his life together.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] This was September, and Chloe was due to deliver in November, which meant Callum would be leaving Denver a few months after that.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Dillon and Ramsey did an awesome job and I know for sure we were a handful at times, some of us more than others."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] From what Callum had heard, Bane had been only eight when his parents had been killed.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: E

C adjudicate: None

Topic 224 — Encouraging Words From An Angel

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: STATUS/APPEARANCE (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you've got this, angel, take it to the house." »

« i'll come back, angel. »

« because i'm thinking i'll have a hard time finding another angel to handle it." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I most certainly do think the great evil knows about Gabriel."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] the evil one said as his life essence swept by him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I have complete faith in Val and Gabriel." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Tell me what kind of evil," Gabriel asked.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] By the gods," Val hissed as he and Gabriel came upon the creature. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Once, as I stood on the cliffs trying to understand the power I held, trying to comprehend why I would ever want to send my voice a thousand miles away on the wind, he'd told me that I looked like an angel blessed by the Almighty.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I took a pleasant interlude of imagining myself nibbling on Evangeline's ass.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] With Evangeline beneath me I now knew what I'd felt wasn't even close.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: STATUS/APPEARANCE

C adjudicate: None

Topic 240 — Unsure How to Offer Comfort

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« oh my god, sean! »

« sean pursed his lips, unsure he was equal to the task of comforting [person]. »

« sean held out his hand and added; "now if you'll excuse me i have a beautiful woman waiting to have breakfast with me." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Liam could barely contain his excitement. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Oh," I said, thinking fast, watching as Seth started to show Liam how to use another nearby machine, while the Tiffanys and Brittany's gathered round, looking more worshipful than ever.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You need to stop nipping at him and face the fact that when Shon goes under, he's off limits, one breath away from being a hostile at our backs." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 247 — Promising You Will Not Be Alone

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« if we make it through this alone, we'll just be better at being alone." »

« you'll never be alone. »

« before you say no, i want you to know i'll be alone mostly. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Luc says Lena is a basket case and is alone at the house.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] If I went out alone, it seemed I felt surrounded by people who couldn't speak to me.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I promise you, you will never be alone again so long as I live."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I don't like you being out there in a hotel by yourself." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I've pictured this so many times in my mind, I don't want to wake up and find I'm alone again." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The words provided primarily revolve around emotional states and experiences, with no clear indication of material or status/appearance concerns.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 273 — Mentor Gives Firm Instructions

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i've known you since you did your training here, [person],' tom said sternly. ' »
« i've asked allen to keep an eye on him during the day while [person] is otherwise engaged. »
« charlotte, if it's okay with you, we'll go back to my place after we've bought you a phone. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] For Luke's sake, she hoped this apparent twosome meant Felicia was coming to her senses.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] That being so, I found it extremely gratifying to witness Felicia being sent on her way after being rather heatedly reminded that any free time Marcus has available will be spent with you." "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I thought I saw Felicia yesterday," she mentioned casually. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We barely know each other and if that isn't enough, there's Felicia to consider." "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Brenda asked me to take you around the house before she meets with you.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I know what will get your mind off of Nikki." "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Shit, the first time I met Kiara, she thought I was an asshole." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: EMS

The words and phrases used in the topic indicate a mix of emotional, material, and status/appearance security functions.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 277 — Promising to Handle The Lawyer

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MATERIAL (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'll talk to the lawyer tomorrow. »
« we'll find a good lawyer to help. »
« you can count on me to deal with the legal trouble they'll cause." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] You'd think a sharp lawyer like you would know that.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Mediation has never come easily for me and I need all the help I can get.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Somebody taking the law and using it for his own ends?
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The law is a funny thing," Claudia said. "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Such a lot of fuss over a piece of real estate that was destined by federal law to go unclaimed by anyone.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's important to establish legal boundaries of ownership, especially when you're talking about gems and precious metals.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The company property is fenced off, of course.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MATERIAL

C adjudicate: None

Topic 289 — Quick Peck on The Forehead

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« mikey, i'll be back soon, i promise," nate said, placing a quick peck on his forehead. " »
« nate arched an eyebrow, gesturing back toward the parking lot. " »
« nate looked at the older asian man gesturing wildly to them, then at the array of paints. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Perhaps we are becoming too jaded in our tastes, Nate?'
[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Dominic frowned, knowing that to demur a second time would definitely incur Nate's curiosity. '
[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I believe him to be behind the attack on Nathaniel.'

Model reasonings

A lexical: {'emotional': 7, 'material': 1, 'status': 1}

Words like 'nate', 'derick', 'walter', 'israfel', 'shame', 'mate', and 'gesturing' primarily evoke emotional responses or convey emotional states. 'Wiener' is associated with material aspects, while 'jr' suggests a status or appearance-related connotation.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 299 — Pledging to Have Your Back

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« before she's completely out i ask, "[person], you know i've always got your back, right?" »

« but i've seen you, seen who you are, watched you handle uncle charlie. »

« i've got a little time before charlie finishes my bike. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I understand you were the last one to see Charlie alive." "

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] More likely Scott messed with the wrong guy's wife.' ' "

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Kevin was worried that Scott's death was somehow related to Todd's return to Birmingham.'

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Part of him was probably glad Scott was dead.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] They all left for college with big dreams, except Scott and Kevin,' she said sadly. ' "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 307 — Hauling Someone Up The Stairs

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« [person] would hate it if she took a rake like [person] to her bed, and she would so love to rub it in joshua's face and prove his threats could not restrain her. " »

« his thoughts threatened to return to those awful times once again, but thankfully, ash and [person] emerged from the thicket. »

« getting ash up the stairs and into the bedroom was a lot harder than it had been last night, mostly because ash was pissed off and conscious instead of in la-la land. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You and Ashlynn are gonna have to keep him on the straight and narrow."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He stopped to pat Ashlynn and congratulate her on a large belch. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] But as he was approaching Clarksburg, Ashlynn chose that moment to be cranky.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Henry's crankiness had returned, and even sweet Ashlynn was wailing by now.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sniffing in disdain, Johnny pushed Ashlynn's stroler over to Grissom. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: emotional

The majority of the words are related to emotions, feelings, and actions driven by emotions, indicating that the primary security function is emotional.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 340 — Patience Tested Through Small Trials

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« for two years he had observed the christmas elf, but he never imagined touching her. »

« from the moment that she started working at her current job, she had never clicked with frank. »

« her patience throughout the meal with the girls never wavered, not with spilled drinks, sloppy faces and an occasional cry for attention. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She would never respond to such as he was.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He would never give her cause to regret it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She had obviously never been in mortal danger, either.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Up until now, she'd never met anyone who made her ache for the things that were denied her.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She never thought of herself as particularly brave.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She'd never known anything like the power and hunger of his kiss.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 355 — Blanket Draped Over Someone

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« bos went over to it and draped it over dainy as a blanket. »

« still, he struggled not to groan as she got him to a sitting position, resting his back against her front with the blanket draped across his lap. »

« [person] plucked at the soft down comforter draped over the bed. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The blanket was tucked around her as if pressed carefully there by someone else.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Once they had it blown up, he pulled the blanket out and spread it over the mattress before they sat down on it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Waiting for him to come out of the bathroom she pulled the light blanket over herself more to cover her bare legs than because she was cold.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She sat up, groggy from sleep, the blanket falling to her waist. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He had laid his coat down on one side and she knew it was there for a buffer between her skin and the velour-covered plastic of the mattress.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She snuggled down onto his coat pretending to herself that the scent of him was not having an impact on her emotions or physical comfort.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] His jacket, she realised, was still on the ground from where he had folded it to put under her head. ‘

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He shook out the comforter and sailed it over the top sheet, straightening it when it settled.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] The insulation on the wire had been nibbled. “

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She clutched the blanket around her shoulders closed, anxiety creeping up on her.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Val shifted his attention to Cord, who knelt beside the sofa, peeling the layers of blanket off the prone body. “

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] But instead of an empty seat, he saw a bundle under a blanket.

Model reasonings

A lexical: S1

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 356 — Admitting Exhaustion After A Long Day

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i am kind of tired, but you’ve done enough. »

« i’ve been riding most of the day, i’m tired.” “ »

« i’ve rested more than i ever expected to rest in the whole of my lifetime during the past six weeks,” he said, “and i’m feeling perfectly fresh. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I was tired and cold and done with feeling under siege for the day. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I was exhausted, too, but there was much yet to do.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Aren't you getting just a little tired of—” “I wasn't kidding about the way it gets dark out here.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You must be exhausted with all of your commitments at the moment?’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'm just tired, and I've got a big week.’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I was exhausted at just the idea of it. ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I was tired from a big week, my nervous energy had transformed into lethargy, and I was still drunkish.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 358 — Reassuring Squeeze of The Hand

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« she took bronte's hand and gave it a reassuring squeeze. " »

« ted reached for caroline's hands and smiled at her reassuring squeeze. " »

« they'll ask,” he murmured, and gave her waist a reassuring squeeze. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] She wrapped her fingers around the door handle. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Her fingers tightened around the receiver. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] But my parents—” "Are fine," he interrupted, groaning when she curved her fingers as far as she could around his hardening shaft. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Bea groaned then lifted her right hand to her brow. ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Beverley reached out and squeezed my hand. ‘

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He purred, rubbing his thumb over my hand. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Reid sighed, running his hands over my arms. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: E3M0S0

The text primarily focuses on emotional intimacy and reassurance, with no mention of material possessions or status/appearance. Keywords like 'squeeze', 'reassuring', 'calming', and 'trembling' emphasize emotional connection.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 372 — Told to Keep Up Strength

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« you'll need to keep up your strength if you're going to wrestle with that computer.” »

« you'll need your strength, cassia. »

« you'll need your strength. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] No, he was not yet strong enough to embark on whatever mission this was that he'd assigned himself.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] With hard work and perseverance, I made myself the man you see before you.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Whoever is on the other side of this door is uncommonly strong.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] But that was another thing about the violently deranged: they could have the strength of ten men.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You're generally made of much sturdier stuff than that,” Hurst was saying. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Even in the lower ranks, the invisible masses, you needed the D i p l o m a c y | 17 perfect background to push ahead.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Yet also, being a part of it, he felt expansive, strong. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A slim woman's hand, but definitely strong and able.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 293 — Admitting Jealousy Out Loud

Old taxonomy: 4.7 — Jealousy & Possessive Romance Conflict

New code: E (norm: None) | mixed=False

« the concept of jealousy is foreign to them. »

« but this jealousy of yours is gonna ruin what you've got with j.d.” “i know.” “ »

« we've been around the markets and —’ as she enthused away, i couldn't help but feel jealous. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I've always maintained that a little bit of jealousy looks good on a man. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Well, of course I'm jealous," I frowned, poking him in the chest. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She was also extremely irate over the fact that her boyfriend was using me to make her jealous—without my permission, as I've told you a couple of times.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm flattered that you're jealous, but you should know by now that no other woman could begin to compare with you.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And he was insanely jealous of the man I loved.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] This is not arrogance talking, this is not jealousy, it is simply a matter of facts."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I debated staying where I was, standing firm for ethical reasons, but the thought that she'd be in the closed, womb-like confines of the trailer alone with Raphael was enough to spike my jealousy count off the chart.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Not to mention you repeatedly batted your eyelashes at me in an obvious attempt to make him jealous.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I didn't mind a little bit of a possessive attitude, but he was taking things a bit too far. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Dark Ones are notoriously jealous about their soul mates.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I bet you're one of those men who likes to feel superior to women," Roxy said suspiciously.

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The majority of the words and phrases provided are directly related to emotional states and reactions, with 'jealous', 'jealousy', and 'emotion' being the most prominent. Words like 'upset', 'attracted', 'concerned', and 'wiped' further emphasize the emotional aspect of the topic.

B contextual: E

The majority of the sentences (17 out of 21) directly express or relate to jealousy, making 'Emotional' the dominant code.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 315 — Claiming Her As His Own

Old taxonomy: 4.7 — Jealousy & Possessive Romance Conflict

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« henri, should any ask, this woman belongs to my cousin tristan—and to me.” »

« everything he was warmed in tristan’s presence, and short of sounding like one of those cards that sang when opened, [person] didn’t know where to begin telling sey how much tristan seemed to fit into him—and around him. »

« i’ll call tristan right after i get off the phone.” ” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Val’s words slapped at him, forced him to realize a few things he’d rather have ignored.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Val was your shot at actually having a real life and you let her waltz right out the door.”

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Val looked at him as if he was out of his mind and that’s exactly how Dev felt. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Val wondered, just a little embarrassed to think that might be true.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Devlin Hudson didn’t know it, but Val had already won the first battle for his heart.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was as if even knowing that his parents had made up their differences, Dev was still determined to keep himself locked behind the walls Val had almost given up on smashing.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] His blood boiled as he looked at the computer-generated image of him and Val facing away from each other.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 75 — Talking About Being A Father

Old taxonomy: 5.1 — Family, Kinship & Parenthood

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« no matter how many disagreements you’ve had, he’s still your dad.” »

« what kind of dad is this going to make me after i’ve missed so much in his life?” »

« i’ve been waiting to join dads and daughters for ages, marni. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A pity you did not tell your father so,’ he added silkily. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Your father has told you what I wish to ask’ ‘Yes.’ ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Don’t you dare mention my father,’ she flared. ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] My father’s bound to miss me and we can’t take the risk.’ ‘

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Plus it had also been made clear to me that your father had very different plans for you.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] But if the leaders of the community find out my son brought you here, it will not go well for him.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 167 — Planning A Wedding Reception

Old taxonomy: 5.3a — Romantic Social Rituals & Public Couple Recognition

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« it’s my dream job, but instead of shooting brides, i’ll be shooting naked women. »

« we’ll get married next summer in the church in maine that my mother would take me to every sunday. »

« the ‘ceremony’ in boorowa might just be signing a few papers, but carley’s planned a wedding reception they’ll never forget.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] There’ll be plenty to talk about, anyway, after the wedding today .” “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Most of you seem to have caught wind of the DeWitt wedding.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Madison and I are getting married after church services.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] If the bride and groom would join hands and face each other, we’ll proceed in joining you together in holy matrimony .”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] And a girl shouldn’t be so rushed and put on the spot on her wedding day.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] H er wedding day dawned bright and crisp.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Just because it was her wedding day didn’t mean she should start thinking about sexy things like her wedding night .

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Strange to get married and not even know who was on the guest list .

Model reasonings

A lexical: S1

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 112 — Desperate Need For A Job

Old taxonomy: 6.4 — Economic Precarity, Security & Dependency

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i've never worked in such a beautiful place and i want this job so badly." »

« i've lost my job, and i'm not going to find another one in elliot or prestonsburg or probably even in auburn. »

« you've got a hell of a career ahead of you." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I am only sorry I cannot offer you such employment."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I cannot speak for others, but I know that my Olaf is well paid for his work, and has a dry, comfortable place to live and sleep, and that our table groans with food.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He offered me a job in the office, you know, filing, typing, secretarial work." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I best get to work anyhow, before I get myself fired.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] And I can earn a living working some job or another." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Good God, do you want to lose this job?" "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 140 — Demanding Answers Before Departure

Old taxonomy: 6.6 — Material Glamour & Consumption

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« before [person] could growl—david at least knew him well enough to know he would—[person] touched [person] leg and said, "right now i'll settle for some answers." »

« it's kind of amazing that a few simple words from [person] can have this effect, and [person] doesn't think he'll tire of it, ever. »

« who knows what you'll be walking into on benezet , much less how long you'll be gone." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Ben's doleful expression said that's exactly what he feared.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=end] A short time later, she was on the phone with Ben. "

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She'd told Ben about her engagement, and he'd been apoplectic at first, wanting to come immediately and "rescue" her.

Model reasonings

A lexical: S1

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 17 — Discussing Rooms and Privacy

Old taxonomy: 8.1 — Domestic Spaces & Routines

New code: S15 (norm: S15) | mixed=False

« i'll just go back to the dorms." »

« i think we'll go back upstairs and discuss that – don't you?" »

« but upstairs—" "we'll add two more bedrooms and another bath." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Does that mean you're living in the house?"

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We have the back stairway and the rooms on this side, so that'll give us our privacy.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] What was the point of a huge house with nobody to live in it?

Model reasonings

A lexical: S14

dry-run H3 pass A

B contextual: S15

dry-run H3 pass B

C adjudicate: None

Topic 49 — Drinking at The Bar

Old taxonomy: 8.2 — Public, Travel & Leisure Spaces

New code: MATERIAL (norm: None) | mixed=False

« avery lifted her own wine and swirled it in the light, her actions casual and her voice low enough so the few patrons assembled around the bar wouldn't hear. " »

« he leaned against the counter and opened it, taking a long drink of the weak ale as he watched the drunks back. »

« he leaned back and drained the last of the wine in his glass. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He twisted so he could keep hold of her while gulping down the rest of the wine. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The bartender plonked down glasses as soon as they walked in and sloshed amber liquor into them. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Bailey tipped his drink toward her lips and she took a sip of the scotch.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] She poured herself a glass of water and smiled when she heard a light tapping sound coming from the wall.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Give it to him with both barrels,” Lacey said under her breath. “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She giggled and took a sip of her wine. “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I asked him as he reached for his wine glass and took a huge gulp. “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She took one last gulp to finish her glass of champagne. “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He grinned at me, then took a huge gulp of beer. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: S1

B contextual: MATERIAL

The dominant code is 'MATERIAL' as most sentences revolve around actions involving drinks or glasses, indicating a focus on material aspects.

C adjudicate: None

Topic 260 — Crowd Goes Wild For Him

Old taxonomy: 8.2 — Public, Travel & Leisure Spaces

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« he played crazier than i've ever seen him, and from the way the crowd was going insane with cheering around me, cam played even crazier than anyone had ever seen him play, ever! »
« but it's a madness i've had all my life. »
« you see, i've gone and done something a little crazy. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He was going to drive himself insane if he didn't get out of the apartment.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The next few weeks were going to be crazy.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Terri swallowed thickly wondering if she really was as crazy as Joel accused her of being.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] He has just enough training to make him totally freak out every single day.” “

Model reasonings

A lexical: E

The text discusses mental instability (crazy, insane, madness) and its effects on thoughts (think, going), indicating emotional security function.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 321 — Leaning Against Trees and Rails

Old taxonomy: 8.2 — Public, Travel & Leisure Spaces

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« he said in a deceptively calm tone as he walked over to where she stood and leaned against the tree next to her. »
« she limped over to the porch rail and leaned against it while she looked out into the forest. »
« she leaned forward when she spotted the drive that was lined on either side with massive live oak trees. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] A rustling to my left alerts me that someone has stepped out onto Sarah's deck .
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Outside, dew coats the deck handrail like watery lace, and a blue heron streaks across the sky, her twiggy legs stretched long and lean behind her.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Water has pooled a round the base of a queen palm a nd trails slowly down the sidewalk. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She raises a foot and nestles it in a crook of the tree.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The dark trees loom above her, lining the street.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She scrambles as fast as she can down the tree. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Her leg scrapes against the bark, and she grasps desperately at the branches.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She reaches the base of the maple tree whose branches stretch above the house.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She doubts that telling Shannon she climbed the maple tree outside Henry's house will go over much better than if she had snuck into his house. “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] And besides, there was nothing on the other side of those woods as far as she knew--except more woods.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Excitement shot through her at the thought of skulking through the woods in search of the bad guy.

Model reasonings

A lexical: EMS

The words chosen evoke a sense of exploration, connection, and awareness, which are key elements in a romantic context.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: None

Topic 339 — Regulars at The Bar

Old taxonomy: 8.2 — Public, Travel & Leisure Spaces

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« i'm pretty sure i've been to every bar and club in the state, with crosbie right there beside me. »

« i've seen that the couple of times i've worked in the wild rose's bar. »

« but i've seen you at the bar for months. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Guards were prominent at the bar, as well as on the walls behind it.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] It was what you got when a bar, catering to male wolves, didn't have enough bouncers in place.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] It wasn't a big deal, just to the Pizza and Beer Joint—which, by the way, is the actual name of the place.

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You wanna stop in that bar over there and grab a beer?"

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=end] When he couldn't find her there, he'd set out for the bar.

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I know you need to deal with things at the bar, and I'm not sure how long we'll be gone.

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] After a fleeting glance to the center of the bar, he grinned. “

[BOOK_007 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] You can take my little brother behind the bar and rough him up a bit.

[BOOK_009 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] As Travis said, they hit up a bar where the guy served teens.

[BOOK_009 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Brent, you were great back in that bar bathroom.” “

[BOOK_009 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Dennis walked up to the bar, “Yo bartender.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: E2M3S1

The emotional security function is emphasized through words like 'enthusiasm', 'faces', and 'worst', suggesting a focus on feelings and interactions. Material security is evident in terms related to bars and their contents ('bar', 'bars', 'bartenders', 'stocked', 'saloon', 'desirables', 'scummy'). The status/appearance function is indicated by words like 'makeshift', 'possibilities', 'typical', and 'latest', which convey the atmosphere and appearance of the environment.

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

Topic 61 — Planning to Exchange Rings

Old taxonomy: 8.3a — Commitment Symbols & Love Tokens

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« in a few days, i'll go to the stone. »

« next time we'll put a ring on him.” »

« we'll take care of the rings tomorrow.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Just have to close it up again, until it looks like a ring, and we'll be fine.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Once they're gone, Shanley pricks Marie's finger with a lancet. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] It's not quite a perfect C-shape any longer, but more like one of those spoon bracelets that come in and out of fashion--the ends are drawing together, tightening, and that's a good thing, right?

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He took the ring out of the box and, with Damon's help, they placed it on her finger.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I might even be persuaded to wear my jewellery for you.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Damon and I agreed that you own our hearts so we thought this ring would be perfect for our union.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm going to buy you some jewellery to wear in the pretty hole.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He opened the lid and presented Rachel with a three karat heart-shaped ruby, surrounded by diamonds. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Remember that place in town where the guy makes the silver jewellery?” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The anal jewellery had been a little harder for her to get used to.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIXED

C adjudicate: None

H4 — Protection vs possession

32 topics with non-null care_protection_code.

Topic 6 — Whispered Reassurance

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: H4_1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« i'll make sure of it," he whispered. »
« you'll be fine," he whispered. “ »
« quiet, subdued, she nodded and then, “you'll be safe.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Later," she said softly, with a sly smile.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Ian stared right back and asked slowly, clearly, enunciating every word, “Who asked you to?”
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Okay,' she said, striving for a light tone in the heavy silence. ‘

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

These constructs help distinguish between genuine protection (responding to an external threat) and unhealthy behaviors (possessive claiming and coercive control) in romantic relationships.

Topic 31 — Keeping Watch While Others Sleep

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: PROTECTION (norm: H4_5) | mixed=True

« so you'll give me the stuff to sleep?" »
« you'll wake the baby.” “ »
« you sleep and i'll stand guard.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] That's because you snored most of the way.” “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I'm sick of lying in bed night after night like an old married couple.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: PROTECTION action=Provide external protection

Protection in this context requires external action to safeguard against threats, not possessive claiming or coercive control.

Topic 36 — Eagerly Offering to Help

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« of course, i'll help you.' »
« then you'll let me help," frances said at once, her expression eager. “ »
« sure, of course, i'll help.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And you know I'm here to help you in any way I can.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect

External protection is a crucial aspect of emotional safety and caretaking in a relationship. It involves shielding one's partner from external threats or harm, ensuring their physical and emotional well-being.

Topic 45 — Reassured Everything Will Be Fine

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« we'll be ok.” “ »
« nadines : you'll be ok? »
« ok, maybe a zero-tolerance one, but there's no doubt about it, you'll be great. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I'm fine," Amber replied quietly. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Your wound..." "I'm fine."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Is everything okay?" “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect

Protection in a romantic context involves safeguarding one's partner from external threats. The specific threat and means of protection are unknown in this case.

Topic 46 — Asking Someone to Trust You

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: PROTECT (norm: H4_5) | mixed=False

« you'll just have to trust me." »

« he'll trust you if you promise to keep me in sight." “ »

« my trust that he'll bring me to safety. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The critics wanted to prove that setting goals, drawing graphs, measuring results and evaluating the performance of individuals was nothing less than taking the place of trusting the Holy Spirit to give increase.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Trust us, all we need to do to you can be done here," one of the other guys said.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't trust yourself in a hotel room alone with me?"

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Wasn't there anyone you trusted to share your joy with?" “

Model reasonings

A lexical: H4

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: PROTECT action=External Protection

External Protection focuses on safeguarding the relationship from external threats, unlike Possessive Claiming and Coercive Control which involve internal power dynamics. It's about creating a secure perimeter, not controlling or manipulating the partner.

Topic 56 — Promising Never to Hurt You

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« you'll get hurt," he managed to say. " »

« you know i'll never hurt you ." »

« i'll make sure you aren't hurt." “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] He says that he knows it must hurt, but that whatever will be, will be, and that nothing we say or do will resolve things.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] It's all well and good saying you avoid pain by avoiding relationships, but what about the wonderful things you're avoiding as well?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] How can you emotionally blackmail me like this?' “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I don't ever want to be that hurt again." “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I just felt hurt that you hadn't told me.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't give him the satisfaction of letting it destroy you.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You're only doing it to hurt me, aren't you?" “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I'd never, ever do anything to hurt you.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Reassure

The topic of 'Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking' involves protecting the partner from emotional harm. In this case, the external threat is unknown, but the action of reassuring the partner is appropriate to provide emotional security.

Topic 70 — Keeping Watch While She Sleeps

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« maybe she'll get some sleep." “ »

« i'll wait until she wakes up and then i'll head back up to make sure shit doesn't go down in the mc." “ »

« for her, it's early, she'll be awake." “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] An instant later she was once more sound asleep.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] They wouldn't be getting much sleep tonight, she knew.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was months before she'd been able to sleep through the night.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It couldn't have been more than a few hours for she still felt drugged with exhaustion, her eyes grainy and her head stuffed full of cotton.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She realized that he wouldn't rest until he did.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was as if she'd been awoken from a long trance.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She just hoped that hers wouldn't catch up with her before the night ended. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It had left her exhausted and vulnerable.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect from external threats

Emotional safety and reassurance in a romantic context often involve protecting one's partner or relationship from external threats. This can include protecting from physical harm, emotional distress, or other negative influences.

Topic 83 — Reassured About Eating Regularly

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« i've eaten every few hours. »

« of course, i've never eaten one.” »

« and then you'll return late again... you won't need to do that—be late—because you've eaten.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Then I'll go hungry because I'm not eating with you.’ ‘

Model reasonings

A lexical: P

The words in this topic revolve around food and hunger, which are basic needs that require external protection (e.g., from famine, lack of resources, or other external threats). There's no indication of possessive claiming or coercive control.

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code (CELL_B) indicates expressions of hunger or lack thereof, suggesting an internal threat source related to hunger. There's no possessive claiming or coercive control language present.

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Distinguish

External protection focuses on safeguarding a partner from external threats, while possessive claiming and coercive control involve internal power dynamics and manipulation.

Topic 88 — Checking Her Feverish Temperature

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: P4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« no movement, her skin temperature clammy enough to make a ball of fear lodge in his gut. “ »

« now, [person], how has her temperature been? »

« the nippiness that was still molesting her limbs, she hoped, was indeed because of the low temperature and not a foretoken of her entering his residence. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Her entire body burned and her mind raced.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Every time he opened her up she felt a surge of wind invade her body and send pricks through her skin.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Chills shot up her spine and into her chest, causing her to arch her back, which made her breasts bounce just enough to command attention.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The rusted metal felt cold on the back of her thighs, and the persistent wind blew loose strands of her hair directly into the low O's of smoke she eased from the center of her dry mouth.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] She seemed fidgety and hurried us along, as if the food might get cold.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Lydia and Simon became visibly pale and shock emanated from them.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] That would have heated me up instantly, I teased.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Pure, fiery heat spread along her legs all the way up to her face. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Her body coiled from the heated friction and the way he seemed to keep hitting her newly found g-spot.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A cold bit of what felt like metal touched her chest.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: P4.6.1 action=Provide external protection

External protection involves safeguarding an individual from external threats to ensure their emotional and physical safety.

Topic 96 — Confessing Long-Standing Worry

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: H4-4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« i've been worried about you, [person]. »

« i've worried about you since i was twelve. »

« i've been worried about you.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You grew up worrying about having your basic needs met.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: H4-4.6.1 action=Distinguish

External Protection focuses on safeguarding from external threats, while Possessive Claiming and Coercive Control involve internal, often harmful, dynamics aimed at controlling or harming a partner.

Topic 119 — Offering to Keep Her Safe

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« come on, i'll protect you.” »

« you'll protect me?” “ »

« i can protect you from crystal, but you'll have to let me. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Viggo won't feel threatened, and you'll be okay.”

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I just wanted to check you got there safely.’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I didn't think security would leave you standing out here like this.’ ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] At least in LA you'd both have protection; you know my security guys are some of the best in the business.

Model reasonings

A lexical: {'external_protection': 'H4.1', 'possessive_claiming': 'H4.2', 'coercive_control': 'H4.3'}

{'external_protection': 'Protecting from external threats is necessary for safety and well-being.', 'possessive_claiming': 'While claiming ownership may have historical or cultural significance, it should not infringe upon autonomy.', 'coercive_control': 'Coercive control is unethical and harmful, as it violates autonomy and may cause psychological or physical harm.'}

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

These constructs help distinguish between genuine external threats that require protection, and harmful behaviors that are used to control or manipulate a partner.

Topic 161 — Reassuring Squeeze on The Shoulder

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« he'd stick to a reassuring squeeze of noah's shoulder and hope that was calming enough. »

« we'll be there, noah. »

« do you think he'll adopt noah ?” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was sheer stubbornness that kept him going, Gideon decided, thankful that he'd had the good fortune to be sired by one of the most stubborn old goats he'd ever encountered.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Not surprising, Gideon supposed, since the moon was nearly full and his more animalistic tendencies were on a very short, increasingly weak tether.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] These beings were no more human than he, Gideon knew.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When God forged a new covenant with Noah after the flood, for example, he included animals.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He rather appealed to God's ideal expressed in Genesis 2.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] When God raised up Israel to be his vehicle for restoring the world, he commissioned them to exercise loving dominion over the land he was giving them and over the animals that inhabited it.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It symbolized that these people were set apart for God and that if anyone broke covenant with God they'd be cut off from the people (Genesis 17:14).

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] They thought the Messiah would lead Israel to victory over their Roman oppressors and would reestablish Israel as a sovereign nation under God.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] First fruits” refers to fruit that ripened and was picked before the rest of the harvest and was then consecrated to God (Exodus 23:19).

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code (CELL_B) indicates that the text primarily discusses external protection, as it mentions threats (e.g., 'animalistic tendencies', 'Roman oppressors') and protection from them (e.g., 'exercise loving dominion', 'Messiah would lead Israel to victory'). There is no possessive claiming or coercive control language present.

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect

Protection in relationships involves safeguarding against external threats, distinct from possessive claiming or coercive control. It requires identifying potential dangers, planning for safety, and engaging support networks.

Topic 172 — Reporting to The Security Officer

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« you'll also report this to your regional security officer, yes?" »

« i'll have an armed officer [person] the room with you at all times, and i'll watch through the glass." " »

« i've called the police, i'll have you know." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Then I told the police exactly what he told me to say." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Do you think being worried over another officer's absence justifies a breach in regulations?"

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I give an order, and because I'm your superior officer, you are supposed to obey it." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_A

The dominant code (CELL_A) and the majority of sentences mention the police, indicating an external threat source. No possessive claiming or coercive control language is present.

C adjudicate: MIXED action={'type': 'distinguish', 'target': 'external_protection', 'from': ['possessive_claiming', 'coercive_control']}

External protection focuses on safeguarding a partner from external threats, while possessive claiming and coercive control are internal, harmful dynamics aimed at controlling or dominating a partner.

Topic 173 — Waiting For Him to Wake

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: PROTECTION (norm: H4_5) | mixed=False

« it's after him so you'll just have to wait until he wakes up to get your answer." »

« it'll put him to sleep." »

« yeah, i guess i'll have to wait and see when he wakes up. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Could he count on not waking him when he lifted him from that warm bed?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He'd awakened to this darkness, and so far he hadn't been able to work up the nerve to move.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He looked fresh, rejuvenated, as though their little fling from last night hadn't permanently affected his energy.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He used to jog the property's perimeter every morning, before breakfast.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He's sleeping for longer periods of time at night now," Jacob said. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: PROTECTION action=Provide external protection

Protection involves safeguarding someone from external dangers or threats, ensuring their physical and emotional safety.

Topic 175 — Gentleman Offers Steadying Support

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: P4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« the occurrences of the day were too full of interest to leave elizabeth much attention for any of these new friends; and she could do nothing but think, and think with wonder, of mr. [person]'s civility, and, above all, of his wishing her to be acquainted with his sister. »

« mr. [person] placed his hand on [person]'s shoulder for support as mr. [person] barely walked out the front door. »

« yes, but when i fell ill, it was apparent that i could not travel all the way to calais, so mr. [person] took me to the house of a friend of his: mr. [person]." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] On his way to see Mistress Gwyllain to explain your...ah, unexplained arrival."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Take his offering," Gwyllain demanded. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Shit," grunted Sheridan, apparently immune to Owen's considerable charms. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sheridan was stil pale and anxious looking.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: P4.6.1 action=Protect

Protection in the context of emotional safety involves safeguarding the individual from external threats that could cause emotional harm. This can be achieved through buffering, maintaining a warning system, and providing a safe haven.

Topic 190 — Offering to Get Someone Cleaned Up

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: H4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« i'll get cleaned up here as soon as i can. »

« i'll pay to have it cleaned.” “ »

« i'll get her cleaned up," said a handsome groom, taking her arm. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Just sit there for a minute, Solange, while I clean you up.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I will clean up the battlefield while you drink plenty of fluids.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I know you would prefer to burn it yourselves out of respect, but my way will be faster, cleaner and will ensure no parasites escape.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] He was grateful for the rich dirt floor.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] May I know why you gave Mr. Thesiger the brush off just now?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Don't you see that if you go ahead with this annulment, if you air the Roxtons' dirty laundry in public, I will be utterly, utterly ruined.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] A lackey came out from behind the butler with pan and brush and quickly set to sweeping up the shards of broken glass from Deb's smashed wine glass.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Do try your very best not to make a mess of things."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: H4.6.1 action=Protect

Protection in a relationship involves safeguarding against external threats, not possessive claiming or coercive control. It requires identifying and addressing potential dangers to ensure emotional safety and reassurance.

Topic 193 — Nurse Arranged After Hospital Release

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.193 (norm: None) | mixed=False

« and you'll both stay here, at caleb's?" “ »

« i'll arrange for a nurse to come to the house when they release caleb. »

« twenty-three caleb y ou ignore me, and i'll ignore you . »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Kayla points to me, like she can't figure out who Gavin's talking about.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] In any case, I'm going to need to return myself to help out because Ramsey will be busy with Chloe and the baby," he continued. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] After numerous brushes with the law and butting heads with the parents of a young lady who didn't want him to be a part of their daughter's life, Dillon had convinced Bane to get his life together.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] This was September, and Chloe was due to deliver in November, which meant Callum would be leaving Denver a few months after that.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Dillon and Ramsey did an awesome job and I know for sure we were a handful at times, some of us more than others."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] From what Callum had heard, Bane had been only eight when his parents had been killed.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.193 action=Distinguish

External protection is focused on safeguarding a partner from external threats, while possessive claiming and coercive control are internal dynamics that aim to control or dominate a partner, often driven by insecurity or a desire for power.

Topic 224 — Encouraging Words From An Angel

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: H4 (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you've got this, angel, take it to the house.” »

« i'll come back, angel. »

« because i'm thinking i'll have a hard time finding another angel to handle it." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I most certainly do think the great evil knows about Gabriel."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] the evil one said as his life essence swept by him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I have complete faith in Val and Gabriel." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Tell me what kind of evil," Gabriel asked.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] By the gods," Val hissed as he and Gabriel came upon the creature. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Once, as I stood on the cliffs trying to understand the power I held, trying to comprehend why I would ever want to send my voice a thousand miles away on the wind, he'd told me that I looked like an angel blessed by the Almighty.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I took a pleasant interlude of imagining myself nibbling on Evangeline's ass.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] With Evangeline beneath me I now knew what I'd felt wasn't even close.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: H4

C adjudicate: H4 action=Distinguish

External Protection is about safeguarding a partner from real external threats, while Possessive Claiming and Coercive Control involve internal, often manipulative, dynamics that aim to control or dominate a partner.

Topic 240 — Unsure How to Offer Comfort

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: H4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« oh my god, sean! »

« sean pursed his lips, unsure he was equal to the task of comforting [person]. »

« sean held out his hand and added; "now if you'll excuse me i have a beautiful woman waiting to have breakfast with me." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Liam could barely contain his excitement. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Oh," I said, thinking fast, watching as Seth started to show Liam how to use another nearby machine, while the Tiffanys and Brittanys gathered round, looking more worshipful than ever.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You need to stop nipping at him and face the fact that when Shon goes under, he's off limits, one breath away from being a hostile at our backs." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: 240

{'external': 'External protection involves safeguarding someone from an external threat, maintaining their autonomy.', 'internal': 'Possessive claiming and coercive control involve internal, often manipulative, behaviors that restrict autonomy.'}

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: H4.6.1 action=Protect

These constructs help distinguish between healthy protective behaviors and unhealthy, controlling ones in romantic relationships.

Topic 247 — Promising You Will Not Be Alone

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: H4.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« if we make it through this alone, we'll just be better at being alone." »

« you'll never be alone. »

« before you say no, i want you to know i'll be alone mostly. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Luc says Lena is a basket case and is alone at the house.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] If I went out alone, it seemed I felt surrounded by people who couldn't speak to me.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I promise you, you will never be alone again so long as I live."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I don't like you being out there in a hotel by yourself." "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I've pictured this so many times in my mind, I don't want to wake up and find I'm alone again." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: H4.1 action=Protect

Protection in the context of emotional safety and reassurance involves creating a safe space and strengthening the individual or relationship against external threats.

Topic 273 — Mentor Gives Firm Instructions

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« i've known you since you did your training here, [person],' tom said sternly. ' »
« i've asked allen to keep an eye on him during the day while [person] is otherwise engaged. »
« charlotte, if it's okay with you, we'll go back to my place after we've bought you a phone. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] For Luke's sake, she hoped this apparent twosome meant Felicia was coming to her senses.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] That being so, I found it extremely gratifying to witness Felicia being sent on her way after being rather heatedly reminded that any free time Marcus has available will be spent with you." "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I thought I saw Felicia yesterday," she mentioned casually. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] We barely know each other and if that isn't enough, there's Felicia to consider." "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Brenda asked me to take you around the house before she meets with you.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I know what will get your mind off of Nikki." "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Shit, the first time I met Kiara, she thought I was an asshole." "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code (CELL_B) and the majority of sentences exhibit protective language, with external threats mentioned. No possessive claiming or coercive control language is present.

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect

External protection is a form of emotional safety and caretaking that involves safeguarding one's partner from external threats or harm. This is distinct from possessive claiming and coercive control, as it is focused on genuine protection rather than control or ownership.

Topic 277 — Promising to Handle The Lawyer

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: PROTECT (norm: H4_5) | mixed=False

« i'll talk to the lawyer tomorrow. »
« we'll find a good lawyer to help. »
« you can count on me to deal with the legal trouble they'll cause." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] You'd think a sharp lawyer like you would know that.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Mediation has never come easily for me and I need all the help I can get.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Somebody taking the law and using it for his own ends?
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The law is a funny thing," Claudia said. "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Such a lot of fuss over a piece of real estate that was destined by federal law to go unclaimed by anyone.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's important to establish legal boundaries of ownership, especially when you're talking about gems and precious metals.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The company property is fenced off, of course.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: PROTECT action={'type': 'protect', 'target': 'partner', 'from': 'external_threat'}

Protection in this context involves shielding one's partner from external threats, not possessive claiming or coercive control. It's about providing emotional safety and reassurance.

Topic 289 — Quick Peck on The Forehead

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« mikey, i'll be back soon, i promise," nate said, placing a quick peck on his forehead. " »
« nate arched an eyebrow, gesturing back toward the parking lot. " »
« nate looked at the older asian man gesturing wildly to them, then at the array of paints. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Perhaps we are becoming too jaded in our tastes, Nate?'
[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Dominic frowned, knowing that to demur a second time would definitely incur Nate's curiosity. '
[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I believe him to be behind the attack on Nathaniel.'

Model reasonings

A lexical: 289

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Distinguish

Distinguishing these concepts is crucial for understanding and addressing unhealthy dynamics in romantic relationships. External protection is a genuine effort to keep a partner safe, while possessive claiming and coercive control are harmful behaviors that aim to control and dominate.

Topic 299 — Pledging to Have Your Back

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« before she's completely out i ask, "[person], you know i've always got your back, right?" »

« but i've seen you, seen who you are, watched you handle uncle charlie. »

« i've got a little time before charlie finishes my bike. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I understand you were the last one to see Charlie alive." "

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] More likely Scott messed with the wrong guy's wife.' '

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Kevin was worried that Scott's death was somehow related to Todd's return to Birmingham.'

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Part of him was probably glad Scott was dead.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] They all left for college with big dreams, except Scott and Kevin,' she said sadly. '

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 307 — Hauling Someone Up The Stairs

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=False

« [person] would hate it if she took a rake like [person] to her bed, and she would so love to rub it in joshua's face and prove his threats could not restrain her. " »

« his thoughts threatened to return to those awful times once again, but thankfully, ash and [person] emerged from the thicket. »

« getting ash up the stairs and into the bedroom was a lot harder than it had been last night, mostly because ash was pissed off and conscious instead of in la-la land. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You and Ashlynn are gonna have to keep him on the straight and narrow."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He stopped to pat Ashlynn and congratulate her on a large belch. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] But as he was approaching Clarksburg, Ashlynn chose that moment to be cranky.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Henry's crankiness had returned, and even sweet Ashlynn was wailing by now.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Sniffing in disdain, Johnny pushed Ashlynn's stroler over to Grissom. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect

Protection in a romantic context involves safeguarding the relationship from external threats. This includes identifying potential dangers, creating safety plans, and fostering open communication about these issues.

Topic 340 — Patience Tested Through Small Trials

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: PROTECT (norm: H4_5) | mixed=False

« for two years he had observed the christmas elf, but he never imagined touching her. »

« from the moment that she started working at her current job, she had never clicked with frank. »

« her patience throughout the meal with the girls never wavered, not with spilled drinks, sloppy faces and an occasional cry for attention. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She would never respond to such as he was.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He would never give her cause to regret it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She had obviously never been in mortal danger, either.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Up until now, she'd never met anyone who made her ache for the things that were denied her.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] She never thought of herself as particularly brave.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] She'd never known anything like the power and hunger of his kiss.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

C adjudicate: PROTECT action=Defend against external threats

External protection is distinct from possessive claiming and coercive control as it focuses on defending against external threats, rather than controlling or dominating one's partner.

Topic 355 — Blanket Draped Over Someone

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: S1 (norm: S1) | mixed=True

« bos went over to it and draped it over dainy as a blanket. »
« still, he struggled not to groan as she got him to a sitting position, resting his back against her front with the blanket draped across his lap.
»
« [person] plucked at the soft down comforter draped over the bed. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The blanket was tucked around her as if pressed carefully there by someone else.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Once they had it blown up, he pulled the blanket out and spread it over the mattress before they sat down on it.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Waiting for him to come out of the bathroom she pulled the light blanket over herself more to cover her bare legs than because she was cold.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She sat up, groggy from sleep, the blanket falling to her waist. '
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He had laid his coat down on one side and she knew it was there for a buffer between her skin and the velour-covered plastic of the mattress.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She snuggled down onto his coat pretending to herself that the scent of him was not having an impact on her emotions or physical comfort.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] His jacket, she realised, was still on the ground from where he had folded it to put under her head. '
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He shook out the comforter and sailed it over the top sheet, straightening it when it settled.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] The insulation on the wire had been nibbled. "
[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She clutched the blanket around her shoulders closed, anxiety creeping up on her.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Val shifted his attention to Cord, who knelt beside the sofa, peeling the layers of blanket off the prone body. "
[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] But instead of an empty seat, he saw a bundle under a blanket.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: S1 action=Distinguish

Distinguishing these concepts is crucial for understanding healthy vs. unhealthy relationship dynamics. External protection is a form of caretaking that ensures the partner's safety, while possessive claiming and coercive control are forms of abuse that aim to control the partner.

Topic 356 — Admitting Exhaustion After A Long Day

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« i am kind of tired, but you've done enough. »
« i've been riding most of the day, i'm tired." " »
« i've rested more than i ever expected to rest in the whole of my lifetime during the past six weeks," he said, "and i'm feeling perfectly fresh.
»

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I was tired and cold and done with feeling under siege for the day. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I was exhausted, too, but there was much yet to do.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Aren't you getting just a little tired of—" "I wasn't kidding about the way it gets dark out here.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You must be exhausted with all of your commitments at the moment?' '
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'm just tired, and I've got a big week.' '
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I was exhausted at just the idea of it. '
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I was tired from a big week, my nervous energy had transformed into lethargy, and I was still drunkish.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 356

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect

Protection in this context requires an external threat, distinguishing it from possessive claiming and coercive control. It's about safeguarding one's partner from external dangers, not controlling or dominating them.

Topic 358 — Reassuring Squeeze of The Hand

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: MIXED (norm: None) | mixed=True

« she took bronte's hand and gave it a reassuring squeeze. " »
« ted reached for caroline's hands and smiled at her reassuring squeeze. " »
« they'll ask," he murmured, and gave her waist a reassuring squeeze. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] She wrapped her fingers around the door handle. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Her fingers tightened around the receiver. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] But my parents—" "Are fine," he interrupted, groaning when she curved her fingers as far as she could around his hardening shaft. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Bea groaned then lifted her right hand to her brow. ‘
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Beverley reached out and squeezed my hand. ‘
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] He purred, rubbing his thumb over my hand. ”
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Reid sighed, running his hands over my arms. ”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: MIXED action={‘type’: ‘distinguish’, ‘target’: ‘external_protection, possessive_claiming, coercive_control’}

External Protection is about safeguarding a partner from external threats, while Possessive Claiming and Coercive Control involve controlling or dominating a partner, often infringing on their autonomy and freedom.

Topic 372 — Told to Keep Up Strength

Old taxonomy: 4.6 — Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking

New code: 4.6.1 (norm: H4_1) | mixed=True

« you'll need to keep up your strength if you're going to wrestle with that computer.” »
« you'll need your strength, cassia. »
« you'll need your strength. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] No, he was not yet strong enough to embark on whatever mission this was that he'd assigned himself.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] With hard work and perseverance, I made myself the man you see before you.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Whoever is on the other side of this door is uncommonly strong.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] But that was another thing about the violently deranged: they could have the strength of ten men.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You're generally made of much sturdier stuff than that,” Hurst was saying. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Even in the lower ranks, the invisible masses, you needed the D i p l o m a c y | 17 perfect background to push ahead.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Yet also, being a part of it, he felt expansive, strong. “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] A slim woman's hand, but definitely strong and able.

Model reasonings

A lexical: A1B2C3

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: 4.6.1 action=Protect

Protection in this context involves safeguarding one's partner from external threats, not possessive claiming or coercive control. The lexical and contextual clues, along with the topic's taxonomy, support this interpretation.

Topic 293 — Admitting Jealousy Out Loud

Old taxonomy: 4.7 — Jealousy & Possessive Romance Conflict

New code: H4_7 (norm: H4_7) | mixed=False

« the concept of jealousy is foreign to them. »
« but this jealousy of yours is gonna ruin what you've got with j.d.” “i know.” “ »
« we've been around the markets and —’ as she enthused away, i couldn't help but feel jealous. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I've always maintained that a little bit of jealousy looks good on a man. ”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Well, of course I'm jealous,” I frowned, poking him in the chest. ”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She was also extremely irate over the fact that her boyfriend was using me to make her jealous—without my permission, as I've told you a couple of times.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm flattered that you're jealous, but you should know by now that no other woman could begin to compare with you.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And he was insanely jealous of the man I loved.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] This is not arrogance talking, this is not jealousy, it is simply a matter of facts.”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I debated staying where I was, standing firm for ethical reasons, but the thought that she'd be in the closed, womb-like confines of the trailer alone with Raphael was enough to spike my jealousy count off the chart.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Not to mention you repeatedly batted your eyelashes at me in an obvious attempt to make him jealous.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I didn't mind a little bit of a possessive attitude, but he was taking things a bit too far. ”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Dark Ones are notoriously jealous about their soul mates.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I bet you're one of those men who likes to feel superior to women,” Roxy said suspiciously.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

Most sentences express jealousy without possessive or controlling language, and the threat source is external.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 315 — Claiming Her As His Own

Old taxonomy: 4.7 — Jealousy & Possessive Romance Conflict

New code: H4_7 (norm: H4_7) | mixed=False

« henri, should any ask, this woman belongs to my cousin tristan—and to me.” »

« everything he was warmed in tristan’s presence, and short of sounding like one of those cards that sang when opened, [person] didn’t know where to begin telling sey how much tristan seemed to fit into him—and around him. »

« i’ll call tristan right after i get off the phone.” ” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Val’s words slapped at him, forced him to realize a few things he’d rather have ignored.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Val was your shot at actually having a real life and you let her waltz right out the door.”

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Val looked at him as if he was out of his mind and that’s exactly how Dev felt. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Val wondered, just a little embarrassed to think that might be true.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Devlin Hudson didn’t know it, but Val had already won the first battle for his heart.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was as if even knowing that his parents had made up their differences, Dev was still determined to keep himself locked behind the walls Val had almost given up on smashing.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] His blood boiled as he looked at the computer-generated image of him and Val facing away from each other.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

H5 — Darkness vs tenderness boundaries

22 topics with non-null darkness_code.

Topic 64 — Confronting A Lifelong Fear

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« from what you've told me, ella, your childhood was full of worry.” “ »
« but now you can say you've faced one of your fears.” “ »
« fears i've had my entire life come rushing forward, radiating from those four little words. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You shouldn't have to live your life in fear,” Mrs. Pearson said, her kind gaze a little sad as she looked at Drea. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] But I was afraid of you, afraid of the things you would do.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Right now, I think you need to decide which of us scares you more.” “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I was going to tell you that I wanted to wait, and I was afraid... I was so afraid that you wouldn't want to.”
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I was so afraid that if we started up again, I'd end up messing around on you.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I was so afraid to tell you... I know I was wrong.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 66 — Paralyzed By Deep-Seated Fear

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« at times, she was terrified. »
« the idea terrified her. »
« even though she was in the body of a woman now, she was still a terrified little girl. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] She'd approached him cautiously that day as if terrified of him. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He actually appeared to be afraid for her. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] His cold demeanor was such that she was afraid to even move. "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] So why had she suddenly felt so vulnerable?
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And then all the self-control she'd employed, holding tightly on to her panic, her fears, dissolved.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code 'CELL_B' represents external crisis, with the main couple experiencing panic and fear in B00K_002 and B00K_003. Relational darkness is present in B00K_001, with the character feeling afraid of her partner. Individual distress is present in B00K_003, B00K_004, and B00K_005, with characters experiencing fear, anxiety, and panic. Partner harm is not present in the given data.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 92 — Heart Pounding With Dread

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« her heart pounded, not knowing what to say. »
« verses the preacher read trailed into a muffled slow motion speech, the whipping sounds of the makeshift paper fans faded to tiny flutters, the anxious pounding of her heart slowed to a steady beat as she stood hand in hand with her best friend. »
« lizzie's heart pounded wildly as she braced herself for the assault. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The realization constricted her throat and made her chest tighten.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Heartbeat roaring in her ears, she considered her options.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] A strong desire to surround herself with memories of her love swelled within her until she thought her heart would burst.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The sight that met her sent her heart plummeting to her knees.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Aiden's harsh inhale ruffled her hair and she felt the rapid thud of his heartbeat against her shoulder blade.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She willed her heartbeat into submission. "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Her heart pumped, expanded to fill her chest when the next thought came.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] A stitch of anger pulled in her chest. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: 92

The text primarily focuses on the individual's emotional state, with no explicit mention of harm from a partner or an external crisis. The use of words like 'panic', 'trembling', 'frantic', and 'distress' indicates individual distress, while terms like 'heart', 'chest', 'beat', and 'pounding' suggest a relational darkness theme, possibly related to romantic tension or anxiety.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 102 — Grief Etched on His Face

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« we've lost adam,' she whispered and her fingers traced the contours of grief still etched on his face. ' »
« not only did she have a cool and savvy partner actually in the game with her, the surroundings, the actions were so real that her heart pounded and adrenaline flooded her, almost as if she really was helping adam sabotage a bridge while avoiding capture by nazi soldiers. »
« holy hell, adam—I've known her long enough to realize she's thinking about a lot more than a blowjob.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Cain winced as the other man spoke bluntly. “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Cain just shook his head and crossed back to the bed. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And on that thought, he said, “I talked to Adam a minute ago.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

```
{'relational_darkness': 'The dominant code (CELL_B) indicates a higher presence of relational darkness, with Cain and Adam having higher proportions than Eve.', 'individual_distress': 'The individual distress dimension is present in all characters, with Adam showing the highest levels.'}
```

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 133 — Holding Back Tears

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« we'll leave all our tears out to dry on the patio while we swan off to the acropolis! »
« they'll also cry foul. »
« they'll tell you that i don't do crying. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The tears weren't just gathering under my eyelashes now.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] A lot of people are going to die before this is over, so dry the tears and deal.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I rub at my grimy eyes, stuck shut at the corners from the excess tears I cried last night.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And then I weep again, silent tears tracing themselves down my face, plunking hollowly against my robe.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 133

The text describes a romantic scenario with intense emotions, tears, and sadness, indicating a high level of distress. The use of words like 'harshly', 'begged', and 'pressure' suggests potential partner harm, while 'inevitable' and 'tracks' hint at external crisis. The majority of words, however, point to individual distress.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 145 — Confessing How Much It Hurts

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« it still hurts so much.” »
« it hurts too much.” ” »
« but the rest of me hurts.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The pain was still there but it didn't matter.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The pain—it hasn't always been this bad has it?
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's quite painful, but it'll be over before long.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Oh, come on, it doesn't hurt that bad.” “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And those hurt more than you can imagine. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code 'CELL_B' represents pain and suffering, which is the main topic discussed in the given sentences. The sentences are categorized into relational darkness (pain experienced in relationships) and individual distress (personal pain and coping mechanisms).

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 152 — Awkward Apology and Embarrassment

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« one of the girls goes, “oh my god, i’m so sorry!” »

« oh, charlotte,” [person] said, feeling genuinely sorry for the woman. »

« i apologize that my sister bothered you with details from my personal life,” she said, searching the conversation for the nearest exit. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Then softly and in a broken voice, she added, “I’m sorry, Ben.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I’m sorry I couldn’t save you from that,” he said softly. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I’m sorry he hit you,” she said softly without moving from the grate. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You’ll be sorry you did that,” he grated out. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I’m sorry, Your Grace,” she said, while every particle of her wanted to spit disgust into the woman’s exquisite face. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Softly, she said, “Kylemore, I’m sorry I left without telling you.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Oh, honey, I am so sorry...’ She held me and allowed me to just cry all over her bare, tanned shoulder. ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You’ll get over it,’ she said knowingly. ‘

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Sorry, honey – I’ve had an absolute bastard of a day,’ she said as she kissed me and dumped her coat on the floor.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Oh, sorry,” she said looking embarrassed. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She mouthed the word sorry to me as she handed me the phone. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 179 — Dreading What You Stand to Lose

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you’ll lose your reason, wishing yourself dead. »

« i am fearful we’ll still lose him. »

« but you’ll lose me? »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I will not risk losing Seti because you two imbeciles were impatient.” “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The only thing I don’t doubt is that I’ve lost my mind.” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I was under the impression you’d rather I get and stay lost.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 220 — Called Out For Being Embarrassing

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you two are so ignorant it’s embarrassing.” »

« this is so embarrassing.” »

« [person] you are embarrassing her.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] This was every bit as embarrassing as I’d thought it would be. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Me, of course, they felt free to embarrass.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Fifteen T here’s something particularly humiliating about almost being arrested by your little brother. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] That was undoubtedly a good thing, but it made me uncomfortable.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] We have a humiliation special with a side of mortified.”

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] But it’s kind of embarrassing how hardcore old-school this place is.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] It was even more humiliating to be in this situation when you were twenty-eight years old.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] When I first saw my Henry, I was upset and in denial too.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_C · tertile=end] She'd thought on it all day long and the more she replayed the conversation in her head, the more embarrassed she became.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 220

The topic revolves around feelings of embarrassment, shame, and upset, primarily stemming from the individual's own actions or experiences, rather than external crises or partner harm.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 244 — Confessing A Shattered Heart

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i've been heartbroken, truly shattered since leaving you behind in cleveland . »

« and actually it's pretty handy you love me since i've already had my heart smashed around like day old potatoes once this year." »

« it's always been the way i've protected my heart, though i never thought about the hearts of the women i used. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Your soft heart would weep over some of the things I've done and the choices I've made.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You saved a child who would otherwise be dead right now and you risked your own life to do it because your heart is too soft for you to say no even though it might have meant your own death. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Dear Author SWEET SURRENDER “This story ran my heart through the wringer more than once.” —

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] There's not another group of men who have more heart, determination and courage.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's what my heart, and my head, demands.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Following your heart will pay off in the near future.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future .

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future .

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Not the best of moods for a heart to heart. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: 244

The topic revolves around emotional distress and darkness in the context of romantic relationships and individual emotional turmoil.

B contextual: CELL_C

The dominant code 'CELL_C' indicates a mix of relational darkness and individual distress. The tenderness signals are based on the provided H1 code 'I3' and its proposed constructs of reconciliation and commitments.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 281 — Told to Calm Down First

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you've got to calm, down first. »

« i've not been relieved of my post. »

« i've really helped relax, comfort and ease anger and rage with these guys. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The stress is starting to take its toll.” “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Not as stimulating as Cleo, but productive nonetheless.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Steady , he warned himself, before you have a goddamn panic attack .

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He still sounded as calm as if this kind of thing happened every day of the week.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Ari noted details with detached calmness.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Nor have I ever seen you as stirred up as you are after a mere few minutes in the presence of Miss Crane.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code is 'CELL_B' as it appears most frequently and is associated with individual distress, which is the most prevalent dimension in the given data.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 285 — Confessing Years of Hatred

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i've hated him for years. »

« heath has done a wonderful job with him, but i—well, i've hated him for living instead of you. »

« ever since this cunt came here, i've been, uh, less than balanced, i admit, and remembering things i've tried to forget, reasons to hate, reasons to hate, and you've become a liar. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Looking back now, I can see all the hatred I had in me, but at the time it just seemed like everyone was out to get me.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] It had been a long time since his presence had evoked disdain.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And I hated submitting to your licentious thoughts and advances!" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You expressed a dislike of both Himins and myself.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 285

The text expresses strong negative feelings towards a partner ('hate', 'hated', 'hates', 'hating', 'hateful', 'dislike'), indicating relational darkness and potential partner harm ('treated'). The use of words like 'shock' suggests an external crisis, while the focus on the self ('me', 'myself', 'forever', 'liked', 'admit', 'uh', 'purpose', 'deserve', 'planning', 'breathed') indicates individual distress.

B contextual: CELL_B

The 'relational_darkness' dimension includes sentences expressing general dislike or hatred, while 'partner_harm' specifically targets the partner in the relationship. The other dimensions were not present in the given data.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 322 — Consumed By Guilt After The Act

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« before i fell asleep i was thinking i would wake up this morning consumed with guilt because of what we did, but it wasn't like that at all. »

« he's consumed with his guilt. »

« the only way victor could bury the guilt was to remind himself his actions were all to a higher purpose. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] And no holding on to a grudge here and there.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Also because I feel tremendously guilty about what I wrote Belinda—a note you must have read." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] article about how guys who cheat on their wives often say corny stuff like this to ease their guilty feelings. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Oddly enough, his guilt had disappeared with the anger.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Even though his grief had finally eased, the guilt had become part of him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] How he felt about Kari added a different guilt.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Second, you, little nun, have guilt added into the mix.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I mean can't-get-out-of-bed kind of guilt.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Except that she's feeling insanely guilty about it.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I felt a combination of guilt, validation, and frustration over the events of that afternoon.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: ['CELL_D', 'CELL_A', 'CELL_B', 'CELL_B']

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 366 — Paralyzed By Irrational Fear

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« it's like a person who is irrationally terrified of insects throwing a bowl over a cricket in her living room, and then, in sheer terror, stacking a heavy dictionary on top of the bowl so the cricket can't escape. »

« for some reason, he was fucking terrified. »

« and he was terrified of what that meant. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He can be pretty damned terrifying when it suits him." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Nightmares and prophesies notwithstanding, he simply wasn't capable of it.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was the more that scared the hell out of him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code is CELL_B, indicating individual distress, as it appears in the majority of the sentences. Relational darkness is present in CELL_A and CELL_C, while partner harm and external crisis are not explicitly present in the given sentences.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 27 — Racing The Approaching Storm

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« it'll be dark before we know it.” »
« i don't know if i'll be able to get back here before the storm hits. »
« it's going to rain and we'll be caught out in the storm. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Their lips met, and an explosion of passion took them along on a tide, the darkness that surrounded them like a blanket against the rest of the world.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Just as they reached the spot a man strode angrily out of a neighbouring field, and even in the poor light his expression could be seen as thunderous.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] They were still driving, the high hedges making it impossible for them to see anything but the road in front of them.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Before morning, word had come that Leonidas was lost.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Like a storm coming in from the mountains.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] They were deep in the mountains, and evening was coming on.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_C

```
{'relational_darkness': 'Dark or ambiguous settings and moods.', 'partner_harm': 'No instances of partner harm were found in the given data.', 'external_crisis': 'Events or situations that threaten the couple's safety or well-being from external sources.', 'individual_distress': 'Emotional or mental turmoil experienced by an individual in the couple.'}
```

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 184 — Racing to Stop A Spreading Fire

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« you've got the fire. »
« it looks like we've got an arson and a murder on our hands.” “ »
« we've got to get down to the fire station and get rolling before that fire starts to spread.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] She looked innocent, but she played with fire. “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He'd already called and checked in, and there were no raging fires that needed to be put out, but he still wanted to get there quickly.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] The space between them sizzled, sparking with energy. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Her body was on fire, and Ransom had the equipment to put it out.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] I'm just trying to keep her from burning it up!
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] You're still making sure the gas line to the stove is off when you leave, right?” “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] This news trumped everything else on folks' minds: what people got for Christmas, holiday vacation stories, the one-hundred-year-old Methodist church destroyed by arson fire, and even the first snowfall Sienna had seen in fifty years.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] The redhead had the power to take the incident from the frying pan to the fire.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Was this the precursor to another disaster? “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: {'BOOK_001': 'CELL_D', 'BOOK_002': 'CELL_C', 'BOOK_005': 'CELL_B', 'BOOK_007': 'CELL_B'}

```
{'BOOK_001': 'Relational darkness: 'Playing with fire' metaphor suggests danger and risk in the relationship.', 'BOOK_002': 'Partner harm: Implicitly, Ransom is trying to prevent harm to the woman, suggesting potential harm in their relationship.', 'BOOK_005': 'External crisis: Fire-related events are external crises that the characters face.', 'BOOK_007': 'External crisis: Similar to BOOK_005, fire-related events are external crises.'}
```

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 223 — Coordinating Security Against A Threat

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'll give aidan a call, so he doesn't send out the cavalry.” »
« there'll be extra men on the gate,” [person] promised. “ »
« but we have a gut feeling that since [person]'s been such a thorn in the side of these people, if they think they're going to get him, he'll pull in the other accomplices. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Maybe if I go with Matt it will teach him not to take me for granted,” Alice said. “
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] So you're using Matt as a pawn in your game?”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] With time running short, the girls chalked Paddy and then left Cameron to do the clipping on his own while they brought Belladonna in from the field. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Lexington House had most of the Western boys and Matt Garrett, an Australian eventer who could be annoyingly full of himself.

Model reasonings

A lexical: 223

The text discusses a scenario involving multiple partners (matt, matthew, etc.) where there are threats (insisted, threat) and strain (strained) in the relationship, leading to individual distress (doubted, realization, ability).

B contextual: CELL_A

```
{'relational_darkness': "Alice's manipulative behavior towards Matt, and the tension between Maverick and the narrator.", 'partner_harm': 'No instances of partner harm were found in the given context.', 'external_crisis': 'Ms. McAlister targeting someone, potentially causing trouble.', 'individual_distress': 'The loss of Tomas, Makenzi, and Matthew.'}
```

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 259 — Chained to The Forest Gate

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i've lived in a tree for a week, which, let me tell you, is pretty uncomfortable. »

« i've got a special surprise waiting for you in the woods.” »

« miss [person], it appears you've chained yourself to the door of white pines. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Sully's spending the night at his tree house.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] This was the Bat Cave, for heaven's sakes.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] The more wood he lost, the more the integrity of the site was compromised.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] The SEED is one of the most important items that disappeared.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] As a result of being uncovered, much of the ancient wood had dissolved into the water.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Beyond it, a long dock floated over a peaceful lake surrounded by tall redwood trees. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The kind that makes you want to rip each other's clothes off and do it against a tree if you have to.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Will and I stopped near our favourite tree.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 284 — Necks on The Line Together

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i've seen [person]'s handiwork. »

« ever since i've known them,” [person] said, but it was obvious his mind was elsewhere. “ »

« that's twice today we've put our necks on the line,” [person] observed. “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Get off... ” He ended up kicking his slipper off so Finney could have it.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Finney went berserk—he must've had his ear to the door, listening for metal on metal.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Another chuckle and Brock was appreciating his connection with the Donovans once more. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Trent's words couldn't have been more true if Brock had said them himself. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Brock's not like the rest of the Donovans,” she heard herself saying. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: darkness_domain

The topic revolves around a sense of unease, manipulation, and emotional distress, with the primary threat coming from a partner's actions, and the individual's distress being the main source of darkness in the domain.

B contextual: CELL_A

The dominant code 'CELL_A' indicates a positive or neutral sentiment, suggesting that the romance topic is primarily focused on positive interactions and connections between characters. 'CELL_B' codes are present but less frequent, indicating some relational darkness and individual distress, with a single instance of partner harm and external crisis.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 324 — Searching For A Missing Person

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'll go for a drive to look for him. »

« i'll go find him." »

« when we're done here, we'll go search his office at marshall, and check his next of kin. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I wish there were another way to find him."

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] You could find out if you'd stop hiding away in your house and go see him."

Model reasonings

A lexical: 324

The text appears to revolve around a person searching for someone ('him') and dealing with emotional distress, suggesting a romantic context. The use of words like 'impatiently', 'panicked', and 'separated' indicate relational darkness, while 'wondering' and 'dreamed' suggest individual distress. The mention of 'address' and 'screen' could imply an external crisis, such as a communication issue or a problem with technology.

B contextual: A

{'A': 'Questions about the whereabouts of a person, suggesting relational darkness or tension.',
'D': "Inquiries about locations and others' whereabouts, indicating an external crisis or situation.", 'B': 'Expressions of distress or worry, signifying individual distress.'}

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 327 — Crouching Over A Fallen Figure

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« she jumps up and lands on top of me, crouched over me like a cave woman. “ »

« [person] had fallen, and a figure crouched over her. »

« she dropped to the floor, crouched, watching, waiting, the wings lifted and spread behind her. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She pulled her feet up, stood on the chair to stay out of the way...to jump on Robert's attacker if necessary.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She pushed herself into a more upright position. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] With a cough of pain he released her and stumbled away.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Chad grabbed his junk and doubled over, dropping to his knees. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Luckily my girls were jumping up and down in excitement for me.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] The girls' faces registered shock, but neither one said a word and quickly got up and moved to the opposite side of the bar.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Oh, he's a good scientist,” Steven said, and Wallace jumped. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code (CELL_B) represents actions of the main character (She) in response to threats or harm, indicating relational darkness and individual distress. CELL_C represents various forms of distress and harm, while CELL_D represents a less severe external crisis.

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

Topic 335 — Killer Targets Someone Alone

Old taxonomy: 7.3 — Risk, Danger & External Crises

New code: UNKNOWN (norm: None) | mixed=False

« i'll try,” derek replied and turned to make the hour walk back home. »

« i'll hang around while you take a look at it tonight,” [person] said, his own gaze also glued to camilla's limbs. “ »

« he knows that the killer got derek while he was alone, and he wouldn't do that to his pregnant wife, because she'll go shit wild and start a rampage. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Brett appeared relieved by her appearance. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Detective Warwick,” Brett said, extending his hand. “

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He watched Brett get in his car and drive off. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] That was when Jenna realized that Lars the Heartless was Baruk's raider, the one who'd driven them here.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Baruk could hope that, for his own, good, Lars would accept Stella into his life and make the best of it.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Lars was leading a party that was looking for Jenna in the woods, and the orcs that had stayed behind were turning every nook and cranny upside down for clues.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: UNKNOWN

H6 — Arc semantics (main-couple / position)

42 topics with non-null arc_role.

Topic 64 — Confronting A Lifelong Fear

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: {'protag': ['Alex', 'Jamie'], 'antag': ['Alex's internal struggle', 'Jamie's job opportunity'], 'mentor': ['Therapist/Counselor'], 'trickster': ['Alex's colleague'], 'herald': ['News of Jamie's job opportunity']} (norm: None) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« from what you've told me, ella, your childhood was full of worry.” “ »
« but now you can say you've faced one of your fears.” “ »
« fears i've had my entire life come rushing forward, radiating from those four little words. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You shouldn't have to live your life in fear,” Mrs. Pearson said, her kind gaze a little sad as she looked at Drea. “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] But I was afraid of you, afraid of the things you would do.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Right now, I think you need to decide which of us scares you more.” “
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I was going to tell you that I wanted to wait, and I was afraid... I was so afraid that you wouldn't want to.”
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I was so afraid that if we started up again, I'd end up messing around on you.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I was so afraid to tell you... I know I was wrong.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: C

The dominant arc code is 'C' (Conflict) as most sentences involve the main couple experiencing fear or anxiety, often due to their relationship. The main couple is present in 75% of the sentences, making the main_couple_prob_estimate 0.75.

C adjudicate: {'protag': ['Alex', 'Jamie'], 'antag': ['Alex's internal struggle', 'Jamie's job opportunity'], 'mentor': ['Therapist/Counselor'], 'trickster': ['Alex's colleague'], 'herald': ['News of Jamie's job opportunity']}

Topic 66 — Paralyzed By Deep-Seated Fear

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« at times, she was terrified. »
« the idea terrified her. »
« even though she was in the body of a woman now, she was still a terrified little girl. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] She'd approached him cautiously that day as if terrified of him. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He actually appeared to be afraid for her. "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] His cold demeanor was such that she was afraid to even move. "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] So why had she suddenly felt so vulnerable?
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And then all the self-control she'd employed, holding tightly on to her panic, her fears, dissolved.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: Fear

Based on the provided data, the dominant code is 'Fear', which appears in 12 out of 21 sentences. The main couple is involved in 14 out of 21 sentences, leading to an estimated main couple probability of 0.65.

C adjudicate: Conflict

Topic 92 — Heart Pounding With Dread

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« her heart pounded, not knowing what to say. »
« verses the preacher read trailed into a muffled slow motion speech, the whipping sounds of the makeshift paper fans faded to tiny flutters, the anxious pounding of her heart slowed to a steady beat as she stood hand in hand with her best friend. »
« lizzie's heart pounded wildly as she braced herself for the assault. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The realization constricted her throat and made her chest tighten.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Heartbeat roaring in her ears, she considered her options.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] A strong desire to surround herself with memories of her love swelled within her until she thought her heart would burst.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The sight that met her sent her heart plummeting to her knees.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Aiden's harsh inhale ruffled her hair and she felt the rapid thud of his heartbeat against her shoulder blade.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She willed her heartbeat into submission. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Her heart pumped, expanded to fill her chest when the next thought came.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] A stitch of anger pulled in her chest. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIDDLE

The dominant code is 'MIDDLE' as it appears in 36.36% of the main couple's emotional journey sentences. The main couple probability estimate is 94.44% as only 6 out of 61 sentences were not related to the main couple.

C adjudicate: Conflict

The topic of 'Negative Emotions & Distress' in the middle of the narrative suggests a decline in the main couple's relationship, indicating a falling arc.

Topic 102 — Grief Etched on His Face

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: DISCLOSURE (norm: ARC_4) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« we've lost adam,' she whispered and her fingers traced the contours of grief still etched on his face. ' »

« not only did she have a cool and savvy partner actually in the game with her, the surroundings, the actions were so real that her heart pounded and adrenaline flooded her, almost as if she really was helping adam sabotage a bridge while avoiding capture by nazi soldiers. »

« holy hell, adam—I've known her long enough to realize she's thinking about a lot more than a blowjob." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Cain winced as the other man spoke bluntly. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Cain just shook his head and crossed back to the bed. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And on that thought, he said, "I talked to Adam a minute ago.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: DISCLOSURE

The dominant code is 'DISCLOSURE' as it appears most frequently (10 times). The main couple probability estimate is based on the proportion of sentences involving Cain and Eve (12 out of 21).

C adjudicate: DISCLOSURE

Topic 133 — Holding Back Tears

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« we'll leave all our tears out to dry on the patio while we swan off to the acropolis! »

« they'll also cry foul. »

« they'll tell you that i don't do crying. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The tears weren't just gathering under my eyelashes now.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] A lot of people are going to die before this is over, so dry the tears and deal.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I rub at my grimy eyes, stuck shut at the corners from the excess tears I cried last night.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And then I weep again, silent tears tracing themselves down my face, plunking hollowly against my robe.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The majority of sentences (17 out of 20) involve the main couple, with 'CELL_B' being the dominant code. The proportions by tertile show a clear narrative arc, with 'begin', 'middle', and 'end' tertiles represented.

C adjudicate: Conflict

Jealousy is a common source of conflict in romance narratives, often leading to tension and distress between the main couple, thus driving the plot forward.

Topic 145 — Confessing How Much It Hurts

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Catalyst (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« it still hurts so much." »

« it hurts too much." " »

« but the rest of me hurts." " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The pain was still there but it didn't matter.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] The pain—it hasn't always been this bad has it?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's quite painful, but it'll be over before long.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Oh, come on, it doesn't hurt that bad." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And those hurt more than you can imagine. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: Pain

The dominant code is 'Pain', as it appears in 14 out of 18 sentences. The main couple's conflict or romance arc is only explicitly mentioned in 3 sentences ('Conflict' code), hence the estimated probability of 0.15 for main couple-related content.

C adjudicate: Catalyst

The topic of 'Pain' in a romance narrative typically serves as a catalyst for the main couple to grow closer or overcome challenges together, thus driving the plot forward and creating a rising arc.

Topic 152 — Awkward Apology and Embarrassment

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« one of the girls goes, "oh my god, i'm so sorry!" »

« oh, charlotte," [person] said, feeling genuinely sorry for the woman. »

« i apologize that my sister bothered you with details from my personal life," she said, searching the conversation for the nearest exit. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Then softly and in a broken voice, she added, "I'm sorry, Ben."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm sorry I couldn't save you from that," he said softly. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm sorry he hit you," she said softly without moving from the grate. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You'll be sorry you did that," he grated out. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm sorry, Your Grace," she said, while every particle of her wanted to spit disgust into the woman's exquisite face. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Softly, she said, "Kylemore, I'm sorry I left without telling you.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Oh, honey, I am so sorry...' She held me and allowed me to just cry all over her bare, tanned shoulder. '

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] You'll get over it,' she said knowingly. '

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Sorry, honey – I've had an absolute bastard of a day,' she said as she kissed me and dumped her coat on the floor.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Oh, sorry," she said looking embarrassed. "

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She mouthed the word sorry to me as she handed me the phone. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Conflict

Topic 179 — Dreading What You Stand to Lose

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.85

« you'll lose your reason, wishing yourself dead. »

« i am fearful we'll still lose him. »

« but you'll lose me? »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I will not risk losing Seti because you two imbeciles were impatient." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] The only thing I don't doubt is that I've lost my mind." "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I was under the impression you'd rather I get and stay lost."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: conflict

Out of 13 sentences, 11 were related to the main couple, with 8 expressing conflict and 3 expressing romance.

C adjudicate: Conflict

Topic 220 — Called Out For Being Embarrassing

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Complicating Factor (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« you two are so ignorant it's embarrassing." »

« this is so embarrassing." »

« [person] you are embarrassing her." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] This was every bit as embarrassing as I'd thought it would be. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Me, of course, they felt free to embarrass.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Fifteen T here's something particularly humiliating about almost being arrested by your little brother. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] That was undoubtedly a good thing, but it made me uncomfortable.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] We have a humiliation special with a side of mortified."

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] But it's kind of embarrassing how hardcore old-school this place is.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] It was even more humiliating to be in this situation when you were twenty-eight years old.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] When I first saw my Henry, I was upset and in denial too.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_C · tertile=end] She'd thought on it all day long and the more she replayed the conversation in her head, the more embarrassed she became.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Complicating Factor

Topic 244 — Confessing A Shattered Heart

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Conflict Resolution (norm: ARC_5) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i've been heartbroken, truly shattered since leaving you behind in cleveland . »

« and actually it's pretty handy you love me since i've already had my heart smashed around like day old potatoes once this year." »

« it's always been the way i've protected my heart, though i never thought about the hearts of the women i used. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Your soft heart would weep over some of the things I've done and the choices I've made.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You saved a child who would otherwise be dead right now and you risked your own life to do it because your heart is too soft for you to say no even though it might have meant your own death. "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] Dear Author SWEET SURRENDER "This story ran my heart through the wringer more than once." —

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] There's not another group of men who have more heart, determination and courage.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It's what my heart, and my head, demands.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Following your heart will pay off in the near future.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future .

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Following your heart will pay off in the near future .

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Not the best of moods for a heart to heart. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Conflict Resolution

Topic 281 — Told to Calm Down First

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« you've got to calm, down first. »

« i've not been relieved of my post. »

« i've really helped relax, comfort and ease anger and rage with these guys. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] The stress is starting to take its toll." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Not as stimulating as Cleo, but productive nonetheless.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Steady , he warned himself, before you have a goddamn panic attack .

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He still sounded as calm as if this kind of thing happened every day of the week.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Ari noted details with detached calmness.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Nor have I ever seen you as stirred up as you are after a mere few minutes in the presence of Miss Crane."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: R

The dominant code is 'R' (Reaction) as most sentences imply a reaction or escalation in the narrative.

C adjudicate: Conflict

The topic of 'Negative Emotions & Distress' and 'Emotional Safety, Reassurance & Caretaking' suggests a conflict or distress in the relationship, which typically causes the relationship arc to fall.

Topic 285 — Confessing Years of Hatred

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: EXTERNAL_PLOT_CONFLICT (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i've hated him for years. »

« heath has done a wonderful job with him, but i—well, i've hated him for living instead of you. »

« ever since this cunt came here, i've been, uh, less than balanced, i admit, and remembering things i've tried to forget, reasons to hate, reasons to hate, and you've become a liar. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Looking back now, I can see all the hatred I had in me, but at the time it just seemed like everyone was out to get me.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] It had been a long time since his presence had evoked disdain.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] And I hated submitting to your licentious thoughts and advances!" "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You expressed a dislike of both Himins and myself.

Model reasonings

A lexical: MIXED

B contextual: HATE

The dominant code is 'HATE', indicating high conflict between the main couple. The main couple probability estimate is 0.75, as most hate-related sentences involve the main couple.

C adjudicate: EXTERNAL_PLOT_CONFLICT

Topic 322 — Consumed By Guilt After The Act

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: Internal Struggle (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« before i fell asleep i was thinking i would wake up this morning consumed with guilt because of what we did, but it wasn't like that at all. »

« he's consumed with his guilt. »

« the only way victor could bury the guilt was to remind himself his actions were all to a higher purpose. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] And no holding on to a grudge here and there.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Also because I feel tremendously guilty about what I wrote Belinda—a note you must have read." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] article about how guys who cheat on their wives often say corny stuff like this to ease their guilty feelings. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Oddly enough, his guilt had disappeared with the anger.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Even though his grief had finally eased, the guilt had become part of him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] How he felt about Kari added a different guilt.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Second, you, little nun, have guilt added into the mix.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I mean can't-get-out-of-bed kind of guilt.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Except that she's feeling insanely guilty about it.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I felt a combination of guilt, validation, and frustration over the events of that afternoon.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code (CELL_B) and the majority of sentences (13 out of 16) involve the main couple, indicating a strong narrative focus on their conflict and guilt. The main couple's probability estimate is calculated as the sum of 'yes' occurrences divided by the total number of sentences.

C adjudicate: Internal Struggle

The topic of ambivalence and internal conflict suggests that the main couple is experiencing a rising tension due to their mixed feelings, rather than a falling action or an external plot conflict.

Topic 366 — Paralyzed By Irrational Fear

Old taxonomy: 3.2 — Negative Emotions & Distress

New code: INNER_CONFLICT (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« it's like a person who is irrationally terrified of insects throwing a bowl over a cricket in her living room, and then, in sheer terror, stacking a heavy dictionary on top of the bowl so the cricket can't escape. »

« for some reason, he was fucking terrified. »

« and he was terrified of what that meant. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=end] He can be pretty damned terrifying when it suits him." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Nightmares and prophesies notwithstanding, he simply wasn't capable of it.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] It was the more that scared the hell out of him.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: INNER_CONFLICT

Topic 37 — Defending A Close Friendship

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i've told you -- we're just good friends. »
« and i'll grant ye i've been a bad friend to you. »
« but we've been friends for a long time. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It was only friendship, nothing more, not to me.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Good, then get out of my face and give me a minute with my friend."
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I'm here because I'm worried about a friend." "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] He didn't have any life-long friends, with the exception of Butch.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] A friend once told me it's okay to lean on someone," he said. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: 37

The main-couple filter focuses on the relationship dynamics between the main characters, excluding external conflicts related to fidelity. The narrative arc roles are coded based on the given keywords, with a high conflict-label fidelity to maintain the integrity of the story's tension and development.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Obstacle

Topic 94 — Caught in A Lie

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: REFINED_FALLING (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i've known him for a long time, and i'm confident that i could tell if he was lying." »
« i've lied, therefore i'm a liar. »
« i never meant to—" "how can i believe a single thing you say when you've already been proven a liar?" »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I have no reason to lie to you about something like that,' she said. '
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You are such a transparent liar,' he said. '
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] You are not a very convincing liar, Emma,' he said. '
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Why don't you stop being such a baby about it and lie still and I'll go get something for you?"
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] The sinking sensation that swept over him gave the lie to his efforts to convince himself it wasn't.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CONFLICT

All sentences involve the main couple.

C adjudicate: REFINED_FALLING

Topic 109 — Seeing Past A Guarded Identity

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: OBSTACLE (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i've hardly heard a thing about you." »
« anyone could've walked by. »
« even people who are close to you, who've known you far longer than i have, don't know any more than what you've allowed them to see. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] You have to know you're important to me, too."
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Just as I know I can depend on you to be mine."
[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] But if you really knew me, you would realize how very much I resented your taking control of my life by calling that inspector."
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I know not only who you are but what you are.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: IDENTIFICATION

Out of 17 sentences, 14 (82.35%) involve the main couple, either directly or indirectly. The dominant arc code is 'IDENTIFICATION', with 12 out of 17 sentences (70.59%) falling into this category.

C adjudicate: OBSTACLE

Topic 121 — Revealing Plans to The Prince

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: INTRO (norm: ARC_0) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« she'll be queen of the roost.” “ »
« do you think he'll really go to the king?” »
« if i let the prince know what is happening, instead of waiting for them to find out, they'll know i've been out on my own. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] I am not Prince Charming or a shining Knight on a white horse.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Hot as a fever, rattling bones I could just taste it, taste it If it's not forever, if it's just tonight Oh it's still the greatest, the greatest, the greatest Kings of Leon Chapter Ten “You two pieces of shit are worthless you know that?”
[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I WILL one day go on a vacation to Disneyland and actually hang with Belle, Beast, Briar, Winter and Ashess.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Why did he need her if the king was involved?
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] If only I'd realized what the king intended.”
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Didn't you appeal to the king for help?”
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Then the king has done something about it?”
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I should have suspected the king's treachery.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Meanwhile you must learn how best to serve your queen.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: INTRO

Based on the given sentences, the main couple is present in 65% of the cases, with the dominant narrative arc code being 'INTRO'.

C adjudicate: INTRO

Topic 130 — Revealing A Secret Plan

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« you've rumbled my clever plan.’ ‘ »
« yes, i've got a little more planned for this evening. »
« we've had this planned for months, but i'd almost forgotten about it. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] She would come out with mad plans and then challenge me into doing them.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] I had a real and viable plan in place now to turn things around.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] And keeping with the Plan seemed like my only way there.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] This plan—it's not going to get you into any trouble at school?” “
[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I just didn't plan to be around to help make it happen. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: PLANS

The dominant code is 'PLANS' as the majority of sentences (65%) discuss plans. The main couple is involved in 75% of these plan-related sentences, indicating that their plans are a significant part of the narrative arc.

C adjudicate: Obstacle

Topic 177 — Seeing Past A Hidden Identity

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Hidden Information (norm: ARC_1) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« you'll no longer be alex. »
« i know they say if you want something bad enough you'll find any excuse to believe it's true... but there was something in alex that called to me. »
« tell me you understand that, or you'll be no help to alex.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] In the midst of my pleasure at seeing Alejandro literally backed up against a wall, I felt a pinprick of irritation at Jonno's inability to see Eve as she was.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I couldn't get what she'd said about Alejandro out of my head.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] But Eve was pulling away from me, moving towards Alejandro.
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I still couldn't believe that she had been with Alejandro last night.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I should not have let Alex run my life for me.
[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] It was ironic that he should do this now, when the last person she wanted to think about was Alex. ‘

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: B

The dominant code 'B' represents conflict and tension, with a focus on the main couple (Alex and Eve) in the middle and end tertiles. The main couple is present in 6 out of 11 'B' coded sentences, indicating a probability of 0.6 for main couple conflict.

C adjudicate: Hidden Information

Topic 194 — Promising to Keep A Secret

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i'll keep it a secret," said lucas. »
« i'll be your dirty little secret," i joked. »
« i'll leave that secret for him to reveal. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Maybe you'll be in charge of all my secrets from now on."
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Trust me, he's not hiding any deep dark secrets." "
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Keeping God-only-knows-what horrific secret.
[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] How else would I find out all of his secrets?"
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] If I knew that, I'd unlock a giant mystery, wouldn't I?"
[BOOK_005 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] Perhaps secret information that he has uncovered, information that would be dangerous to the French.' '
[BOOK_005 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] For reasons I cannot disclose I would rather you did not mention the break-in to anyone.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: S

The dominant code is 'S' (Secret Keeping) as it appears most frequently in the sentences related to the main couple. The main couple probability estimate is 0.65, as 10 out of 16 sentences directly involve the main couple or their secrets.

C adjudicate: Obstacle

The topic of secrets and misunderstandings (taxonomy 4.3) typically creates tension and conflict in a relationship, which can lead to a falling action in the narrative arc of the main couple. The promise or vow (secondary 9.2) adds an additional layer of tension as it is likely to be threatened or broken due to the hidden information, further driving the falling action.

Topic 214 — Demanding to Know What Happened

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« oh my god, how did this happen?" »
« please, tell me precisely what is happening to you." »
« and i need to know what's going on to some extent so i don't think the worst. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Damn you...tell me what happened!"
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] What the hell has she done?"
[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] What has happened to you?"

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Obstacle

The topic of 'Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information' often leads to negative emotions and distress, which can cause a falling action in the romance plot. This topic directly affects the main couple, making it a main-couple conflict.

Topic 237 — Hiding Someone Before He Arrives

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i'll call jared now. »
« jared was just heading off to work but is going to need his shirt so i'll be right back." »
« you can't come because if jared catches one glimpse of you, he'll know. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] At that, several male heads popped out, one of them being Ronald, Dee's boyfriend.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] PJ," Garrett says, "how many times are you going to make me ask you to call me Garrett?" "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Keep him coming," Garrett tells Madison. "
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Something is happening inside Garrett's head, a feeling so bizarre he can't quite place it, can't put a name to it.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] It's a feeling Garrett can't put into words.
[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] The other arm has Garrett in a headlock. "
[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The response appeared to placate Jared. "

Model reasonings

A lexical: High Conflict

The text contains strong emotional words (wrathfully, distress, disappointed, wound) and actions that escalate conflict (knew, heading, trailing, occurred, collapsed), with minimal mitigation or resolution attempts.

B contextual: end

Out of 16 sentences, 15 mention the main couple, with 13 sentences having an 'end' arc code, indicating a high probability of the main couple being together or resolving their conflict.

C adjudicate: Conflict

The high conflict label and the contextual placement at the end of the story arc suggest a climax or turning point in the relationship. The topic's taxonomy of 'Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information' indicates a revelation or confrontation that could lead to a falling action in the romance plot.

Topic 248 — Arranging A Cover Story

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i can attach myself to callie as a potential suitor, even with the distant cousin story you've decided to run with. »

« i'll just let hannah know she won't have to watch him after today. »

« it means you'll probably bump into him too if you see more of hannah.' »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Yeah, he's actually Hannah's boyfriend."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] That Hannah's boyfriend was sleeping with apparently the whole time they were going out?

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] On Hannah's behalf, and on yours too, even though I didn't know your name."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Hannah took me to that party as a pity thing, unfortunately.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Including that hot guy Hannah had started to introduce me to.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_C · tertile=end] I would confirm the girl was there, make the deal and skedaddle then Hawk and the boys would swoop in and recover the girl.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Anyway, I was totally pissed about that, and about Jess pinching my arm, when Cassie dropped another bomb on me... She said that she is "Falling in love with Jimmy!!!!"

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] I know you and Cassie were close, and it just tears me up inside that I can't do anything to save you and Jimmy from this pain!" "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Getting all mad because of her relationship with Jimmy... Wishing that they had never started dating... Now I will never see Cassie again!

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Jess and I rode together, but Cassie said she would meet us there; she was still trying to find the perfect gift for Jimmy.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: MIDDLE

Out of 17 sentences, 9 mention the main couple or their relationship, while 8 do not. The dominant arc code is 'MIDDLE', indicating that the narrative is primarily focused on the middle stage of the story.

C adjudicate: Obstacle

Topic 264 — Accused of Hiding Something

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« i've been hiding out in here, avoiding contact with the human leech." " »

« i haven't been hiding, i've been working. »

« he cut in before i could get a word out, "funny thing is i've had this gut feeling all along that you're hiding something. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Two shots from the same hide were enough to set his warning bells ringing.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=middle] The closet had been a great hiding place for all of two seconds for two people, but it had turned into a torture chamber.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] If we're hiding, how will she find us?" " »

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Obstacle

Topic 265 — Mismatched Expectations About Seriousness

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Conflict Initiator (norm: None) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« shit," shane cursed, but in a way that said he was thrilled with the news, not unhappy. " »

« i get the impression you've led shane to believe you're far more serious than you are. »

« i want to concentrate on my studies, and you, my gosh, shane, you'll have so many women hitting on you the second the ferry leaves the dock—» shane jerks his hand away. « »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] As far as Tuck knew, Axel was the only one aboard who got spooked by Freaks.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: END

The main couple (Shane and Axel) is predominantly present in the 'END' tertile, with a total of 7 out of 11 sentences mentioning them. The 'BEGIN' tertile has 3 mentions, and the 'MIDDLE' tertile has none. Therefore, the dominant code is 'END', and the estimated main couple probability is 0.65.

C adjudicate: Conflict Initiator

The topic of 'Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information' with a secondary 'Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats' suggests a high conflict situation that could lead to a falling action in the main couple's relationship.

Topic 272 — Silence Held Until Arrival

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« she didn't speak a word until they got to their destination. »

« the high priestess had said very little to her in the day and a half leading up to her departure. »

« he should've known better than to think brenna would be content with the noncommittal answer he'd given her. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] She wanted to ask more questions, but she didn't.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She didn't want to talk about the fight. “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Unfortunately, she had nothing promising to say to him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She was going to the hospital, and this time, she would not take no for an answer.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: Conflict

Out of the 16 sentences, 10 involve the main couple, either in conflict or avoidance. The dominant code is 'Conflict', with 8 out of 16 sentences showing conflict between the main couple.

C adjudicate: Obstacle

Topic 286 — Trying to Regain Good Graces

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Instigator (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« oh ms. [person], you really should drop by our office more, we miss your good taste around here' blah blah blah. »

« i'll not have you and his grace at each other's throats before we arrive at champney court." »

« if what you've said is to be believed, how am i supposed to get back into her good graces? »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] It shone in the moonlight with silver grace. “

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Widow of a respected insurance agent and former daughter-in-law of a well-known Baptist minister, she'd seemingly shunned the social position and privilege of her past to be with Colton, but this wasn't the first time Eric had seen her slip on her high-and-mighty act like an expensive fur coat.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Eric needed a mentor to teach him how to be an honorable man.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Likely not, since Dee had already seen her with Eric.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_B

The dominant code (CELL_B) appears more frequently and is associated with the main couple in most instances. The main couple probability estimate is calculated based on the frequency of 'yes' main_couple responses.

C adjudicate: Instigator

The topic of secrets and misunderstandings often leads to a decline in the relationship's harmony, as it can cause distress and negative emotions.

Topic 301 — Confessing A Thin Relationship History

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: REFINED_FALLING (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« you know that because you've been with one other guy and had a long-term relationship? »

« because one way or another it has tainted every relationship i've had since the roller-coaster success of my first book." »

« i've had sexual partners, but never a girlfriend. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] You will say anything to save your lover.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Can I assume you two don't have a...relationship?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] But I'm not avoiding a good relationship.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: B

The majority of sentences (16 out of 18) are related to the main couple's relationship status or dynamics, with 12 sentences explicitly mentioning a boyfriend or lover. The dominant ARC code is 'B' (Conflict), as most sentences discuss or hint at relationship issues or uncertainty.

C adjudicate: REFINED_FALLING

The topic of 'Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information' typically creates tension and misunderstanding between the main couple, leading to a falling action in the narrative arc. The secondary topic of 'Ambivalence & Internal Conflict' further emphasizes the internal struggle of the characters, contributing to the falling action. Although the conflict label is high, the low fidelity indicates that the conflict is not directly between the main couple, but rather an external factor causing tension.

Topic 303 — Confessing Long-Hidden Secrets

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: REFINED_FALLING (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=True | main_couple_prob=0.85

« normally, tate would've finished the sentence she was working on, but the excitement in mabel's voice jarred her completely out of the story, derailing her train of thought. »

« i know it might cost me tate, but if i don't tell him then everything we've built will be based on half-truths.” “ »

« tate sits down next to me, his eyes grim as he waits for me to share all the things that i've been keeping from him for so long. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] Damn it, he wondered if Joshua Tate knew the full extent of what he was taking on.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] Joshua Tate tugged at his collar and cleared his throat, his prominent Adam's apple bobbing as he swallowed audibly. “

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I went to Woodson to interview Chandra Cunningham about Tana Mayfield.

[BOOK_004 · CELL_B · tertile=end] I'm just doing some follow-up on Mayfield.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Lady Mayfield, I believe,” he said, straightening.

[BOOK_005 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] You seem to have the exclusive attention of the Lady Mayfield,” Kent mentioned once greetings had been exchanged between the three. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: meet

Based on the given sentences, the main couple is present in 65% of the cases. The dominant arc code is 'meet', indicating that the narrative focuses on introductions and initial interactions between characters.

C adjudicate: REFINED_FALLING

Topic 314 — Fiancé Becoming A Stranger

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Hidden Information (norm: ARC_1) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« macie had spent far more time praying for blake and far less time being driven by her constantly-shifting emotions. »

« she peeked out and verified that it was indeed blake, then promptly shut the door in his face to remove the chain. “ »

« the blake i am engaged to is slowly disappearing in my mind, and being replaced by a complete and utter stranger. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_A · tertile=middle] I wondered about that when you first told me you'd be staying with Brant.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_A · tertile=end] You went over the truck, didn't you, Blake?"

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Hidden Information

Topic 319 — Confessing A Costly Mistake

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: FALLING (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« but you have a way of letting me know when you think i've made the wrong one.” “ »

« i've made many mistakes and maybe i should have come back a year ago. »

« it was a mistake for which i've paid dearly.” “ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] They're fundamental y flawed, I can't—" “ ‘Flawed’ being the key word,” Josh points out.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Anyone who saw her as only a child was making a mistake. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CONFLICT

The dominant code is 'CONFLICT' as most sentences involve disagreements or mistakes between the main couple. The main couple probability estimate is high (0.846) as most sentences (16 out of 18) involve the main couple in some way.

C adjudicate: FALLING

Topic 346 — Delivering Urgent News in Secret

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: Obstacle (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« let's go [person] i'll drive you to it.” »

« i hardly think leaving a note telling my father where to find me would've been a good idea, but i'm not going to tell james that. “ »

« i know this is bad, me coming here, especially after the celeb weekly article, but i've got some important information about [person].” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=end] She pointed to James Stevens from The Scoop , who sat in the front row with Scott's parents. “

Model reasonings

A lexical: {'initiator': 'admit, planning', 'responder': 'feminine, suffering, exact, strained, terms, ability'}

The consensus codes for both initiator and responder focus on conflict, with 'admit' and 'planning' being common in the initiator's role. The responder's consensus code revolves around 'feminine', 'suffering', 'exact', 'strained', 'terms', and 'ability', indicating a struggle or challenge. Disagreements in roles primarily concern the attraction arc for initiators and minor variations in conflict codes for responders.

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Obstacle

Topic 362 — Keeping Someone Watched and Close

Old taxonomy: 4.3 — Secrets, Misunderstandings & Hidden Information

New code: OBSTACLE (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« come on, i'll get you a drink,' rory said. ‘ »

« they'll expect me to keep her close, to make sure she doesn't discover what we are,” rory answered. »

« and goddess willing i'll be ready for it, thought rory as she ignored his comment to follow amber out to the sitting room. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] It was Kelsey he wished to see brought low.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] For we have seen how far Kelsey is willing to go for what he wants.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] He would go slowly, wisely, even though he was more resolved than ever to see Kelsey repaid for his ills against others.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Another of the men said, “Lord Kelsey must be told.”

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Yet he'd had no time to grieve their loss, for he had immediately become embroiled in this conflict with the Earl of Kelsey.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Okay, so maybe I get that, but what about Kelsey?” “

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He'd want a sure thing,” Kelsey insisted.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: middle

The dominant code is 'middle' as it appears in 6 out of 18 sentences. The main couple is present in 17 out of 18 sentences, making the main couple probability estimate very high.

C adjudicate: OBSTACLE

Topic 3 — Demanding An Explanation

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.85

« and you have no idea what we've seen, what we've done— you've been in your cosy little world and you just have no—damned— clue! ' »

« sophia, i've something to tell you.” “ »

« i've told them that already.’ ‘ »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] I'll tell you whatever you want to know.”

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: D

The dominant code 'D' (Tell me!) appears 3 times, indicating high conflict and main-couple interaction. The main-couple probability estimate is 0.85, as 17 out of 20 sentences involve the main couple.

C adjudicate: Conflict

Topic 24 — Confronting An Unwanted Marriage

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: ANTAGONIST (norm: ARC_8) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.85

« we'll be married... to each other." »

« you're already married to me; he'll understand." " »

« i'll give you a divorce and you can just walk away. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] So that whole getting married and settling down part doesn't appeal to you?"

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Just divorced and living in different places.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] But that's not the reason I want to marry you." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=end] Not that I want to marry again of course."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: B

The dominant ARC code is B, indicating a focus on marriage and commitment. The main couple is mentioned in 19 out of 20 sentences, giving an estimated main couple probability of 0.95.

C adjudicate: ANTAGONIST

Topic 43 — Pissed Off and Grumbling

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« this isn't the first time i've pissed him off." »

« we've irritated you, have we?" " »

« i've been pissed at him ever since. " »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] She doesn't look mad so much as really disappointed. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Tarquin is also pissed, but not as much as me.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: CELL_D

The main couple is involved in 76.92% of the sentences, with 'CELL_D' being the dominant code (42.86% of sentences). The narrative arcs are distributed fairly evenly across the tertiles.

C adjudicate: Conflict

The topic's taxonomy of 4.4/Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats and secondary taxonomy of 3.2/Negative Emotions & Distress suggest that the main couple is facing significant challenges that could lead to a breakup, indicating a refined falling arc role.

Topic 85 — Offering and Refusing An Apology

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« he said he wanted to apologize. »

« i need to apologize to you, ruby. »

« oh, i'm so not gonna apologize for that." »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] I'm real sorry," Pete said, his blue eyes apologetic.

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] He tried to get back in my good graces with a box of chocolates a couple of days later, but he never did apologize." "

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] And you made it quite clear that you thought I was overreacting to the situation."

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=end] Between Cornelia, Emily Taylor and Helen Washburn, I've been apologized to every day this week."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: UNKNOWN

C adjudicate: Conflict

Topic 129 — Accused of Not Caring

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« like they care when they see that smoking-hot bod you've got." »

« at the moment, i could've cared less. »

« you've never cared for anyone but yourself.” »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] Lukas didn't care about her, and she... cared too much.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Sir, I don't think that's—"I don't care what you think.

[BOOK_003 · CELL_D · tertile=end] I don't care about that kind of stuff," Zander assured him. "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_A · tertile=begin] I don't expect you to understand what it is to care about someone else."

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

The narrative arc follows a typical romance pattern: the couple meets and cares for each other (B), faces conflicts and unhappy circumstances (M), and ultimately finds resolution and understanding (E). Keywords were grouped based on their frequency and part-of-speech tags.

B contextual: CELL_D

Out of 19 sentences, 13 (68.42%) mention or relate to the main couple, making the main_couple_prob_estimate 0.68. The dominant code is CELL_D, which appears 7 times, indicating a focus on disinterest or lack of caring. However, most of these sentences (5 out of 7) are related to the main couple, showing a tension between disinterest and caring within the relationship.

C adjudicate: Conflict

The topic of 'Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats' is a high conflict-label topic that directly threatens the main couple's relationship. This is a clear sign of a falling arc, as it suggests potential distress and distance between the main couple.

Topic 210 — Expelled For Pursuing A Relationship

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« she'll be back," [person] to explain. »

« we'll not last long like this," [person] said quietly. »

« if you pursue a relationship with [person], you'll be expelled from motherhouse ireland, removed from your triad, and cast out from our way of life. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] And, she'd reasoned, if pop star Jessica Simpson could resist the delectable Nick Lachey until their wedding night, she could certainly resist John.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Besides, if there was one thing she'd come to know about Zeke, it was that he was able to make every audience member feel connected to him.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Patrick huffed, as though he couldn't believe Zeke had the audacity to claim that he—the up-by-his-boot-straps, self-made founder of a publishing empire—had anything in common with a bad-boy rock star.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] As a waiter moved away with their plates, John said, "By the way, I saw that Scarlet was linked to Zeke Woodlow in today's gossip columns.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Unfortunately, a celebrity of Zeke's caliber has an image to maintain and a publicity machine that needs to be fed—with the right kind of publicity, of course." "

[BOOK_004 · CELL_C · tertile=begin] The Hole was owned by a man named Peter Rabbit to the chagrin of his wife, Petra.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Nathaniel was obviously willing to do such a thing.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Some would think that when swimming in the depths of one's own grief, one could forget what it was that made them so unhappy, but tell that to Nathaniel.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Either way, there was something exhilarating about being with Nathaniel, especially being with him in his lair.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] For the life of him, Nathaniel didn't know how Mr. Harrington was a part of his beauteous bride-to-be's biological makeup.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The expression didn't go unnoticed by Nathaniel.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=begin] Nathaniel had come to understand and grudgingly accept that fact.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: END

Based on the main-couple filter, the main couple is present in 11 out of 19 sentences. The dominant arc code is 'END', present in 6 out of 19 sentences.

C adjudicate: Conflict

Topic 256 — Refusing to Let It End

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« no, i'll get over it. »

« i'll give you some time, but goddamn it, nat, this is not over." »

« it'll never be over—unless it ends right here right now. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_D · tertile=begin] I no longer cared which side won or lost, I only wanted it to be over.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] Perhaps when this is over, you might see another attractive alternative.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=end] If there are consequences to our lovemaking, then this treasure hunt ends.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_D · tertile=middle] And here it's been looming over us this entire time!"

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: end

The dominant ARC code is 'end', indicating that the main couple's narrative arc is primarily focused on resolution or conclusion. The main couple is present in 89.47% of the sentences, suggesting that the topic is indeed centered around the main couple's relationship.

C adjudicate: Conflict

Topic 316 — Snapping Over Money and Control

Old taxonomy: 4.4 — Conflict, Distance & Breakup Threats

New code: Conflict (norm: ARC_2) | mixed=False | main_couple_prob=0.0

« you'll have to find another way to obtain the tallmadge money," lucas snapped. " »

« stop that, you little fool, otherwise we'll both be—' lucas began, and then stopped as one of suzy's flailing hands caught the side of his mouth. »

« they didn't like it much when they found out, but lucas paid them well, and they'll get over it. »

Novel sentences

[BOOK_001 · CELL_C · tertile=end] Kia, head tipped way back, was looking at Sampson.

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Perhaps you should show Eva to her room," Lucas finally suggested to Michael. "

[BOOK_002 · CELL_B · tertile=middle] Unlike Ethan and Jason, who were dark-haired, Aaron and Lucas were more dirty-blond.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] He watched Lucas Mason as he spoke and was rewarded by an expression of guilt upon his uncle's face. "

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] You have brought this upon us," Lucas Mason harshly accused his grief stricken nephew. "

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] Lucas Mason was not so wise, however, and questioned Rork angrily. "

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] The look upon Lucas Mason's traitorous face mirrored the truth of Rork's words.

[BOOK_006 · CELL_B · tertile=end] But as Lucas continued his tirade, Rork reached out to touch his beloved father's body , only to find it frozen.

Model reasonings

A lexical: UNKNOWN

B contextual: C

The main couple (Lucas and Aaron) is present in 9 out of 18 sentences, with a higher concentration in the 'end' tertile (6 out of 9 sentences). The dominant ARC code is 'Consequence' (6 out of 18 sentences), indicating that the narrative is reaching its climax or resolution.

C adjudicate: Conflict